Leading with resilience in challenging times

Jun 30, 2020 7:40 AM

Jane has extensive international business experience, having worked for a multi-national organisation for over 30 years. Working internationally (New Zealand, Australia and the US) has allowed her to develop a broad set of business and leadership skills. During this time Jane has had the opportunity to lead and develop teams of all sizes, as well as mentoring and coaching high potential individuals.

With over 20 years in senior leadership roles Jane understands the value of self-development and discovering your own authentic leadership style.

Jane is a Fellow of the Institute of Managers and Leaders and holds an Executive MBA and a Graduate Certificate in Organisational Coaching.

June 16TH Meeting Report

ROTARY CENTRAL MELBOURNE – MEETING REPORT – JUNE 16TH

- President Warwick Cavell opened the Meeting at 7.40am
- Malcolm Fielden, chair for the Meeting, proposed a Toast to Rotary International
- There were 40 Rotarians and Guests at the Zoom Meeting

Guest were:

- Pam Dittmer – Melbourne South (not sure of spelling)
- Jim Overton – Jacksonville, Florida

The Guest Speaker was Charles Kovess.

The theme of the presentation was “Educating Grandchildren – unlocking their passion to live wonderful lives”.

Charles Kovess is a professional speaker, educator, facilitator and coach. After 20 years of high level legal and business experience, he decided to pursue his passion for increasing passion. He found that bringing out the unique and extraordinary capacities of individuals, by accessing and harnessing their passion, is the fundamental key to business success in these changing and challenging times. He is also the Author of “Passionate People Produce” and “Passionate Performance”. His key focus is to provoke people to explore and pursue their passion. It is important that your grandchildren explore their passion in the early stages of their lives and the role grandparents can play in assisting them on this journey.

When you contemplate your own success and think back on your own careers – why their passion is a crucial element in their success and the role that you can play in their future.

Passion is a source of unlimited energy that produces extraordinary results. You become what you thinking about most of the time - it is your influence as a grandparent that if you buy into this idea you can play a crucial role in helping your children understanding the value of the freedom of choice that comes about from doing what their passionate about.

He was also focusing on the fact that Freedom makes you human – we always have a choice and it is a conscious decision. Liberate your grandchildren so they have a choice to live with freedom.

Charles also spoke about the importance of Education and to think of the impact your grandparents had on your life. If you as a grandparent don't know what to talk about with your grandchildren, he suggest finding out what books they are reading and learn their computer games as this will provide you with conversational points. Very powerful presentation and again reiterated that "How you control your mindset will control your future".
