Happy New Years! I hope everyone had a wonderful break from Rotary! It was kind of nice, but I have missed all of you! We are back at the University Club tomorrow. I am looking forward to a wonderful 2017! We have a lot going on!

I believe registration is already closed for the Presidents dinner, but should be fun with Rotarians and guests attending! Tom Cella, Dan Himelspace and Leslie Lawson, Bob Kemp and Danielle Garvin, Audrey Leavitt, Adams Price and Holly Price, Carolyn Schrader, Ann Tull, Heidi Reseta-rits, Melanie Gentz, Wayne Carter and Sarah Hite signed up for the presidents Dinner. If anyone else signed up last minute, before registration closed please let me know!

Also you may have heard - Rotarian, great friend, and founder of Crutches4Africa, Dave Talbot, needs our help. After spending time in the hospital, he just completed a short cardiac rehab and is headed home. We, his friends, can help get his home adapted for his wheelchair. Carolyn Schrader will have more of an update on David at the meeting. Use the Link below to help.

Also, keep thinking about Silent Auction Items for our Heart for Humanity Fundraiser that we can put together for February 11th to raise money for the Denver Mile High Foundation. I really plan to hit the ground running after the first and spend a the six weeks to come together to have a fun and successful night. Will you be able to help? Attend? Now that we are about a month away - we can hit the ground running and see what we can do to have fun and raise some money?

I also just realized we missed the one of the deadlines for Early Registration for the Rotary International Convention, which was December 18th, the next one is 31 March 2017: Last day for preregistration discount ($415 Rotarians/$100 Rotaractors) - if you are considering going, don't forget to sign up.

Tomorrow our speaker is - Jennifer Manhoff from Project C.U.R.E. will discuss her experiences with the organization's mission of delivering health and hope to the world while fulfilling her personal mission of making a positive impact.

Food for Thought is on break one more week but we are back at Bryant Elementary on the 13th! Mark your calendars.

See you tomorrow,

Melanie

Denver Mile High Rotary Upcoming Programs

January 4th - Jennifer Manhoff from Project C.U.R.E. will discuss her experiences with the organization's mission of delivering health and hope to the world while fulfilling her personal mission of making a positive impact. In her role she delivers over 20 clinic and training programs to 10+ countries annually. In her presentation she will use the framework she developed for Project C.U.R.E. medical missions to discuss partnering for success.

January 11th - Brian Kurzel, Regional Executive Director for the National Wildlife Federation, will speak about the importance of creating 'nearby nature' in Denver, and describe efforts underway to create better habitats in urban and suburban communities for monarchs, pollinators and people.

January 18th - Rutt Bridges will return to update us on recent developments in driverless car technology. He will discuss his book, Driverless Conquers Congestion, which describes how repurposing transit subsidies to autonomous carpools can provide free public transit during rush hours, virtually eliminate congestion, and put hundreds of billions of dollars back into the U.S. economy.

Heart for Humanity Fundraiser

The Denver Mile High Rotary is going to put on a Silent Auction for our Foundation! The ticketed event invite has only gone out to club members, after the first of the year we will start reaching out to other Rotary Clubs, community members, friends family ,etc.

All money raised will come back to our Foundation to be used in the 2017-2018 year. The intention is to have fun with this, reach out to our community, raise a little money and HAVE FUN!

The beginning of the year is a wonderful time to reach out to businesses as organizations typically plot out their year and what they can donate. You have been emailed donation request letters and 501c3 forms. Please use those when you ask for donations.
