Centennial, Colorado

April 30, 2019

ROTARY MINUTE

Samantha Johnston presented the four objectives of Rotary, which are

1. The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service.
2. High ethical standards in business and professions, the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations, and the dignifying of each Rotarian's occupation as an opportunity to serve society.

3. The application of the ideal of service in each Rotarian's personal, business, and community life, and

4. The advancement of international understanding, goodwill, and peace through a world following of business and professional persons united in the ideal of service.

BLUE BADGE

Debra Jessop was awarded her blue badge. She also gave the club a flag from Baguio, Philippines.

WEB SITE

John Peterson informed us there is a phone app for our Club Runner web site.

CLUB ASSEMBLY

The majority of the meeting dealt with where our dues go.

Here is a breakdown of where our dues go

64% go to meals

14% go to Rotary International dues

9% goes to club administration

7% goes to District dues

3% goes to supplies, and

3% goes to education.

The vast majority of our money goes to meals. Samantha Johnston is meeting with Embassy Suites in the near future to discuss various ways to reduce the meal costs.

There was also a discussion concerning the holiday party. Members of the club have expressed a desire to have a holiday party that is just a holiday party and not a fund raising event. To go along with this, the idea was thrown out to have a second fund raiser event that is separate from the holiday party. There was not a resolution to this, but ideas are still be considered. The holiday party brought in $14,000+

CLUB BUSINESS

- The State of the City brought in $28,000
- Carolyn Schrader has approved our global grant for WaterRico. Three more approvals are necessary to get the grant.

TRAVEL GIFTS

- D Shattuck brought back a book from the Sand Dunes titled "Memories in Color" by the Colorado Geological Society.

1789 George Washington Inaugurated as the First President of the United States

In New York City, George Washington, the great military leader of the American Revolution, is inaugurated as the first president of the United States.

In February 1789, all 69 presidential electors unanimously chose Washington to be the first U.S. president. In March, the new U.S. constitution officially took effect, and in April Congress formally sent word to Washington that he had won the presidency. He borrowed money to pay off his debts in Virginia and traveled to New York. On April 30, he came across the Hudson River in a specially built and decorated barge. The inaugural ceremony was performed on the balcony of Federal Hall on Wall Street, and a large crowd cheered after he took the oath of office. The president then retired indoors to read Congress his inaugural address, a quiet speech in which he spoke of “the experiment entrusted to the hands of the American people.” The evening celebration was opened and closed by 13 skyrockets and 13 cannons.
