May 23, 2016 Meeting Notes

The meeting was held at Lyman Gilmore Middle School

John Peplowski led the Pledge of Allegiance
Sid Salcido presented the thought of the Day.

President Bob Long provided the following announcements:

- In July, members may make payments using the "Square" credit card system.
- The Gold Country Challenge committee recently met to begin planning for next year's event.
- On August 19th, the club is set up to attend a River Cats game.
- The club received a thank you letter from the Lyman Gilmore 6th grade staff thanking Rotary for donating funds for students to attend this event.

Rod Fivelstad announced that the International Rotary Convention will be held in Atlanta Georgia in June 10-14, 2017. He encouraged members to attend, as this will be the closest International Convention for a while. Registration is $265.

Eric Trigg attempted to sell leftover sandwiches, that he so kindly made (not), and several members kindly offered to purchase them. Later in the meeting some leftover sandwiches were given away for free. Consider the Four Way Test: Is it Fair to all Concerned?

President Bob Long graciously gave members the opportunity to share and of course be fined. Dave Peeler volunteered to be a bell ringer, but stated he would be unable to do so since President Bob forgot to bring the bell, but he was saved by the bell, when Kris Stepanian produced an electronic bell on her smart phone. So the show went on and Dave shared that he suffered through a trip to Peru and he was subsequently fined.

Markus Moore was given the chance to share, passed, and was fined $10 for saying nothing. Sid Salcido (Salvation Army) who kindly supplied the pots and pans for the Gold Country Challenge event was fined for his kindness. Fortunately, the program began and no one else was fined.

Chris Roberts, principal of Lyman Gilmore, welcomed our Rotary members, and introduced Becky Browning, the director of the musical theater program. The students in this program then performed several scenes. Chris Roberts then introduced Mr. Frantz, and the Gilmore Marching Band. The band performed several numbers.

George Grayeb was selected for the raffle, but alas, he drew a white marble. The question came up, was the black marble in the pot? Could this be a conspiracy?

President Bob adjourned the meeting.

Congratulations Alexander!
