the Reno City Council, to serve the remainder of Mayor Hillary Schieve's vacated term. He was elected to a four-year term in 2016.

As a result of his leadership on the City Council, Reno was the first city in Nevada to join the C40 Compact of Mayors, convened the city's Climate Action Initiative Group to build climate change resiliency and reduce the city's carbon emissions, and launched "ReEnergize Reno," an ambitious program to improve building efficiency 20% by 2025. As part of the program, Reno became the first city in Nevada to adopt an energy benchmarking ordinance, promoting transparency in building energy use to increase efficiency.

Prior to his service on the Reno City Council, Mr. Bobzien served four terms as an Assemblyman representing District 24 in the Nevada Legislature. During his legislative career, he worked on a wide variety of issues, most notably on conservation and clean energy policy including net metering, renewable incentives programs, energy efficiency, and the renewable portfolio standard. During the 2013 session, Mr. Bobzien chaired the Assembly Commerce and Labor committee and shepherded landmark legislation retiring Nevada-serving coal-fired power plants.

Charlie Dodson

I have significant experience in dealing with finances. I have two MA degrees, one in physical education the other in educational administration. With those degrees I was responsible for the athletic department budget at The American School in London for 10 years including coaches salaries, transportation, officials, tournament expenses and operating budget. For a period of time I had to use zero based management to control the athletic budget. At that time I was an owner and partner in the American Basketball Camp in Leysin, Switzerland a position I held for 21 years responsible for all finances which included housing students and staff. Finally, as an administrator I oversaw budgets at Sage Ridge School.

Steve Kent

Steve Kent is a trial attorney with 42 years of experience handling business litigation, defending serious personal injury lawsuits and aviation crash lawsuits. Steve has been a Certified Civil Trial Advocate with the National Board of Trial Advocates for over 30 years. Steve has represented and defended Walmart Inc. in Northern Nevada for over 30 years. Steve was called by upon by the insurers to defend the Reno Air Races after the catastrophic crash that killed 11 and injured 60. Steve was asked by the Washoe County Bar Association to teach debt collection to local lawyers. He is Reno Office Managing Partner for top 25 large national law firm, Gordon Rees Scully Mansukhani, LLP. Steve has been married to Mayla for 46 years and has 3 children and 7 grandchildren. Steve grew up in a Rotary family in Fallon, Nevada working in the family grocery, feed and building supply stores and is a 3d generation Rotarian, 4th generation Nevadan, and has been in the Reno Rotary club over 30 years serving on many committees including fund raising, exchange students, group study, and the Board of the Reno Rotary Foundation where he rewrote the bylaws to more accurately reflect the missions and goals. Steve looks forward to the opportunity to serve the Club on the Board again.

Mike Reed gave his "180" talk to our club. Thank you Mike for sharing your very interesting journey through life and the University of Nevada system!

"There can be no better introduction to the life of a community than one that comes through the local Rotary club."

Bob Moore

Bob Moore is an UNR graduate, with a Bachelor's Degree in Physics.

His first professional job was at Lynch Communications in Reno. They designed and manufactured common carrier equipment for the independent (non-Bell) telephone companies. Common Carrier was an industry term for bad-ass modems between telephone company Central Offices (CO).

He then started Lockwood Moore, Inc with Ray Lockwood in 1975. They initially sold typewriters and electronic calculators. They gradually moved up to Word Processing Systems, then PCs, copiers, computer networks, and now we provide complete integration of security cameras, copiers-printers, servers and all things IT to meet today's Network Security demands. Ray Lockwood retired in the early '80s and has passed.

In younger years Bob enjoyed flying, scuba diving and skiing.

Bob joined The Rotary Club of Reno in the early to mid '90s, and served as President the first year we went to Burning Man.

He started a new office in the Sacramento area, spending weekdays there, so he joined the Rotary Club of Roseville.

Eventually he brought on a GM for the Sacramento office and rejoined the Rotary Club of Reno.

His recent activities and energies are directed towards his new office building. The architect has called it "The Spaceship". It was designed and built in 1984 when the architectural community was into spaceships and lunar landers. It is an eye-catcher.

Bob and his wife Nancy have three grown children and two grandchildren.

Stefanie Scoppettone

Stefanie was born in New York and grew up in northern California, where she graduated from UC Berkeley, and later worked at San Jose State in information systems while earning a master's degree at SJSU in English. She is also a proud graduate of UNR, earning a Ph.D. in 1996, also in English.

For almost 30 years Stefanie worked in the computer industry, first as a programmer/analyst and then in large account sales at the Burroughs Corporation, which later became Unisys. Her role was in sales and large account management, maintaining long-term customer relationships for both public and private sector accounts in Nevada, California and Oregon. Some of these efforts required multi-year systems development, installation, and implementation schedules, and numerous subcontractors.

Stefanie's second and very rewarding career was as a fundraiser and development officer. She worked at UNR at the Business College when Mike Reed was Dean, and for six years for the Health Sciences Division and the School of Medicine, where she assisted in completing the campaign for the William N. Pennington Health Sciences Building. She retired from UNR in 2013, and continues to provide consulting services to several local nonprofit organizations.
