WPRC MISSION STATEMENT

Serving and enriching our community through leadership and learning

Preserving Paul Harris mementos

Rotary members past and present hold Paul Harris in high regard for his role as the founder of Rotary and his vision for fostering friendship and international understanding. Rotary's archives include letters and gifts from members to Harris during his lifetime that reflect this admiration.

Rotary International is committed to preserving Rotary's legacy and honoring key figures in our history. We achieve this through building and maintaining an archive that accurately and effectively documents the history of Rotary. As part of this effort, archivists at Rotary's World Headquarters in Evanston, Illinois, USA, worked with a professional paper conservator to treat four hand-crafted gifts to Paul Harris.

All four documents were spot cleaned using a dry process that reduces superficial dirt. Before being placed in custom storage mats as a preservation measure, the three items made of vellum underwent additional conservation work to stretch and flatten them after being rolled for an unknown number of years. Conservation of one document made of paper included mending tears with Japanese tissue paper and wheat starch paste.

Harris' visit to the port city of Guayaquil, Ecuador was commemorated by the Rotary Clubs of Cuenca and Riobamba with beautifully illustrated messages featuring hand-painted national and cultural symbols.

In January 1936, Harris and his wife Jean embarked on a three-month journey to Panama and several South American countries, where they met with numerous clubs. Several members joined Harris, introducing them to local customs and people, and providing language assistance.
