Greeters: Michael Krmpotich, Jack Kennefick, David Hatzung

Front Desk: Audri Schwarz and Tom Pirsch

Barker: Sherm Hoyt

Invocation: Jean Morrison

Guest Introductions: Joe Arends

The meeting was called to order by President Steve Slyce.

The invocation by Jean Morrison was thoughtful.

Many guests were introduced. A video about polio was shown. It was announced that long-time Rotary Member Bill Dresser had died.

Perfect Attendance Awards were made to many, including Sherm Hoyt for 15 years and Jon Barnett for 24 years.

The Fundraiser Committee asked for donations for the wall of wine. Bring wine or spirits to the meeting starting Aug. 1.

Diane Solmonson introduced the speaker, Rose McKinney, Founder and CEO of Pineapple.

McKinney spoke of "Reputation Management." It was a very helpful speech. "The way to gain a good reputation is to endeavor to be what you aspire to become," she said. She felt that the Rotary Four-Way Test is an excellent guideline for life. The drives of reputation are trust, esteem, administration, and good feeling. She responded to many good questions.

She was thanked for her talk and given as a token for her talk the gift of a donation to Polio Plus in her name.

The meeting was adjourned by President Steve Slyce.
