As of October 1st, we started collecting new white crew socks to donate to the chronically homeless in downtown Miami.

23. Delivered Books in Homestead

On October 3rd, four hundred bilingual books were delivered to Touching Miami w/ Love. They provide afterschool care and support to underprivileged children (academic, social and moral programs). The children were delighted.

24. Tactile Art Book for Lighthouse of the Blind

A tactile art book, especially designed for the sight impaired was secured and will be delivered to Lighthouse for the Blind.

25. Books delivered to Young Soccer Players

Sixty-eight books for school-aged children were delivered to "Something to Play For", a non-profit soccer program for underprivileged children.

26. On-line environmental campaigns

Initiated on-line campaigns where members can take action by just a click to have their concerns forwarded to the appropriate authorities. We have supported various issues through the National Wildlife Federation, Ocean Conservancy, Nature Conservancy and Change.org.

27. World Polio Day

On October 24th, World Polio Day was commemorated with a joint meeting inviting the Coconut Grove Club. Funds were raised and Norm Kassoff, a polio survivor, lectured about his experience and how close we are to eradicating this preventable disease.

28. Tactile Art Book for Lighthouse of the Blind

On October 28th, a tactile art book, especially designed for the sight impaired was delivered to Lighthouse for the Blind. El Arte Puertorriqueño, features prints of artwork by famous Puerto Rican artists. Each print has relief overlays that essentially superimpose the design beneath. This method of printing provides the sight impaired with a tactile experience of each masterpiece.

29. Individual Challenge

Members were challenged to create their own Community Service project for Daylight Saving Time Day on Nov. 3rd That day is an hour longer, so we challenged members to come up with their own project on how to use that extra hour to help others and submit them. Prizes were given out for the most creative projects.

30. Food Collection as of November 3rd
