Laine Kohama is with Giga Island an IT company and also the current president of the e-club of Hawaii. He spoke to us about issues pertaining to the securing of your internet activities.

"Solutions to Keep the Bad Guys at Bay While Online" 350k malware are released every day and antiviruses are only about 75% effective. For wireless networks you should look for WPA2 AES. There are different types of encryption for wireless. Make sure that Oceanic/Hawaiian Telecom set your wireless up on WPA2 AES. Bluetooth should be turned off on your phone when not needed. There is a recent vulnerability with Apple Airdrop. To surf the web anonymously use search engine called "tor". With this, the government cannot see where you're surfing. To search anonymously use the website DuckDuckGo. If your identity is compromised do a credit freeze through all three credit bureaus so no one can open an account in your name. Equifax, Experian and Transunion.

Inspirational Moment - Jamie Apuna

Inspirational moment was a bit different this week as each member had their own inspiration given to them in an envelope. Example was "Find Joy in the Journey"

by Thomas S. Monson
