Roclarion

September 4, 2018

Our speaker today was Donald Wyman a veteran of over 22 years with the C.I.A., a veteran of the U.S. Army an well rounded Presenter with 20 years of experience having created over 150 PowerPoint presentations, through out the Eastern Seaboard .

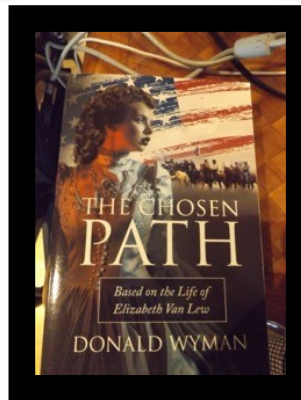

His presentation took us through the establishment of The O.S.S. to it current status as the CIA. He is an author of the book The Chosen Path, which is the history of the OSS and The CIA. President Franklin D. Roosevelt established the OSS during the being of the second World War, June 13, 1942. with it's first leader being William Donovan. It was a fascinating talk with some unknown history provided, such as a second string Catcher Moe Berg from the Boston Red Sox's, was one of the members and through his efforts, while playing baseball, on a trip introducing baseball to Japan he was able to photograph a number of instillations and Harbors around the Sea Of Japan. These photos were later used , to help The Jimmy Doolittle raid on Tokyo, that help end the war in the Pacific.

At its peak in late 1944, OSS employed almost 13,000 men and women. In relative terms, it was a little smaller than a US Army infantry division or a war agency like the Office of Price Administration, which governed prices for many commodities and products in the civilian economy. General Donovan employed thousands of officers and enlisted men seconded from the armed services, and he also found military slots for many of the people who came to OSS as civilians. US Army (and Army Air Forces) personnel comprised about two-thirds of its strength, with civilians from all walks of life making up another quarter; the remainder were from the Navy, Marines, or Coast Guard. About 7,500 OSS employees served overseas, and about 4,500 were women (with 900 of them serving in overseas postings). In Fiscal Year 1945, the office spent $43 million, bringing its total spending over its four-year life to around $135 million (almost $1.1 billion in today's dollars).

Hi Barbara,

Thank you again for having me at your meeting this week! I was so honored to attend.

One of the gentleman after the event, asked me to send in some of our needs for the club to hopefully support. He didn't have a card on him, but I assured I would send it to you.

A few of our current needs for our residents are as follows:

- New colored and patterned bedding in Twin sizes (we have 4 beds that currently need new bedding - comforters, pillows, sheets, bed skirts).
- New dressers for each bedroom (4 total dressers) in white.
- Extra large dining table (our current one is on it's last leg) that can seat at least 6 people.
- Blinds for 3 sets of windows in our safe house staff bedroom.

Again, thank you so much for the opportunity to come and speak to your group. You are a fantastic group of people and I hope we stay connected!

The Four Way Test Of the things

We think say or do

1. Is it the truth?
2. Is it fair to all concerned?
3. Will it build goodwill and better Friendships?
4. Will it be beneficial to all concerned?
5. Will it be FUN?
