

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE

From the back of the (unfortunately, now stationary) bike. . .

May is “Youth Service” month on the Rotary calendar. With Social Distancing, Stay at Home Orders, and schools closed our support for the youth in our communities and the world is needed now more than ever. The RYE, RYLA, REGL, and Interact Committees at the District are all actively staying current on the status of the students already involved, the groups with whom we participate, for example Grizzly Ranch in the cases of RYLA and RGL, and the Youth Services chairs in our Clubs.

UPCOMING ACTIVITIES

to view District and Club calendar

We continue to be available to the Clubs and all members during this pandemic.

- A. The District Foundation Committee has extended the close out date on all current District Grants to September and is offering a new “COVID-19” grant for Clubs undertaking COVID-19 projects.
- B. The District Membership committee is developing a five-year membership expansion program which focuses primarily on adding Clubs (new and Satellite).
- C. The Learning Leadership Assembly (LLA), which was to a part of the RALLYE, is underway in an on-line format. DGE Roberta Pickett and the training team have and are having Zoom meetings to introduce 2020/2021 Club leadership team (and all other District 5190 Rotarians) discussing the DGE Berta’s vision and how to access the LLA on line. The trainings are available on the District website under the “For Members” tab at “Leadership Learning Assembly 2020”. Please check out the great learning opportunities in which you can participate while observing stay at home orders.

D. The District Public Image committee is putting together a group of audio podcasts to help us stay in communication with all of you. The links will be available via the District Facebook Page and the District Website.

E. Many Clubs are meeting on line. If your Club is not, we encourage reaching out to Public Image Chair Randy Rascati or Area 5 Assistant Governor Stacy Graham for assistance with the “how to”. Go to Meeting is offering their services free for 90 days to non profit organizations. Reach out to PDG Joe Zarachoff for additional information. If you’d like to “attend” other Club’s meetings the District website can provide you with a listing of when and “where” Clubs are meeting.

F. Our fight against Polio has been impacted just as all other aspects of life. The silver lining is that our Polio Eradication teams and processes have been re-directed to participate in the world’s response to COVID-19.

I am keeping all of you in our thoughts and prayers. The responses of the Clubs and the District Committees to the changes we are experiencing makes me even prouder to be a Rotarian. Reach out to and stay in touch with your members; utilize our District team; make this an opportunity to grow. We are still “On the Back of Your Bike” let’s ride together through this bump in the road of our year.

Thank you and God Bless,

Randy Van Tassell

AREA UPDATES

Area 7

Rotary Club of Plymouth-Foothills

Carl and Marilyn McDanel belong to Rotary Club of Plymouth-Foothills, like many Rotarians they own and operate a business. Eight years ago, they opened their kitchen and started making English Toffee. They sold the English Toffee online and at events in California, Oregon, Washington, Nevada, and Colorado. Traveling extensively throughout the year to these various events. Carl and Marilyn donated candy, quite often to various local fundraisers. People who received this candy through the silent auction or raffle basket, soon began knocking on their door wanting to purchase the English Toffee. The McDanel's resisted opening a retail storefront for quite some time. About two years after opening the kitchen they relented and opened a small retail area of the building that Brown's English Toffee & Celtic Candies calls home. Since early 2013 they have been operating solely as a candy maker, event vendor and retail shop.

With the Corona Virus pandemic staring them in the face their business, as strictly confections, was nearing a shutdown because it was considered a non-essential type business. With a little ingenuity and to help keep their doors open they began making and serving sandwiches to go. Initially it was a couple of breakfast sandwiches and a few lunch sandwiches, the menu has increased to a substantial listing of various types of sandwiches. Through it all they've managed to keep their doors open.

Unlike the activity in the kitchen when Marilyn is making the candy, which is non-stop from opening to closing, the sandwich making has its moment of down time. What does one do when everything is ready to make sandwiches but there aren't any customers at the moment? In comes a little more ingenuity, to fill the time Marilyn made baby blankets and donated them to the local Pregnancy Help Center. She soon ran out of yarn but had plenty of quilting fabric. She began making face masks and giving them away in the shop. If someone wanted to make a donation to Polio Plus in exchange for a facemask, they were more than welcome. If they didn't want to or couldn't that was ok too. The main object is to help others stay safe and healthy.

The face masks are constructed with a pocket so a filter can be inserted, if more protection is felt to be necessary. They are made of cotton fabric and are machine washable. Unlike MyPillow they don't come with a 10-year guarantee because Marilyn really hopes this situation doesn't last 10 years. To date Marilyn has made quite a number of these face masks and all have been donated within the community through their candy shop in Fiddletown.

“Onward!”

Despite the current “stay home for Nevada” edict from the Governor’s Office, the Spirit of Rotary is alive and well in the Area 11’s four clubs in rural northern and eastern Nevada. Mark Your Calendars now for the 2020 Foundation Dinner scheduled for November 14, 2020. Donna Boyd, from Mt. Shasta Rotary will be the featured speaker. She will be talking about the “Good-bye Thirsty” Global Grant supported by many Rotary Clubs in Tanzania.

The communities of Elko, Ely and Winnemucca are all impacted by the Corona Virus. Many of our Rotarians are on the front lines as medical professionals or as essential businesses including the Food Bank in Winnemucca. We are grateful for their commitment and dedication. They are living and doing what Rotary is all about. The Presidents-Elect have each taken a few minutes to share some of their plans for the coming year. I only asked them to provide a couple highlights as many are very busy at this time.

For the Presidents-Elect who were able to attend PETS, they found it a very valuable experience and gained many new ideas.

Rotary Club of Winnemucca

President-Elect Barbara Sealy hopes to get an Interact Club started at the Winnemucca high school since the club is already a strong supporter of RYLA. She also plans to contact past members to see if they can start a satellite club with those that can’t attend the traditional lunch meetings. Perhaps, Barbara says, there is a possibility of meeting once online and once in the evening in person each month. Barbara, who is currently director of the Winnemucca Food Bank and Soup Kitchen is quite busy at the moment.

Rotary Club of Elko

James Glennon is a CPA and managing partner in the Glennon-Sandoval firm, and a past-president of the Rotary Club of Elko. James agreed to serve as President of the club beginning July 1, 2020. During the weeks and months ahead, James said “I plan to ride out the typhoon we currently find ourselves in ...and be in a stable position when we come out the other side”. James plans to achieve this by building on the club’s core competencies of fellowship, our sense of service, and our contacts as an organization. He indicated this would enhance the club’s ability to help our community. And, James added, “We will have fun along the way!”

Rotary Club of Elko Desert Sunrise

Jason Land, President-Elect, is a financial advisor for Edward Jones. He is looking forward to working with the club’s board and club members. He would like to deepen relationships with the club’s current members and to recruit new members. Jason said, “I feel we have the opportunity to recruit and cultivate members of our community to our club.” Jason believes the club can successfully and effectively reach out and invite them. As we might imagine, Jason is quite busy in these difficult financial times.

Rotary Club of Ely

President-Elect Tracie Gust, is the Chief Nursing Officer at the Ely Hospital in White Pine County. As such, she has many responsibilities that demand her time and energy at present. Tracie said, “Right now I just want to get through the Corona Crisis and get back to having fun with my Rotary friends.” This is a sentiment we all share! Tracie said that the Ely Club is going to work on the Rotary Youth Exchange student program. The club also plans to add some additional fundraising while continuing to have FUN!

Area 11 Assistant Governor-Elect Kevin Dinwiddie

Dr. Kevin Dinwiddie (Kevin) will be completing his term as President of the Rotary Club of Elko Desert Sunrise in June. Many, including the current AG Helen Hankins, are enthusiastically looking forward to Kevin’s leadership in his new role. Kevin, a recently retired pediatrician in Elko, NV, brings considerable leadership experience, international experience, and a wonderful inclusive and effective way of working with all Rotarians and community members. Rotarians in Area 11 are on the front lines of community service whether currently meeting or not. The incoming presidents have a great focus on strengthening their clubs, building membership, and expanding youth programs and community service. Onward we go!

FEATURE STORIES

May RYE Corner

Carrying the gift forward

My name is Elizabeth Everest and I was a Rotary Youth Exchange (RYE) Student from District 5190 to District 3340 in Thailand in 2014. For those of you who have participated in the RYE Program, you know what an incredible and life changing experience this can be for the young people which Rotary supports. Through RYE, students get to spend a year in a foreign country which becomes home. At 18, my choice to spend a year in Thailand was motivated by a “go big or stay home” philosophy. I chose a country that I felt offered something completely different from my life in Carson City, Nevada. As we prepare for our exchange, we are told that if we say yes and stay open to adventures, both large and small, we will grow over the course of the year in ways that we cannot imagine. I would say with absolute certainty that this was true for me. Looking back, I gained and grew more than I could have dreamed from my exchange and it has affected every major decision in my life since my return in 2015.

I am now 23 and most recently my journey inspired me to apply for the Fulbright U.S. Student Program to conduct research on fisheries in Cambodia. I was delighted and honored to be selected as a finalist for the program on the first of this month, April Fool’s day notwithstanding. But my selection as a scholar for this prestigious program began almost exactly 6 years ago in early 2014 when I found out that I would be spending my year abroad on the small island of Koh Chang in South Eastern Thailand. I was thrilled. Not only would I be traveling to a country with a culture far different from the US, I would be venturing away from my high desert home to a tropical wonderland. Now, I did not spend all of my time on the island. During the week I attended Thai high school on the mainland and lived in a city called Trat. It was there that I learned to speak Thai and fell in love with street markets and spicy food. On the weekends however, I could be found in the ocean. My host father taught me to freedive and SCUBA dive and we would spend hours exploring the beautiful coral reefs of the Gulf of Thailand. It was here that I fell in love with the otherworldly forms of life under the waves and decided that I wanted to spend my life protecting the beauty of the underwater world.

When I returned to the U.S. I declared my major in Biology at the University of Nevada, Reno (UNR) and began my next adventure. Throughout my undergraduate education, I constantly sought new opportunities to learn about aquatic environments and spend time underwater. I took classes on lake chemistry, oceanography, fish anatomy, and wildlife populations. Inspired by my memories of the beautiful corals and fishes in my Thai home, I studied how to preserve and protect wildlife in an increasingly dynamic and challenging climate. I conducted marine research in California with the support of UNR's Marine Ecosystems Analysis Laboratory and I spent summers collecting data on Lahontan Cutthroat Trout in Northern Nevada with the Nevada Department of Wildlife. I also continued my favorite pastime – SCUBA diving. With the help of several wonderful instructors working with local dive shops, I became a professional diver and helped them teach hundreds of people how to dive here in Lake Tahoe.

When I graduated from UNR, I was searching for a job opportunity which would allow me to SCUBA dive and conduct research. I was ecstatic to accept a position with the UNR Global Water Center (GWC) conducting underwater research on invasive plants in Lake Tahoe throughout the summer of 2019. I had also worked with the GWC in January 2019 to help with a project in Cambodia conducting interviews with local fishers and gathering data on important fish species. This research brought me back home to Southeast Asia and I was able to visit my host parents for the second time since my exchange. I was already deeply connected to the study area due to my year abroad and I was so inspired by the work being done to support local peoples that I wanted to continue.

My mentors at the GWC helped me draft a proposal for the Fulbright Program to fund 10 months of research in Cambodia on fisheries. Reading about the Fulbright's goal of encouraging international cooperation and understanding through cultural exchange, I felt right at home. I knew the power and beauty of the bonds that could be formed across oceans through these types of programs because I had seen it through RYE. I heard the call for another "go big or stay home" adventure. I was enticed by the opportunity to spend another year discovering a new culture, conversing in a new language, and building a home in a new place. Through my Fulbright project, I hope to contribute to the understanding and conservation of an ecosystem and resource which supports millions, but I also want to contribute my skills as an RYE student to becoming a bridge, a link, between two countries with vastly different histories and cultural beliefs both working towards a better future.

Every step along this path has been inspired by what I learned in Thailand about my passions and about my emotional and mental fortitude. Without my experience through Rotary, I would not be the woman I am today. I can trace inspiration for my accomplishments and honors over the last 6 years back through many incredible mentors to local Rotarians encouraging a high school senior to take the plunge and travel to Thailand. As you know, your organization changes lives and I am just one of many thousands of people around the world who is grateful to Rotary International. I am one voice saying thank you for many others to District 5190 and the RYE Program. I hope I can continue to carry the gift I've been given forward into my future adventures, making my Rotary family proud and the world a better place.

Volunteer Surge

Are you concerned about COVID-19 and how it may impact your family, friends, and community?

Are you concerned about COVID-19 and how it may impact your family, friends, and community? A group of dedicated Rotarians developed Volunteer Surge, a program that trains volunteers to work in support of existing health care systems that are being strained to the limits. The program features an 8-10-hour online training program to prepare you to serve as TeleSupport worker or a 30-35 hour online program to serve as a Certified Nursing Assistant. The program goal is to train and make available a support base of 1 million volunteers. The program was presented by Rotary International Director Johrita Solari to the district governors and governors-elect recently and Director Solari has recommended that the program be offered to our districts.

In its simplest form, the program provides online training to volunteers and the trained volunteer's name is then put into a data base as part of a nationwide health care network. The volunteer would then be contacted by the network or a local health care provider with opportunities to serve in appropriate ways. The training is free, the volunteers would serve without compensation in a role they are comfortable with – either as an online person answering questions on the phone or via computer (TeleSupport) or actually working with health care workers (requires CNA level training) assisting with intake or providing directions to potential patients.

The website was opened April 2 and online training for TeleSupport workers commenced April 9. It appears the work assignment module is still being completed. If you want more information on the program go to www.theglobalimpactgroup.org or www.tgig.org. A direct connection to the training can be found at www.volunteersurge.com.

Does it work? Yes, it does! I wanted to volunteer so I signed up for the online TeleSupport training class, completed the training which is a modified and shortened version of Certified Nursing Assistant prepared by the Yale School of Public Health. The training is excellent, and the health care vignettes and videos are outstanding. Much of what you will see you may have experienced in life, but it serves as a good reminder of symptomology that health care workers must confront and communication techniques when dealing with patients.

This program looks solid and I am hopeful more Rotarians and their friends will join in this volunteer surge to help prepare our communities for what has arrived or is coming soon.

I presented the program to the Reno Rotary Club during a virtual meeting on April 20, and can do the same for your club if you meet online.

Supply and Repair of Ventilators and Personal Protective Equipment

Global Grant for Ecuador impacted by the Coronavirus

Global Grant (GG) 20-12081 will provide $150,000 for acquisition of at least 25 new medical ventilators, repair 100 medical ventilators and provide 100 personal protective equipment (PPE) complete sets. Medical ventilators are critical to saving the lives of those most impacted by COVID-19. Specialists in Ecuadorian medical equipment designed and are testing a low-cost medical ventilator under the sponsorship and funding of the Rotary Club of Quito Interoceanic Valley (RC-VI).

The specialist team demonstrated the ventilator to the Vice-President of Ecuador and the Minister of Health. Testing on pigs is scheduled for the week of April 20, with human tests to follow. They are moving as quickly as possible to achieve Ecuadorian approval of the unit. It is estimated that each unit will cost $3,360. Simultaneously, the team is locating sources of the component parts and securing manufacturing facilities for the production of the approved ventilators. RC-VI funds are being used to secure the component parts, testing, and government approval of the prototype, while GG Rotary funds will be used for acquisition of the ventilators after they are ready for delivery.

Additionally, our GG project will repair, at least, 100 out of order ventilators existing in different hospitals in the country. The project team is working to put these ventilators into operation for immediate use.

Ecuador projects that Coronavirus and COVID-19 will overwhelm the country's healthcare system in the next several months. It is imperative that the new, low-cost ventilators, the repaired ventilators and the PPE be in place as quickly as possible. Coronavirus cases are rising in Ecuador. The city of Guayaquil is Ecuador's epicenter and may well become the epicenter for South America.

The Rotary Club Valle Interoceanico (RC-VI), is the lead host club on this proposed $150,000 Global Grant to fund the repair of existing ventilators, purchase adequate PPE, as well as the purchase of new ventilators when they are available.

Joined by the 12 other Quito based Rotary clubs, RC-VI has enlisted Rappahannock - Fredericksburg RC (RC-RF) as their international partner. Funds pledged include $25,000USD from District 4400 (Ecuador), which will be matched by TRF, and $5,000US from RC-RF. The RC-RF funds will be matched by District 7610 and in turn matched by TRF; thus $5,000 from the local club becomes $20,000 of funding.

We need help raising the $150,000 or more to maximize the acquisition of new ventilators to be produced, the repair of more off-line ventilators, and the purchase of more personal protective equipment for the front-line health care workers. Global Grant Scholarship Candidates Sought

Global Grant Scholarships provide up to $33,000 to offset the cost of graduate study for no less than one and no more than four years of study in a foreign country. The sponsoring club will need to contribute $2000. The scholar's area of study and professional goals must clearly fit within one of Rotary International's Six Areas of Focus:

- Peace and Conflict Prevention/Resolution
- Disease Prevention and Treatment
- Water and Sanitation
- Maternal and Child Health
- Basic Education and Literacy
- Economic and Community Development

The ideal candidate will possess excellent leadership skills and potential for further growing in leadership and will be familiar with Rotary projects and meetings. The candidate will have excelled in academics and/or a vocation. The candidate will present himself/herself professionally and show a commitment to community service. The candidate will also have realistic well-defined goals, follow the 4-Way Test and be conscientious about meeting deadlines. A Global Grant Scholar cannot be a Rotarian and family member of current or past Rotarian. For more information click here.

		Made Goal

Even in this age of staying-in-place, the clubs in District 5190 are maintaining a 1% membership growth through the end of March.

Congratulations to the following clubs for achieving their year-end membership goals: Alturas, Auburn, Auburn Gold Country, Bishop Sunrise, Fernley, Placerville, Reno Central and Tonopah!

Leading the way in percentage of growth are Fernley (26% growth), adding 8 new members this year for a total of 39 Rotarians! Tonopah (up 24%) has added 4 new members since the start of the Rotary year bringing their total membership to 21. Placerville (also showing a 24% growth) has also inducted a net of 8 new members and now stand at 41 members.

Now is a great time to conduct a membership satisfaction survey of your club members to be sure members are happy with how your club is operating, and get some ideas for improvement. Go to <https://district5190.org/page/membership> and download the Membership Satisfaction Survey. Tailor it to your club, and email it out to your members!
