Robin Bevier is Playing for Keeps!

Robin Bevier gave the Mighty Rotary Club of West Sacramento an encore performance as our speaker on Friday; entertaining the club with stories of her hobby as a basketball referee. As a brand-new empty nester, Robin decided she needed a hobby and, having never played the game of basketball, decided THAT would be the perfect sport to officiate. Robin's belief that, "you can do anything you want if you have the desire and the technical competence" drove her to attend Ref Camp in Chico, CA and become a Certified Basketball Referee. Armed with her best friend, the all-powerful Technical Foul, Robin began reffing games played by kids as young as 1st graders, to as big as high-school boys. One of Robin's goals was to always beat the players to the baseline, no matter how big and fast they were, so that they would never think that she couldn't, and she earned their respect. By reffing these games and working so closely with these kids, she was able to teach them valuable life lessons through mentorship and, when presented with an opportunity, by dropping priceless nuggets of advice regarding sportsmanship, humility, positive attitudes and respect. Robin sometimes wished she could drop a few large nuggets on some of the parents and coaches that, many times, were her biggest challenge. All of the money Robin earned from Refing went into her own non-profit, Playing for Keeps, to help underprivileged kids that need support for fees, sporting equipment and even musical instruments.

PETER'S PRINCIPAL Opening Remarks From Friday's Meeting

During first Friday in September, National Lazy Mom's Day delegates everyday mom jobs to someone else.

Busy moms know that the work of being a parent is never done. However, occasional parents need to recharge. The laundry and the dishes will be there later. When possible, finding someone to watch the children for a few hours is worth it. Sometimes all a mom needs is a nap. Other times, mothers (and fathers too) seek adult conversation.

Even though moms around the country view this day in different ways, the majority see it as a day for moms to take a break. While the occasion holds no shine to Mother's Day, may we suggest some cooperation with Mom? Allow her to take a break. Divide the chores. Place a moratorium on family feuds. That's how most celebrate this National Day.

I am Peter Anderson and it is days like these that make me proud to be the 71st President of the Mighty Rotary Club of West Sacramento!
