

Rotary Club event benefits children, families

By BRAD STUTZMAN

Pancakes and Santa Claus, what's not to like?

A plate of flapjacks and a visit with the jolly old elf are both in store for those who attend the annual Breakfast with Santa, scheduled for Saturday, December 16 from 7:30 to 11 a.m.

Breakfast will be served in the Georgetown Community Center, 445 East Morrow Street in San Gabriel Park.

Georgetown firefighters and members of the Rotary Club of Georgetown-Sun City lead the annual event.

Firefighters and Rotarians will be preparing and serving breakfast plates of pancakes, sausage, juice and coffee.

Tickets are $6 and are available at the door. Each ticket holder is entitled to have their picture taken with Santa. Children 12 and younger get in free with an adult ticket purchase.

More than 1,000 people attended last year last year. Proceeds benefit local

Rotary Club programs through the Georgetown school district, the Assistance League of Georgetown and the Extended School Enrichment Program.

This will mark the 17th year the Rotary Club has led the effort.

"We shop at Kohl's; at the end they gave us 20 percent off everything we bought," Rotary Club President John Schwebke said last December.

"We got clothes for 70 families," he added, thanking all those who helped.

Sun archives

Quinn Bush had a close-up conversation with you-know-who during the Rotary Club's Breakfast with Santa at the Community Center last year.