- ◆ Emotional intelligence is making emotions work for you, instead of against you. (Justin Bariso)
- ◆ Emotional intelligence is the capacity to blend thinking and feeling to make optimal decisions. It's being smarter with feelings. (Six Seconds).

She covered the domains of emotional intelligence:

- ◆ Self-awareness
- ◆ Self-management
- ◆ Social awareness
- ◆ Relationship management

She also shared that there were many things not in our control but one thing we could control was ourselves and ended by encouraging those in the room that in our quest to have better relationships with others we should work to improve our emotional intelligence through:
