

Your Choice started with one family who lived through the devastation of drugs and alcohol. Their son Tyler struggled with drugs and alcohol for 11 years until he decided it was time to get help. Once he completed treatment in 2008, the family came together and decided they wanted to educate youth and families about drugs and alcohol so that other families wouldn't have to experience what they lived through.

After many student and community presentations, other youth and parents who have lived through the devastation of drugs and alcohol, joined forces to help educate our youth and families by sharing their stories.
