Welcome to UW-Madison's New Director of Marching Band

Club president Betsy Nordstrom, February 5 speaker Dr. Corey Pompey, and Rhea Myers.

Dr. Corey Pompey addressed the club on February 3. In the introduction, Rhea Myers mentioned that Dr. Pompey went to the University of Alabama and played in the band and that his favorite instrument is the saxophone. Dr. Pompey had been the assistant band director at Pennsylvania, but most recently was at University of Nevada-Reno. Advice he received from Mike Lakrone was "Do what you know how to do." Dave Olson, the assistant band director who has good connection with the students, has been very helpful in navigating the first season.

A part of the band director's job is to get permission to use music and the rights to the music cost money. For example, the band cannot obtain a John Williams arrangement. A customized arrangement, when procured and paid for, can played for 1 to 3 years. In August, band members go to leadership camp to learn to play and march. The first week is learning how to march. The band works hard and it is a very athletic activity. Varsity band is a class and members are required to play at a certain number of sporting events.

Our thanks to Dr. Corey Pompey for his visit to the club and for his presentation.
