October 21st Program: New Member Induction
Lori Hawkins, Linda Luna, Verna Sulpizio, Quirina Orozco

A NOTE ON MEMBERSHIP

From Membership Chair Tim Kwong

(an excerpt from his remarks during the New Member Induction Ceremony Friday, October 21st at Club Pheasant)

Membership is the life blood of all organizations. People congregate together because they have common interest. Becoming a member of Rotary gives us many opportunities to improve the lives of others and the betterment of our communities. In return, it improves our lives as well. The amenities of Rotary are as follows, fellowship, camaraderie, humor and laughter, human interaction, improved health, improved eating habits, lower stress levels, a better quality of life, a longer life, improved blood pressure and cholesterol levels, singing opportunities, physical exercise and enlightenment. In Rotary, what you give returns back to you at least ten times. A famous person once said that the 2 most important days in your life is, #1, the day you were born, and #2 is the day you figure out why. May I add #3, the day you join Rotary and # 4, the day you become a Rotarian. For many of us, that 4th day has arrived. For others, it is just around the corner. At Rotary, you will find high ethical standards, integrity, honest dealings, compassion and fairness which encompass the 4 way test. People from all vocations join Rotary for the opportunities to give their time, their money and their energy to unselfish worthy causes. Rotary membership gives you entrance to all of the coveted clubs of the world. Being part of Rotary is the best path to local and international community service.

We do welcome new members. Continuance and growth of membership is the life blood of our club. Tired blood will eventually dry up and dissipate. To carry on the spirit, the culture, to blaze new paths for our Club, we must grow and cultivate all members to step up to help chart

BILL BEVIER'S MOVIE HORSE TRIVIA 10/21/16

(weekly winners are awarded a Rotary Coin)

Question: What was the name of the horse in the movie National Velvet? Where, Velvet Brown, played by Elizabeth Taylor, rode the horse to win the Grand National?

Answer: Piebald.

President Bill stumped the crowd. Note, in the book, Piebald was the name of the horse, but also referenced the coloring of the horse. A piebald is similar to a pin-to. However, in the movie they used a chestnut horse, still referring to Piebald as his name, but shortened it to Pie.

(Editor/Daughter's Note: Seems to me like President Bill will forever be the wonderful and all-knowing equestrian expert, both in reality and in cinema.)

Bill's Box

Last Friday's gathering was a very exciting one! The club inducted four new members. I can't remember when we had that many inducted during one meeting. Our goal is to increase membership by 10% and we are well on our way to accomplishing that. We had great attendance and many guests of the inductees also joined in the festivities.

I have been mentioning attendance for the past several weeks, and attendance has been up. THANK YOU. Throughout the summer and early in my term we were less than 50% attendance and this has had an affect on Club Pheasant. Club Pheasant is a valuable resource for our club; not only providing the location and meals, but they set-up the room in preparation for our meetings, they tear-down the room afterwards, and store the banners and equipment between meetings. I do not think that many other clubs have this benefit. They are a business and we have to ensure that profitability remains for them to offer this venue for service. Please do all that you can to attend the meetings.

Rotary Up,
Bill

Rotary International Tidbits

Clean Water Project

When wells in Ciudad Sandino, Nicaragua, tested positive for fecal contamination, the local Rotary Club revived its partnership with the Rotary Club of Santa Barbara Sunrise. The clubs provided over 500 locally manufactured ceramic water filters to residents while infrastructure upgrades work through the planning and funding stages.

One-third of Nicaraguans lack access to safe water or sanitary toilets.

Meet the NEW Members!

Verna Sulpizio

Verna Sulpizio (pictured with her guests at the Induction) has recently been appointed as the new CEO of the West Sacramento Chamber of Commerce. While originally an Ohio Buckeye, she has made a home here in West Sacramento. She is enthusiastic and eager to hit the ground running with Rotary, having been connected to the organization for quite a few years. I guess that we all can look past the part about being a Seahawks fan.....
