A FUNNY THING HAPPENED AT THE ROSE TONIGHT!

Now I am a novice when it comes to being a reporter but I think I have pieced this together well enough for publication.

President Jim was in a somber mood near the end of the meeting tonight, I think he was concentrating on his report to his superiors in District 9465. Jim was making sure to write everything down while it was still fresh in his mind, a very good habit for a President..

The events unfolded something like this....

Some unusual behaviour was noticed during the weekly meeting, intoxicating liquid substances were seen changing hands for a fee.

Law enforcement officers were called to investigate.

Before you could cry “wolf” there was one in the room!
This reporter was so scared he could not hold the camera still.

The DOG SQUAD was in the Rose Hotel and the dog was barking mad.

A quick talking and diplomatic Rod Downe soon reassured the policeman that there had been a misunderstanding, the premises were licenced and most of our members are well over 18yrs of age.

Rod is Membership Director and so he did what needed to be done...
He asked the policeman to join us
Not necessarily as a member you see but as a guest speaker.

Constable Jake Carruthers and his GP (General Policing) police dog Geoffrey did spend time with us.

Jake was our guest speaker for the evening and delivered a very interesting talk and then answered the many questions asked by animated members.

Thank you to Const. Jake for sharing your time with us.

MAKEUPS

Please notify Sgt. Turk Ellis of all activities that can be regarded as Makeups so that these can be officially recorded.

Getting back to the main story of the evening—the one about suspicious activities and police presence at the Rose Hotel.

It turns out there probably was some mischief on the go. The trickery happened in full view.

“Honest Ray” was spinning the wheel for the raffle as usual. He pulls out the first number and presents a bottle of wine and a “mystery prize” to Rob Geldert. Then the really unlikely turn of events unfolds. The second number drawn belongs to Anita de Wet, she gets a bottle of white for herself, “Honest” Ray then draws the third number which again, matches one of Anita’s ticket and hello she wins the Jackpot! OK so you can be lucky, but, “Honest” Ray then pulls out the fourth number and would you believe it—it is also one of Anita’s numbers, a trifecta, so she gets the last bottle of wine. Two bottles of wine and one jackpot on three consecutively drawn tickets....come on....!

No wonder Anita is smiling and President Jim is having difficulty finding words for his report. Perhaps we should have the police back.
