Traci Davis

Prior to joining Washoe County School District, Davis worked 16 years in the Clark County School District. She served in a variety of roles ranging from teacher, Title I Interventionist, Assistant Principal, Principal, and Area Superintendent. During her tenure, she developed programs to increase student achievement. She assisted with the Superintendent’s initiative, “A Look Ahead” implementing programming to target predicted high school dropouts all in an attempt to increase graduation rates. During her distinguished career as an educator, she has worked in a variety of schools ranging from at- promise to affluent, high achieving to failing, and has helped transform learning environments in elementary, middle and high schools through her leadership. She is a courageous leader that always put students first by articulating a return on investment with accountability for all building leaders, and allowing others to develop their strengths and take ownership of their work. Ms. Davis was recognized with the Nevada National Distinguished Principal Award in 2011 for her efforts in transforming an at-promise school to high achieving.

Ms. Davis holds the following degrees: Educational Specialist from Nova Southeastern University, with a focus on school administration, a Master’s degree of Education in Educational Technology from Lesley University, and a Bachelor of Science in Education from the University of Nevada Las Vegas. She has continued her professional education experience by attaining certification through the AASA/Howard University Urban Superintendents Academy Certification Program in 2015.

As a native Nevadan, Ms. Davis is committed to closing all achievement gaps for students in Washoe County School District. Her motto is simple, “Achievement is not a place, it is a belief!” Her strong belief is that we should have high academic expectations for all students so that by graduation they will be college, career or military ready.

Mickey Ganitch, a 99 year old Pearl Harbor Survivor who spent 23 years in the Navy talked about his career (note the 9 rows of campaign ribbons) discussed reporting aboard the USS Pennsylvania BB-38 (commissioned in 1916), as a Seaman Recruit (E-1) on August 15, 1941. During the attack on 7 December the Pennsylvania was in Dry Dock just across from the Naval Hospital grounds. Mickey provided wonderful stories of the attack, his miraculous survival and remained on active duty until October 1963 when he retired as a Senior Chief Quartermaster. He is active, sharp and quick at 99 and full of great stories and is just one of a handful of living Pearl Harbor attack survivors. We were honored to host him!

How To Introduce Your Guests And New Members At A Club Meeting

When introducing a guest or new members during a Club meeting, the correct way is to greet the Club President, fellow Rotarians and guests, introduce yourself and state your classification, and then introduce your guest, their title and business affiliation. Please do not introduce any guest as a prospective new member or that they are looking for a position or clients.

Attendance

Please make sure you turn in make-ups to Carl Fuetsch at a club meeting or by email: info@renorotaryclub.org.
