Guests: Karen Kienzle as guest of IRIS KOROL; Diane Raleigh as guest of ANNETTE GLANCKOPF, Melanie Hibbs as guest of ISRAEL ZEHA VI, Dick Bush as guest of MIKE COUCH and GEOFF ZIMAN'S granddaughter Megan Ziman.

OPENING REMARKS

BRUCE GEE reminded us that no matter how grand our goals for life are, enjoy the small pleasures with family, friends and the everyday 'gifts' we receive.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Candace Roney invited us to join in a celebration of Rotocare on October 29th at the Doubletree Hotel in San Jose.

PRESIDENTS CLUB

BERT ROSE celebrated his anniversary of joining The Palo Alto Medical Foundation 50 years ago, and his long membership in Rotary.

PROGRAM:

Linda Craighead spoke on Public Arts Commission - Visuals and Controversy. Public Art has been displayed since the beginning of human history, yet it remains controversial. One persons' perception of beauty or meaning is another persons' view of political statement or blight. People travel around the world to see the public art of places like Greece and Italy. There is significant public art in places like Washington, DC, Chicago, Phoenix and Palo Alto.
