NEXT MEETING TUESDAY 17th MAY 2016

Guest Speaker: John Vilianiotis
"Business Would be Great if I had the Right People"

Most organisations still rely on people as their most significant resource. If people really are your greatest asset what are you doing to ensure you get the right people in the right jobs? Organisations are microcosms of human behaviour. Here we witness daily the attributes and behaviours of individuals, team dynamics, and organisational culture as a whole.

With the nature of work constantly changing, organisations need to adjust their modes of operation to attract and retain the right people. The specialist insights into human behaviour at work provided by organisational psychology can help you design your organisation's people requirements, select and develop the right people and ensure they remain committed.

John is a seasoned corporate psychologist with over 20 years' experience working with organisations across all sectors, delivering strategic advice and expertise across a broad spectrum of organisational development, leadership and people development areas. He was a Principal Consultant with Chandler Macleod Consulting for 8 years before setting up his own business - Synolos Consulting.

MEETING REPORT TUESDAY 10th MAY 2016

Posted by Paul FRASER

Visitors: Sarah Overton (membership application to come), Ian Bloomfield, both guests of Neville John

Chairperson: Peter Duras

Announcements:

Tony Thomas provided an update on his health indicating that the chemotherapy has been going well and that he is living a totally normal life.

President Elect Justine Murphy encouraged member participation in two coming events:

- The Club Strategy Review being held in the meeting on 24 May 2016
- Changeover on 1 July 2016, which is a bit different and hopefully lots of fun. Members were encouraged to be early in letting Roger know of their attendance.

Frank O'Brien noted two working bees coming up:

- DIK Saturday 28 May 2016
- Echuca Steam Rally 11-12 June 2016, noting that the Echuca club will probably have accommodation organised.

Roy Garret presented the club with a plaque received in recognition and appreciation from the Laotian Governor of the district where the club has facilitated the building of two classrooms at Ban Boum Aor school.

Kevin Walklate highlighted that few members had so far registered for 'Guess Who Is Coming To Dinner' on Saturday 21 May 2016.

President George noted that Tony Thomas is being interviewed by the ABC regarding Nauru and fertilizers. Apparently it was too difficult for the ABC to gain access and they had read Tony's book, which includes a story about Nauru.

President George outlined the Board's consideration of our club name and branding. Having found that many different and confusing names have been ascribed to our club, the Board is proposing a renaming supported by rebranding that:

- Is consistent with Rotary International guidelines
- Describes who we are
- Is simpler

George explained the process involved in changing the name, details of which will be forwarded to members soon for consideration.

The proposed name is "Rotary Central Melbourne".

Discussion supported the need for change from the long name that leads to confusions such as the club being named as Sunshine or members having to explain "Sunrise". Concern was raised that in Rotary tradition "Central" means lunch meeting and "Sunrise" means breakfast meeting. In response to this concern it was highlighted that the change was needed to make sense to non-Rotarians.

Guest Speaker – Assoc. Prof. Dr. Gregory Phillips.

"The Australian Challenge in Health Education for Indigenous people"

Greg, acknowledged the traditional owners of this land and showed a photo of his country of origin in far north Queensland. He described the beginnings of his work in indigenous health curriculum development in Australia's medical schools through to current progress and continuing challenges.

Greg started out in this field at the University of Melbourne working with the Deans of the 12 medical schools of the time. His work was to audit the curricula and develop a curriculum framework. The two main goals were to introduce learning programs on indigenous health for medical students and to increase indigenous participation in medical training. This led to a curriculum being endorsed by the Deans in 2004 and accredited in 2005 (CDAMS Indigenous Health Curriculum Framework).

A national review in 2012 showed that indigenous recruitment into medicine had reached parity with the population proportion of 3%. However, rates of graduation had not been at that level, raising questions of whether the curriculum is failing them or some are being admitted who should not have been. To understand more about the mixed success, Greg undertook a PhD using a case study approach.
