President's Message

As I look at the month ahead, I am entering March with an attitude of gratitude. Although February was a short month, we welcomed two new members, Paul Phillips and Dave LeFeber, to Avon Rotary. I am grateful that of all the ways they can give back to the community they chose to do so as an Avon Rotarian. Their remarks at their inductions were inspiring and affirmed the belief that they will be excellent Rotarians.

I am also grateful for the spirit and passion of our newer members as they step up to lead initiatives for our club. This month, we will be participating in the St. Patrick's Day parade. When Rhonda and Leann heard about this, they were inspired to act and are leading a team of people to create a wonderful float for the parade.

I continue to be impressed with and grateful for the number of Rotarians that come up with ideas to improve our community and club. This has come in the form of donation support, program topics, project ideas, recognizing community and club members for their outstanding achievements, and more. This energy and thoughtfulness is what keeps the Avon Rotary engine running and proves that we are all leaders.

I am grateful for our club filled with people of action.

Yours In Rotary Service,
Heather

Avon Rotary Club meets Tuesdays at 6pm at Avon Inn

February Highlights

At our February 5th meeting -

We gained a new member! Please join me in welcoming Paul Phillips to Avon Rotary. Many thanks to Greg Deragon for his guidance as Paul's sponsor.

On a sad note, President Heather announced to club members that were unaware, the sudden death of Liz Green of Avon Central and Steve Robertson of Lima Rotary. A tragic loss to family, friends and communities.

At our February 12th Sweethearts Dinner -

Past President Tom Vonglis stepped in to lead our evening. We began with the pledge, blessing and introduction of our special guests, including our Interact Club representatives. Throughout the evening a Rotary Sweethearts 'Then & Now' slideshow was playing, which includes members who have long since retired from our weekly meetings. It remains a fun challenge for our newer members to put names to faces and a nostalgic walk down memory lane for all.

A new addition to the Interact dessert auction was a 'substitute auctioneer'. Way to go Bruce Amey for giving it your all when asked to volunteer. His enthusiasm and energy was entertaining (not surprising).

Thanks to Shannon for even more entertainment with the 'not-so-new newlywed' game. The three volunteer couples; Vonglis, Vanderbilt & Lovullo competed questions and answers with the clear winners being Nick & Jamie, getting almost every question correct. Good times!

At our February 19th meeting - We voted on the 2019-2020 Slate of Officers. All in attendance were in favor of the following: Dom Lalisce, President, Heather Ayers, Past President, Julie Carney, President Elect, Jake Ayers, Sr. Director, Steve Csapo, Director, David Kilgore, Member-At-Large, Shannon DiFranco, Secretary, Kelly Cole, Treasurer. Congratulations to next year's board.

We also held a Club Assembly and heard reports from Kirk on Foundation, Jean on Literacy, Rodney on Corn Festival, Jake on Blue Jean Ball, Shawn on Scouts, Ed on Exchange, Heather on budget, membership and club goals, Laurie on our progress with the Presidential Citation. The club members in attendance enjoyed the update and appreciate the transparency the board provides. Our club is healthy, vibrant, growing and accomplishing goals! Keep up the good work everyone.

At our February 26th meeting - We held a new member induction and welcomed David LeFeber into our club. Many thanks to Rodney George for his guidance as David's sponsor.

Sofie's Update

It is unbelievable how time flies! I'm enjoying my stay so much, that I barely don't want to realize, that it also has an end sometime.

I have had some really busy but truly enjoyable months. Swimming and diving is over, and we ended the season as sectional champions! A really good and fun experience! I'm truly gonna miss diving and all the fun times I had with all the amazing people that were a part of the team this season! I have created invaluable friendships, that I couldn't imagine what it would be like to not have.

Besides this I'm also a part of the play. This year we'll be performing "Chitty Chitty Bang Bang," and I'm sure that it's going to be a fun experience too! I'm trying to get involved in lots of stuff, so that I won't have any regrets!

School is going very great, and I truly enjoy being a part of all the social relations! I truly enjoy the whole school and learning environment here a lot.

I'm very happy with Paul and Deidre too! I really enjoy being a part of their amazing and lovely family. They're a very active family, and I have experienced so many amazing things with them! They brought me to Washington DC, Niagara Falls, and Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania with one of the other exchange students! We always have lots of fun, and I truly enjoy staying with them. Soon I'll be moving in with the Masten's and I'm sure that it is going to be great too!

I'm looking forward to all the things coming up! The Avon-weekend is getting closer, and I'm really excited to show all the other exchange students the amazing community here in Avon, that I'm very proud and happy to be a part of!

- Sofie

Welcome New Member

February 5, 2019—Induction
Paul Phillips, Avon Rotary Bio
It was an honor for me to be inducted into Avon Rotary in February, knowing it was finally time to make my long-standing interest in joining official. Originally from Olean, NY, I have been an Avon resident since 1996 when our family moved to Temple Street from Rochester. In August, I'll celebrate 34 years of marriage to my wife, Deirdre, who taught at St. Agnes for many years and is now at Rush-Henrietta. We are fairly recent empty nesters and raised three children in Avon (Blair, Kate and Anna). What an idyllic place Avon is for raising a family!

I've worked my entire career in senior living, starting in 1989 at The Friendly Home in Rochester as a member of the Executive Team as a nursing home administrator and senior housing manager. While at The Friendly Home, I played an instrumental role in developing, building, opening, and managing Cloverwood, a retirement community in Pittsford. I then became CEO of two retirement communities affiliated with The Kendal Corporation, a Quaker-affiliated senior living organization headquartered in Philadelphia, PA encompassing 13 campuses in 8 states. Currently, I serve as Senior Living Specialist at LECESSE Construction, one of the nation's leading experts in senior living construction. LECESSE is located in downtown Rochester with a southeast regional office in Orlando, FL. We build for non-profit senior living sponsors in many markets across the Eastern US, with project locations spanning from New Hampshire to the Florida Keys. So, I spend a fair amount of time on the road.

My bachelor's degree in gerontology is from St. John Fisher College (Rochester, NY) followed by a master's degree in gerontology with an emphasis in long-term care administration from the Scripps Gerontology Center at Miami University (Oxford, OH). I have always had a passion for serving older adults both as a former direct service provider and now as a development and construction specialist. When the need arises and people seek my input, I am always willing to help friends and their families navigate the complexities of senior housing, assisted living, memory care, skilled nursing, and home health care. I don't pretend to have all the answers or know the "right" choice for each family, but when asked I'll gladly share my perspective during times of transition related to elder care.

For fun, I enjoy working on our circa 1834 village home, reading, writing, cooking, traveling, fishing, and making music as a keyboardist and singer in Bob's Brother's Band. BBB has been entertaining crowds with our unique brand of "rock n' soul" music since 2004 and we support many community organizations in and around Avon. I am also an avid "dog guy" and easily spotted around the Village with my golden retriever, Chipper. Chipper just turned 8 so he finally caught up with me. You do the math!

I joined Rotary because the organization gives voice, structure, and purpose to peoples' most positive instinct – community service. I look forward to learning much more about how Rotary is organized and the many volunteer opportunities available.

Among other interests in serving, I am particularly drawn to the Rotary exchange program. Our family has had two wonderful experiences as a host family, and we are currently hosting Sofie Hauge from Denmark. Our exchange daughter is a remarkable young woman who represents Rotary, her family, and her native country exceptionally well.

Thank you for the warm welcome to Rotary. I'm ready to get to work!

Avon Interact Club News

The Avon Interact Club is making great strides this year, working hard towards their Rotary Citation for Interact Clubs. One of the goals is to hold an activity to increase awareness during World Interact Week. So, on November 7th the Interact leaders ran our meeting, along with several other activities that week to help in our community.

At our February 12th Sweethearts Dinner, Interact Club President, Maggie Dempsey was presented a certificate for the club's participation during World Interact Week. Many thanks to Shannon DiFranco for her direction and leadership again this year as well as Ed Kime for his ongoing support of our youth.

Thank You From Maggie

This year was another successful year for the Valentines Rotary Auction. Interact members worked hard to create desserts to be auctioned off. Everything from chocolate pizza to Danish cream cake was presented. A big thanks to Bruce Amy, who stepped up to the plate and filled in the position of auctioneer for the night. He did a spectacular job! After many intense bidding wars, and good laughs, the grand total was $780! Interact would just like to say thank you to everyone who participated and helped us fund raise that night. We are so appreciative for all Rotary does for us through this auction and through the whole year. Thank you again!

Rambling On Rotary—March

Rotary Connects the World. This is RI President-elect Mark Maloney's theme for our next Rotary year. In an interview with The Rotarian magazine, RI PE Maloney said, "Rotary is like a United Nations of individuals." Whereas our club might not contain a wide array of different nationalities, we are a club of individuals with diverse upbringings and backgrounds. We are individuals with diverse dreams and aspirations. And, we are a club with a common desire to serve others in our community, our nation, and our world.

"Rotary is the original social network." How true that is. Rotarians are welcomed around the world and recognized as problem solvers. As our club has helped finance and put shovels in the ground to build schools in Nicaragua, we are building more than schools ... we are building goodwill. As we give to the Rotary Foundation, Rotary is able to support various projects around the world; projects that have almost eradicated polio from the earth, projects that have provided clean water to areas that did not have it, projects that have provided education and programs to advance learning, projects that assist mothers and children, and projects that help grow local economies.

The projects our club has undertaken have assisted women in Teresa House, have helped build schools, have helped provide food and party bags for the food bank, have raised funds for the Salvation Army, have helped build a home through Habitat for Humanity, have supported our veterans through Honor Flight and the Veterans' Outreach Program, have supported education programs in our schools, our donations to the Rotary Foundation support projects around our country and our world AND our support for the Foundation is returned in part to our club through Rotary District Simplified Grants so we can do more locally. Our club's Foundation goal is to have every member contribute at some level to the Foundation, it is important that every member have "skin in the game" supporting at whatever level you can so the work of the Foundation can continue.

Our club's Mission Statement is "The Rotary Club of Avon is an organization where service-minded individuals unite to provide resources and take action for those in need, which supports lasting change in our world, in our community and in each other." As Rotarians, we are people of action and our actions speak loudly in our community and in the world. Our actions and activities truly "connect the world". Being a part of the Avon Rotary Club is "the inspiration" for me. RI PE Maloney concluded his interview with The Rotarian stating, "I can't imagine a life without Rotary." Can each of us say that? I love that Rotary is a part of my life. And, as usual, I have rambled on long enough.

Optimism

"When we're feeling overwhelmed by negative headlines, we remind ourselves that none of us has the right to sit back and expect that the world is going to keep getting better. We have a responsibility to do everything we can to push it in that direction.

In that way, we've found that optimism can be a powerful call to action. And it has a multiplier effect: The more optimists there are working for a better future, the more reasons there are to be optimistic."

Rotarians Help Outreach Project

By: Katie DeGraff

For anyone who attended The Outreach Program's event at Partyman Catering on February 16th, I'm sure they'd all agree that it was a Saturday well spent, helping others!

For the 2nd annual "Up to our elbows in elbows" event, over 20 members of Avon Rotary along with family members, joined in to help package over 32,000 macaroni and cheese meals. The music was jamming to some 90's hip hop and no matter your age, you couldn't help but feel the beat and start moving to the music while you poured macaroni, sealed a bag, or taped a box (just ask Jerry!) With so many volunteers on hand, the day went faster than expected. With every box completed, the ringing of a cow bell helped celebrate the hard work. I swear I heard it in my sleep that night. In true Partyman fashion, they couldn't let their volunteers go hungry or thirsty! The team put on a true winter spread to say thanks for all the hard work.

The idea for this event came from one of Partyman's employees a couple years ago and she brought it to owner, Joe Yantachka's attention. The idea of helping others is exactly what the Avon community is all about. Avon Rotary is proud to be a part of all the good that came from the day.

As we near the end of our Foundation drive for this Rotary Year, I thought I would update you on a few things. We are closing in on our goal of 100% participation with contributions to the Foundation (currently at around 75%). Between the Club and individual donations we are over $15,000. Our participation is so important for many reasons. The main one being the fact that the Foundation is the life-blood of the amazing things that WE as Rotarians accomplish all around the world every year. From polio eradication, providing clean water, or promoting world peace, OUR contributions are indeed doing good in the world. Another reason is, as our FAD (Foundation Area Director) Bob Owens mentioned last night, and the reason I capitalized "WE" and "OUR" in that last sentence. These are OUR projects, and our mission, and to WE should indeed, as Bruce Amey likes to say, "have skin in the game." Remember that our contributions to the Annual Fund do come back to us to fund local projects in the form of District Simplified Grants (DSG). It was a DSG that enabled our partnership with Liz Green and Avon Central to sustain her signature Backpack program that we should all be so proud of. Also, under the direction of PE Dom, we are currently working towards a DSG to help with an adult literacy program for local immigrant families. These are all great projects, and opportunities to see our hard work and our Foundation dollars put to good use. Let's all do our part by making sure we all contribute at a level with which we are comfortable.

To that end, at next week's meeting (the 5th) we will be holding a "Give Me 5" campaign. In lieu of our regular 50/50, we will have a table set up to accept your $5 contributions to both the Annual Fund and PolioPlus. Every $5 dollar donation will be accompanied by a raffle ticket. A winning ticket will be drawn at the end of the meeting as is customary, and the winner will receive 100 bonus Foundation points from the Club. All donations will be noted and credited to your Foundation account. This will be a good opportunity for those who have "forgotten" too contribute to do so, and also maybe do that little extra for PolioPlus where your dollars are matched 2 for 1 by the Gates Foundation.

As always, I also would encourage everyone to consider making a recurring donation online through a RotaryDirect Account. Monthly, quarterly, or annual recurring contributions are an easy way to do your part and put you on course to becoming a Sustaining Member. RI has recently made changes to their website and has made managing your RotaryDirect account very easy. From your new "dashboard" you can manage your contributions very easily, including when you contribute, where you want contributions to go, and updating credit card information. Put technology to work for you AND humanity!! (I should copyright that).

So as we approach our 100% mark, on behalf of the Foundation Committee, and President Heather, I sincerely thank you. Avon Rotary ranks near the top in the District for our Foundation support, and for that we should be proud. Avon Rotary truly does ROCK!

GPEI News: This year is off to an intense start to maintain global momentum and resources for eradication. In January, the WHO Executive Board recommitted to supporting global efforts, and the incoming and outgoing Chairs of the Polio Oversight Board travelled to Afghanistan and Pakistan to witness and support the work of those countries. Health workers on the front lines vaccinated hard-to-reach children, drivers transported vaccines to warehouses, and surveillance officers worked to quickly and effectively track down the virus.

Funding is as important as ever so consider making a donation to the PolioPlus fund and the Gates Foundation will match 2:1.

The children of the world thank you!

Rotarian Highlight: Ted Coyne

Ted Coyne stands by the older of two big-box ambulances at the Rotary-Lions Ambulance garage in Avon.

By Robert Mellen

By the 1950s Avon's rich heritage had brought it harness racing, churches, a library, a fire department and the original Tom Wahl restaurant. But although the town had doctors it didn't have an ambulance. Fortunately it did have a civic-minded resident with a critical connection: Ted Coyne.

When a funeral home unsuccessfully shopped around a no-longer-needed hearse it turned to the Avon Rotary, where Coyne was a member. He saw a potential use for it and persuaded Rotary to get the hearse and convert it into the community's first ambulance.

So began Ted Coyne's association with the rescue service, and after nearly 60 years with it and about to turn 93, he has decided to step down.

His leadership, contributions and advice were critical during those years but in the beginning "we didn't know what we're doing but it couldn't get in worse shape. You start from there," Ted said. "So we painted the old hearse white and put a red cross on it. We called it the White Ghost."

With that done, in about 1956, "we got the guys from Caledonia who had been running their ambulance. They came over and gave us a Red Cross training session and basically told us how they ran theirs," he said.

"The ambulance was equipped with a cot. There was no such thing as an electric gurney. If you encountered a guy who weighed 300 pounds you had a problem. But if there was any problem the police or fire department would come and help. And we had two or three dispatchers. My wife did it for years.

"We did very well. We got splints, slings and things that we picked up. We didn't take the ambulance out without a doctor. It was a big benefit for the doctors because if a doctor could get you to the hospital he could go on to take care of other patients.

"We ran the White Ghost for a year or so but when Caledonia bought a new one we investigated buying theirs. They wanted $250 for it and we didn't have it," Ted said. Today the cost of a used ambulance can easily top $50,000.

It took a bank loan but "we bought Caledonia's Cadillac and we ran that for awhile. We saw it was going to work. We could manage the ambulance and it was a benefit to Avon. So we wanted to get a new one," he said. But in the early '60s "we didn't have any money. It would have cost either $2,000 or $4,000."

"That's where Lions Club came in. They came up with half the money." Other donors included the three fire departments, the Legion and the VFW.

In the early '60s the Lions and Rotary decided to get the service incorporated "to get stuff on paper for liability reasons. We had a board of directors of five or six people," Ted said, and he was one of the original directors. Eventually three community residents were added.

After housing the ambulance in several places around town a garage was built for it in the '70s. Land was donated on South Street, Ted said. "We decided to build the building ourselves and damned if we didn't." Lumber and surplus trusses were donated "and we designed the building to fit under the trusses. We got it built and used it for a few years."

In the 1980s the village built town offices, a fire house and a space to house two ambulances. A second ambulance, a big-box type, was acquired and EMTs, including Ted, were trained. Eventually "it got to the point where doctors were getting scarce, and we were going out farther and farther. We got more and more people involved," Ted said.

Years later a vacant church became available on Lake Road that the directors bought. The price was reasonable and with a lot of voluntary help and donations it was converted into a large new home for two ambulances and a crew, complete with a bedroom, living room and kitchen. "We got it done," Ted said, "and we've been up here for six or seven years, maybe more." Currently two big-box ambulances and a "fly car" that does not transport patients are housed there.

But financial worries had begun to accumulate during the building purchase and renovation. Increased involvement by insurance and government requirements added to expenses. And even though "we still had a lot of volunteers, there were a lot of people who wanted to get paid," he said, because their education and medical training had been expensive.

Furthermore, bank investments no longer pay as much, expenses are higher than years ago, there are fewer volunteers now and there is no tax exemption for the ambulance service. Because the service is a non-profit agency it relies solely on billing and donations.

Asked if he was worried about the service's future. Ted said "Caledonia just gave up theirs. Couldn't get any help. I don't think we are in bad shape. But we lose a little money every month. And we don't get any great response to our appeal for money."

As to why he felt it was time to retire from the board, Ted didn't mention any money problems, saying simply "my term was up on Jan. 1. I said to have a guy 92 years old on the board and coming up for another four-year term is a little bit crazy. I had been in it for a long time and decided to let my term expire."

In honor of his commitment to the service for more than 60 years the Lions and Rotary installed a plaque on the converted ambulance offices. It reads: "This building is dedicated to Ted Coyne for his tireless dedication to the Avon Rotary-Lions Ambulance Service. August 19, 2012." Typically, Ted said: "That was a surprise to me."

His place on the board taken by Rotarian Tom Vonglis, Ted is still an active club member. Past President Tom said of his contributions, "Ted is certainly one of those people who is extremely invested in the community he lives in. His service on the ambulance board for over 50 years is a testament to his character and commitment. "Having known Ted for many years now I truly appreciate all that he has done and given in so many ways. He is a great example of the Rotary motto of 'Service above Self.'"

Rotary Treasurer Kelly Cole, who has known Ted for decades, said "Ted's always been like a father to me. He's very caring and a wonderful guy. "Ted's always been a service-minded person. He's always joined committees that work for community betterment. I can't think of anybody else who cares more about the community than Ted does."

Kelly's wife Janis, president of the ambulance board till last January, added that Ted is very generous. But apparently he's also very frugal. "When I first started to be on the board with Ted he yelled at me about a 25-cent phone charge," Janis said. "Somebody had called Canandaigua and it cost the Fire Department a quarter. He's truly committed to Avon."

Then-Assemblyman Joe Errigo gives Ted Coyne a New York State Assembly proclamation last summer (2018) at the Avon Village Hall. It was one of several proclamations honoring his 50-plus years of dedication to the Avon ambulance service.

Notes of Thanks....

Dear Rotarians,

Thank you so much for your ongoing support of our mission. We are so appreciative of your dedication not only to us, but to the community.

We gratefully acknowledge your gift of $1000 to the Teresa House.

Linda & Leah

Thank you everyone for your support with the desert auction! We raised $780.00. This always helps support our exchange weekend and offers more for donations to be given! We are also excited to be educating Interactors on polio and we will be donating to this too. Mark your calendar for exchange weekend, April 4th-7th.

Thank you, Shannon DiFranco

Thank you!
