

President Mike Campbell recognized Dick Marshall and Pat Hill. Dick is the host to our fireside chats and joined Rotary in 1981. Pat Hill became a member in 2008. He searched for a club in El Dorado Hills, but feels at home in West Sacramento.

CELEBRATE—ROTARY IS A GIFT

SPEAKER PROGRAM

Program: Pat Hill, Uganda Video Mission

Pat Hill recently retired from California State Teachers' Retirement System (CALSTRS) and began a new career as a videographer. His focus is to work with non-profits. His recent trip was to Uganda, and there he documented the Batwa Pygmies.

The Batwa people have been relocated out of their home, "Impenetrable Forest," to create a preserve for the mountain gorilla. The Batwa needed to change their way of life from being hunter/gathers to an agricultural society. They left everything they knew in the forest. The people are assimilating into the surrounding culture. They are learning crafts like sewing and weaving. Pat's presentation included a 12-minute video of scenes he had taken while in Uganda. The video showed how the Batwa lived and how they have adjusted to their new way of life. Pat also told the members how he was able get by with the minimal comforts of home.

VOCATIONAL CORNER
By Drew Gidlof, Vocational Service

Jeff Post was in the petroleum business since he was 16 and decided to challenge himself to get his DRE (Calif. Dept of Real Estate) real estate license to sell/lease industrial properties at the early age of 45. After a chance meeting with fellow Rotarian Mark Engstrom at a club meeting he started working with their firm in August 1999. He received his Society of Industrial & Office Realtors (SIOR) credential in early 2005, and joined the 5% of total Brokers that also have earned that designation. His quote of the interview – “Always be aware that NO is always on the table to a deal, fully disclose all the information about the property, always have a friendly face, and enjoy your clients and colleagues”. Once he joined Rotary he was amazed at how many of my clients were members. He was in the 20/30 Club prior, and his “graduating class” all joined Rotary about the same time, but most of them became members at Point West. He had to let them know he was the only one on the correct side of the River. The various Rotary events have been great to invite his family, friends, and clients to, while enjoying something different besides business deals.

Future Rotarian: Jessica Ngo

I am an incoming junior and have been in Interact since freshman year. In freshman year I joined and was super shy, but many of the interactors were very friendly and I even ended up chairing the Tuxes and Tennies event. It was my very first event as a chair and it taught me to be more responsible and also helped me improve my communication skills with others. In my sophomore year, I became a board member and a shadow for Vice President, Denise Au. This year, I will be Vice President of the club, along with Aaron Saelee.

Interact is an amazing club that taught me to not be afraid to take leadership roles and to slowly come out of my shyness. I feel that I am making a difference in Interact because all the lessons I've learned from this club, I always try my best to apply them back to help the club be successful. I look forward to enjoying the remaining years I have left with this club, giving back to the community, make my mark in the world.
