Welcome Jan Sinclair to dinner.

CORRESPONDENCE

Regretfully, Mree Keady-McCallum has resigned. Maree recently reported a change in her work hours which impacted on attendance at meetings. Whilst she thought this would resolve itself, this has not happened. She enjoyed her short time with us and we thank her for her valuable contributions over the past year.

PP Glenys, reported two letters in response to money spent during her presidency. Our commitment to send $100 per member to support the Rotary foundation was acknowledged by the foundation. We were congratulated as being one of the best in terms of support for their projects and we should be genuinely proud of our efforts which assist research in health.

Roger Veen acknowledged the support of $3000 for Rotary youth exchange. We had a number of candidates this year with Rose Kerr being successful. Rose is on her way to Brazil thanks to our sponsorship.

ADMINISTRATION

Ben reminded members of a board meeting tonight at Davis Keyser's office. Next week's speaker is a Key note address with MICHAEL LISHMAN, bring a friend. This will be about global economic issues.

Sundowner on 27 July at Roger Veen's place. We need at Sundowner for August- any takers see Ben.

With our current president at home with the flu, Naru talked about the need for vaccination and wash your hands. He reiterated that this was for community reasons as well as personal benefits. For over 65's vaccination is free.

FINES

John Carey carried the box. Apparently the 'boys' have a 'Goodies' (as in the TV show many years ago) luncheon this week and he forgot it was dry July.

Complaints from John Gillingham, some members attended a recent meeting, thinking it was a breakfast meeting and stayed there till 1 am.

Murray Harris was in trouble with his wife because his mobile phone went off during church. So he turned it off., and the rest sounds like an episode from the goodies!. Days went by....Helen was trying to ring him and could not get hold of him so she drove out to the paddock, where he was working. She got bogged, of course the mobile was off so he couldn't help. Eventually he was informed. He got the tractor out and he got bogged. Moral of the story; leave your phone on, but leave it in the car!

Ray Philp in the paper again. Self appointed DR Morris fined Naru because he believes alcohol stops the flu!

David K's wife is out of town so he is looking for a free meal but he also has the flu so don't invite him.

Zaki sneezed during the meeting - don't go around his place either!

COMPETITION

85 tickets sold tonight- well done!

On this day .....Nelson Mandela was born....In 1873' William Gosh named Ayers rock....
Big fire in Rome ....

David Geysler ( oh sorry, Keyser) was disappointed he won the raffle in dry July – he was hoping for wine – he has a meeting tonight. There is no accounting for accountants !!!!!
Gordon Golby also won chocies. Controversy over third place Sandro and John had the same ticket number.

SOUTH BUNBURY EDUCATION SUPPORT CENTRE CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

The centre caters for children from the southwest region with quite severe intellectual disabilities. One project involves early intervention with some main streaming/ inclusivity prior to year 1 which has been successful in socialising students ready for formal education. For some of the older students technology such as iPad/ smart board have meant students can now communicate what they know and request their needs using the touch pad technology. This has increased engagement and motivation, because it is interactive.

Other life skills projects include, sail into life, riding for disabled, cooking, shopping, and learning to swim.

PP Glenys presented a cheque for $2000 to Janet. Bruce thanked Janet and Naomi for their passion and dedication to the centre. Naomi has been a voluntary advocate but was recently admitted to chair of school council SBSEC. Janet Stokes, Principal of SBE, taught David Keyser in her first teaching appointment in Narrogin , no tales out of school though.

SOME GOSSIP

Murray Connop on a grazing diet has to eat every 2 hours- he's lovin' it and losin' it!

Ian Robertson attended a wine tasting event on the week-end , he learnt how the shape of the wine glass changes the taste of the wine. He was dinkum too- may be drank more than he tasted!

Kim Rudd is enjoying a significant birthday (70 years young) on the Gold Coast with family.

Bruce Lynch's birthday tonight- happy birthday, Bruce.

From: Chris Lloyd
Secretary

To: Club President
Club Secretary
Club Administration Directors
Club Members

Subject: MEETING MAKE-UPS AT AUSTRALIA'S No 2 'E-CLUB'

---

The e-Club NextGen is pleased to announce the club is open for visitors at our website <http://rotaryclubnextgen.org> for any Rotary club member wishing to do a meeting makeup.

Our website provides both written articles and video presentations for members.

It is a simple process, all members need to do is go to the Menu Box "Make-Up" and complete the Attendance form. You will receive a receipt back by return mail.

Being an e-Club limits the amount of funding available as our members are worldwide, so in order to have our club support Youth initiatives we ask that members consider making a donation when they do the Makeup. The e-Club operates PayPal on the "Make-Up" box
