Director Paul Corrigan announced that the raffle presses on, we have approximately $25K raised, there will be another early bird drawing in April. So, just ask, and sell some tickets.

Larry Cassese is happy about another Patriots win and he wishes the membership a Happy Chinese New Year. The year of the pig. That means Larry's wife has 2 birthdays, anniversary's and New Years, one for the lunar and one for the solar calendar.

PDG & PP Steve Certa announced that 49 years ago he joined a fraternity, 25 years ago his fraternity brothers decided to have a ski weekend. This year the "weekend" starts on Monday and ends on Friday, and no one brings skis. Stories from 25 years ago will be told again, but this year they will be a little bit better. Unfortunately, he will not be at Rotary next week, he will be "skiing".

Steve Gilman is happy to have our newest Rotarian Greg with us. Steve is also happy about the 'Silence of the Rams' and another Patriots win. Most importantly, Steve visited his sister last week in London with his girlfriend. They had a great trip, and he returned back with his new fiancée. Congratulations Steve.

Dave Hicks also happy about the Patriots Super Bowl win and the $200 he won playing poker during the game. More importantly, Dave made some cards for random acts of kindness in the honor of Sgt. Chesna and Vera Adams. He will pick up a lunch, or someone's coffee order and leave that card behind in hopes that they pay it forward. He left some up at the podium if any Rotarians want to join in.

Richard Smith gave kudos to a couple of Staten Island guys who founded Tunnels to Towers and stepped up and paid Sgt. Chesna's mortgage off. Stating that not all guys from Staten Island are bad guys.

PE Lois Drukman, also happy the Patriots won, but could of used the Rams to hit their last field goal to have her hit a money square for a happy bucks contribution.

Committee Night
Chairs- Drukman & Cavanaro

Jim Cavanaro thanked President Jim for allowing he and Lois to take the time and talk about the importance of all the committees in the Club. They also spoke on the importance of re-evaluating all the Committees to make sure they are efficient, on task and bring new members into these committees so they can experience all the different things that we do in Rotary.

The Board has been meeting to come up with a sustaining plan so that committees will have continuity year over year. They have handed out a packet and will send the same one out on ClubRunner. The packet serves many purposes, it will allow you to update your information for next years book while inquiring if you have any specific interests in a committee and it also addresses some of the committees that currently could use some help. The goal is to match members interests with Club needs as best as possible. This form will allow them to help decide, out of all the projects and events that we do, what to keep and what might need to be eliminated because of lack of Club interest or support.

How they tackled this project was to make a master list of committees and who helped out on said committees. Once all your packets are returned the committee will attempt to match members with their desired committees. There are a number of different programs and committees needing to draw on the many talents of our membership. The long term goal is to rotate members through many committees resulting in more trained future committee chairs for a smooth transition annually. By coordinating these transitions over several years, more opportunities will be available to more members.

We will continue this procedure annually as the new President elect and Vice President meet to start this initial selection process by the start of the new year. This program will run annually in February for the entire club's participation. This will allow the entire board to give input and help with the following years little black book.

So, if you can return your packet this Monday so that any information that you need updated for next years book will get addressed, and more importantly, you can be matched with any committees that you would like to serve on in the upcoming year. Check your email if you didn't attend the meeting, PE Lois sent out the packet after the meeting to the whole club via ClubRunner.
