VALE Rotarian Eli Ghasseb

Eli joined the Rotary Club of South Bunbury in 1992. Eli's favourite club project was the Children's Fair where he organised the very successful sausage sizzle.

Fellow Rotarian and good friend Colin Mitchell recounts when Eli first came to Bunbury and John Sibson arranged a job for him as a chef at the Bunbury Hospital. It was not very long before Eli started his own very successful business, Droolies Pizzas. Colin says they were the best pizzas in the south west.

Some years ago Eli went back to his old country to see his ageing parents. He travelled through many countries on this trip and on the way home he visited North America where he has some relatives. When asked at a Rotary dinner meeting if he enjoyed his trip Eli responded – “yes it was very good, but this country, best one in the world.”

Eli will be sadly missed from our meetings and the South Bunbury Rotary Club family extend our deepest sympathy to Naomi and family on their sad loss of Eli.

The funeral service for Eli will take place in the Greek Orthodox Church of St Nicholas Forrest Street Bunbury commencing at 10.30am Thursday (1-3-2012). At the conclusion of the service the cortege will proceed to the Bunbury General Cemetery.*

Dear Members,

A slight blowout in length of time of despatch and lack of information contained.

Obviously it is not my fault.

Photos only this edition.

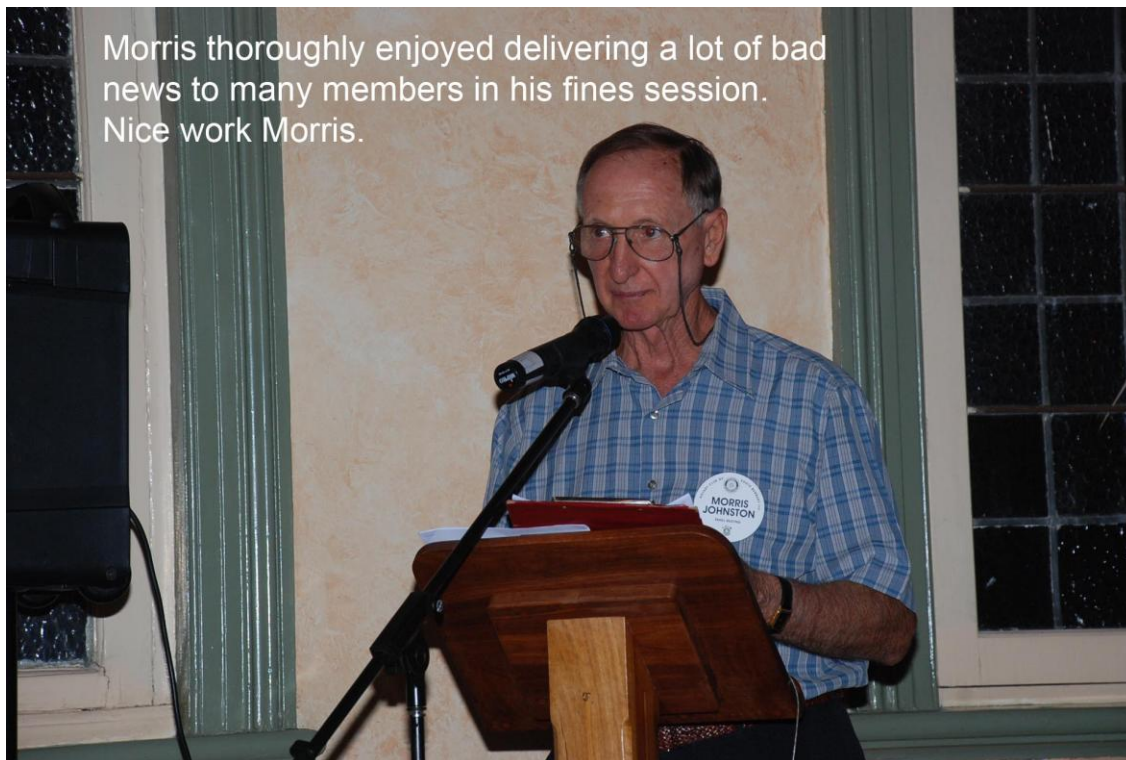

Guest, Jamie Challis, wins hands down in the "Who's Got The Biggest Hand Contest?" with Kim Rudd.

Retirees doing it tough
Three very desperate punters praying their number will come up

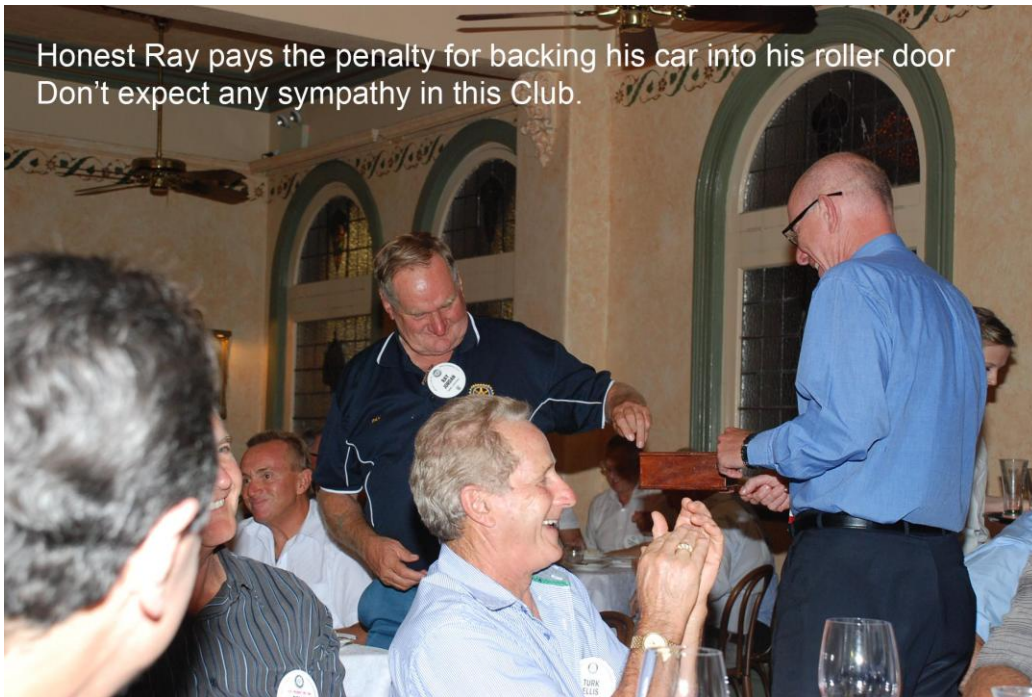

Morris thoroughly enjoyed delivering a lot of bad news to many members in his fines session.
Nice work Morris.

Murray Harris, as a black sheep, experienced tie envy.

Honest Ray pays the penalty for backing his car into his roller door
Don't expect any sympathy in this Club.

If I didn't know better, I'd pick the real estate agent to be on the left
