January 13th Program: Danielle Wogulis Yolo Conflict and Resolution Center

The Yolo Conflict and Resolution Center (YCRC) serves all of the Yolo County, providing services with conflict resolution and mediation services. Their primary goal is to help empower residents of Yolo County to turn a conflict situation into a positive opportunity of growth and change. This organization takes their mission one step further beyond their direct services, providing resilience building workshops to communities all over the area. These events have been proven to be effective, and helping the YCRC promote and work towards facilitating large scale, community conversations that promote the entire mediation and resolution process.

The YCRC is piloting their Youth Diversion Program, and holds a contract with the Davis Unified School District and the Davis Police Department, helping youth with conflict resolution services and mediation techniques. This program targets juvenile youth, usually first time offenders, and students with discipline problems in school. Their long term plan is to infiltrate the Youth Diversion Program into all the cities in Yolo County. This program also works with the schools to train staff in resolution justice training. This program has worked wonders in teaching youth "how to listen, and how to work together, starting in Kindergarten," said Wogulis.

For more information on the Yolo Conflict and Resolution Center and their services and program, contact Danielle Wogulis, Administrative and Outreach Coordinator, at programs@yolocrc.org or (530) 564-2324

OPENING REMARKS FROM THE PRESIDENT

While Paul Harris was the founder of Rotary, he deferred his presidency for 3 years, serving as President in 1907. The first President of Rotary was Silvester Schiele. However, Paul Harris did serve as the 1st President of the National Association in 1910. It is little trivia like this that makes me happy to be the 68th President of the Mighty Rotary Club of West Sacramento.

And a final note, it is great to see Jim Clark with us today!

Bill's Box

Good Day Everyone,

We had an exciting meeting this past Friday. It is always exciting when we induct new members. Amy Busch and Jim Minewiser, welcome to the Mighty Rotary Club of West Sacramento.

I enjoyed the presentation by Danielle Wogulis. Now you know who to call if in need of conflict resolution. I had no idea that there were these types of services available.

During the announcements I threw out all kinds of dates. Just reference these in the newsletter. I am pushing the River Dice Tournament on Wednesday evening, January 25th (Tim Carnahan) and the Super Bowl Squares are being passed around for signups (Shaun Morrow).

This Friday we will also have a sign-up sheet for helpers to take notes for the newsletter during the meetings. Tim Carnahan has volunteered to take notes this Friday. We will have a template for note-takers to use and if the note-taker gives it to me after the meeting, I will forward them onto Amanda Bailey. Carol Bogart will still take notes once a month and Amanda will be here periodically, as well. Thank you in advance for helping us.

This Friday's meeting should be jamb-packed. We will be inducting two new members, Philip Nance and Mark Roberts. Clarksburg's Boy Scout Troop 83 will present the colors and be the topic of our presentation. There will be time for all of us that want to "Celebrate" these fine young men and help with their fundraising for the Adventure Trip they are planning on this summer.

Rotary up!
Bill

What's the telephone code for Leicester, England? (Try Leicester Red cheese, by the way). What was the camouflage pattern on World War I ships called? Where is Leatherhead?

If you know, you might be able to join the Mole Valley Misfits, a bunch of Rotarians from, coo-incidentally, Leatherhead (20 miles southwest of London). They competed in – and nearly won – the Scottish game show called Eggheads, the finals of a country-wide TV trivia competition.

Check the November Rotarian for the answers.
