Hello, everybody! We were dark week before last and I missed last week due to travel. Seems like quite a while since I have been there, so I am looking forward to Wednesday. I had to put on my investigative reporting hat (you know, the fedora with the press badge on it) to see how the meeting went last week, but it sounded like a great one. First off, many thanks to Melanie for running the meeting for me. Hope you are having a gas in Italy! Thank you also, Carolyn and everyone else who backed Melanie up. Carolyn tells me that Abbas' presentation was a good one and a little unique for a DG. Instead of the "rah-rah, give money" speech, it sounded to be more of a reflection on what Rotary can be, cast in the light of the Rotary response to the recent hurricanes in Texas, New Orleans/Florida and Puerto Rico, to name a few: Something of a metaphor of how Rotary stands in a unique position to be the conduit for getting very efficient and very effective help out to communities in need, wherever they may be, whether it is in our own back yards or around the globe. Abbas is an interesting gentleman with a diverse background in overcoming adversity and forcing the positive to always shine through. I understand he made mention of the backpacks for kids program he put together for Afghani kids, for whom the schools were built, but the school supplies were unavailable. Abbas jumped in to remedy that problem and in very short order had more than 50,000 backpacks winging their way to kids in Afghanistan. Goes to show what can be done by a very few to great effect!

Speaking of great effect, serious progress on the fruit sales: 166 boxes so far! Robin has been on fugo in the sales department with more than a dozen boxes sold! She got the Cherry Creek club in the mix, so they are buying boxes, too. Way to go, Robin! Everybody keep up the great work. Those grapefruits are going to be might delicious for someone!

Some house keeping to be aware of: Don't forget to get Carolyn the payments for the fruit sales. Commits are one thing, but cash is king! Also, remember that we will be dark on the 22nd of November, the day before Turkey Day. You are welcome to show up at the Uclub that day, but it could prove to be a less than exciting meeting... I look forward to seeing you all on Wednesday!!
