David Ogilvie

By David Kamminga

April 12, 2022 will forever be known as the day that the Frozen Tundra descended on the Viticultural Region of Clarksburg and attacked the baby grapes as they began their lives on the vines. This week our speaker was David Ogilvie of Silt Wines in Clarksburg. David is a familiar face at our club as he came to speak with us when he worked with Anheuser Bush. The forecast for the area was to have temperatures in the upper 30s. Knowing that 36-37 degrees at the executive airport might mean below freezing in Clarksburg. They took precautions to protect the baby grapes. They flood irrigated as much as they could. The standing water will help absorb some of the cold air to protect the baby grapes. From 3am to 6am the temperature got down to 27.7 degrees F. David used Ceres Imaging technology to determine the extent of the damage. They had some blocks that were completely un-harvestable, and some where they may get a partial harvest. They are still determining the extent of the damage. Different varieties of grapes were affected differently. This next winter they will have to prune back some of the chutes grown and damaged so that next year they can recover.

They Farm 1,200 acres and 30% were of those acres were undamaged, 20-30% are completely un-harvestable. The remaining 40-50% are being analyzed to determine if they will be able to be harvested. The Sugar content will need to be tested and studied to determine if wine can even be made from them.

Thank you to David Ogilvie for visiting us and sharing this experience.

Remarks from President David Kamminga

We as Rotarians have great powers. We are all called to serve others through this group that has been around for 117 years. Our donations and actions help people both here in our community and throughout the world. This past month we had Joe Darrin of The Kindness Movement, and I had an experience at the District Conference that both got me thinking. I am normally very supportive and kind to people in general and especially when they are having hardships. The past two years have really been filled with hardships, from the kids that weren't able to go to school and learn to the business owners that have had to have their business shutdown and then reopen with the shortage of labor. One thing that goes very far in helping others get through hardships is by letting them know that you care and you are there to be supportive of them.

I challenge all of you to every single day, let someone know you care! Your kids, your spouse, your friends, your co-workers. Right now someone in your life needs to know you care.

So will you let them know you care!

Yours in Rotary Service,
David Kamminga, 2021-2022 President

David Kamminga's

OPENING REMARKS: "This Week in History May 7th — May 13th"

1962 – To add insult to injury, the same tapes that convinced Dick Rowe of Decca Records, London to turn down The Beatles were given to George Martin of Parlophone/EMI by Brian Epstein at Abbey Road Studios, Martin offered the Band a tentative recording contract based on the tapes without ever hearing them play.

1963 – Bob Dylan walked off The Ed Sullivan Show when he was refused permission to perform Talking John Birch Society Blues

1966 – Soul Superstar James Brown appeared at the Memphis Coliseum and, after getting Elvis Presley's number from one of his friends, tried to call him during the day. Every time he called, however, he was told that Elvis was asleep. Very likely the truth as Presley, as with most entertainers, was a night owl.

1969 – The Turtles performed at the White House and leader Mark Volman celebrated by falling off the stage... Four times! Then they spent the night in the Lincoln Bedroom, smoking pot.

1973 – Mick Jagger donated $350,000 to help victims of the Nicaraguan earthquake

And the number one song in 1958 – All I have to do is Dream by the Everly Brothers

Rotary Clean Up

What a great Workday collaboration between the Clarksburg and West Sacramento Rotary Clubs and the 1883 Clarksburg Schoolhouse Board of Directors. 25 people representing all three organizations participated in the morning Schoolhouse site cleanup and the wonderful BBQ that followed. Eric Peddicord was the BBQ Chef and other members of the Clarksburg Club provided food for the event. It was another great partnership event.
