Guest speaker was TV weather reporter at KGMB, Guy Hagi emphasizing the preparedness for the coming hurricane season. Guy Hagi's mom told him he had a perfect face for radio. He began his career in marketing which he turned into surf marketing as an expert surfer. As a surfer one is very cognizant of the weather and how it effects tides and the surf. He showed a graph of typhoons through the pacific region over the past year and how the many storms missed the islands. Mr. Hagi stated that no one should ever die in a hurricane, as an example he asked the difference between a Zombie and a hurricane. You can run away from a hurricane and go to a shelter. People seem to think they can ride out a hurricane. With winds of 125 mph it can toss a 40 foot container down the road which happened in Kauai during Iniki. Emphasis is on getting to a shelter and with technology today there is ample time to get away from an approaching storm. If entering a shelter be aware that the shelter is completely empty. There is not cots, blankets pillows, water or food available. Anything you feel you need you must bring including any entertainment. You could be in the shelter for a week or more and there will be no electricity, radio or TV as well as communication available at this time. All police, military personnel will be busy for the most sever cases. Phone lines will be out as well. Again, be prepared!

Three recipients of the Paul Harris contributions.

Oran Spotts and Miki Mae with their Paul Harris plus 2 and Jack Hinton with his unprecedented Paul Harris 5 reward.

Here's a year-end tax tip: Buy a Polio Plus Volcano mug, donate $10 to Polio Plus and get tax deduction for your donation. Email Charlene Meyers at CharleneVolcanoRotary@gmail.com or call DG Del Green at 808-523-2363 to get a case of mugs (36 in a case). Did you know we are down to only 2 countries with polio cases?

Also wanted to let you know that the District Conference early registration fee deadline has been extended to December 31, 2015. See flyer attached.

One of the conference keynote speakers is Deepa Willingham of the Rotary Club of Santa Ynez Valley, who was recognition on International Women's Day as a woman who works tirelessly on behalf of others, and whose efforts touch lives across the world, often in remote and inhospitable places.

Willingham is founder and chair of PACE Universal (Promise of Assurance to Children Everywhere), a nonprofit organization that educates girls in the world's poorest areas and works to prevent child trafficking. Working with Rotary clubs around the world, the center she formed provides education, microloans, health care, clean water and sanitation, and community infrastructure. "Together, we have created a site that is affecting the lives of 30,000 to 40,000 people," Willingham says.

Check the district website at rotaryd5000.org for more conference information (link on the bottom section of the home page.)

Naomi Masuno, District Treasurer

Congratulations to the following members who were voted in to lead our club in 2016-17! Let's please give them all of our support as they are leading OUR club. Be active, be engaged, be giving, be there.
