Last Friday was St. Stephens Day, the National Day of Hungary, honouring the first King when Hungary was founded in the 9th Century, AD.

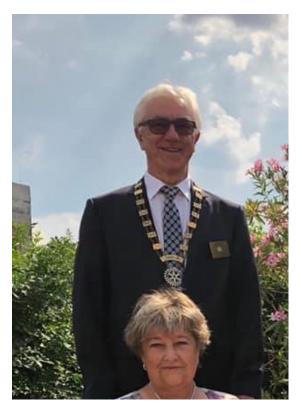

The country was a kingdom for nearly 1000 years until incorporated by the Hapsburgs and eventually became part of the Austro-Hungarian Empire.

After the Second World War it came under the control of the Soviet Union but reemerged as an independent Republic in 1989 and is now home to 10 million people.

Rotary began in Budapest in 1926, was suspended in 1942 but with freedom was quickly re-established in 1989. There are now 55 Clubs in Hungary in District 1911.

The port city of Baja is on the Danube near the southern border with Serbia. It dates from the early 14th Century and now has a population of 35,000.

The Rotary Club of Baja was Chartered in 2001 and has 22 Members led by President Istvan Sarlos (he's the one with the silver hair at their Changeover).

The Club has always had a busy program of community events in schools but this year, like us, has had to suspend most of their activities.

Would you please be upstanding in recognition of the National Day of Hungary and Toast to the President and Members of the Rotary Club of Baja.

This week's Ted Talk -

Louis Perron "How to win election campaigns in a changing world".

Louis is a Swiss based consultant who advises political parties on electoral strategies.

Success is based on the 4 M's.

Message – needs to be more than a slogan and ideally expresses something about oneself and the opponent. What is in it for the voter. Barack Obama's 2008 slogan "Change we can believe in".

Media – social and online media is disrupting traditional media. There are now multiple media players. Candidates need to be authentic and voters must feel they are getting the real deal.

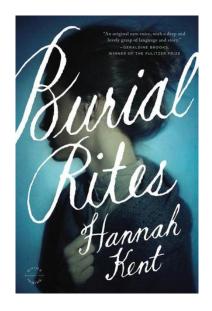

Money – it is possible to push the right message with less money, especially by using social media. Sometimes too much money can be a distraction.

Make no Mistakes – or at least no major ones. Produce campaign material with content. If the pamphlets look like propaganda then you are probably wasting your money.

The above 4 M's need to be adapted to the local setting.

At the conclusion of the presentation, Tony suggested that Will use the 4 M's when he campaigns as president. Will's response was that there was no competition and he felt his arm hurting at the time of acceptance.

In possibly a new segment, Jim Gasson spoke glowingly of a book he had just finished.

(Hannah actually went on Rotary Exchange to Iceland.)
