Keynote Speaker

Janiene Langford introduced our keynote speaker, Jennie Comstock, Administrator of the Hayward Animal Shelter. Ms. Comstock's keynote address was "Woolly and Wild at the Hayward Animal Shelter." The Hayward Animal Services Bureau is a City funded Division of the Police Department, and covers all incorporated areas of Hayward and 158,000 citizens. Their priority is public safety and they service 3,200 animals per year. Donations made to the Hayward Animal Shelter allows them to offer additional care including vouchers for spay and neuter, dental, eye surgery, and other needs. Ms. Comstock and volunteers with the Shelter have an obvious passion for animals. Community members can help through animal adoptions, volunteering, making donations and sponsoring classroom education sessions. Per Hayward Rotary tradition, President Sean presented Ms. Comstock with a book that will be donated to the Hayward Children's Library in her honor, Pet Rescue Club: A Puppy Called Disaster

If Rotarians are interested in meeting with her, please contact her assistant, Angel Groves. 2) Organizational Health. If employees are not feeling empowered and engaged, her team is unable to provide effective service to our community. 3) Implementing Council priorities. Developing a comprehensive traffic and pedestrian safety program; creating Complete Communities in new developments; and tackling the affordable housing crisis. 4) City's Financial Picture. Progress has been made to close the structural deficit. In 2010, our City faced a $30M deficit. Now, our City is facing a $4.5M deficit.

Key projects and issues that may be of interest to Rotarians:

- Maple and Main (former Bryman College site): Major proposal to create a mixed-use development with 240 apartments plus retail. Project is five stories tall. This is the highest standard of law enforcement accreditation available to local law enforcement. Hayward Police Department has been CALEA accredited for several years.
