NSW declares a State of Emergency

A very warm heartfelt THANKS to all our Firefighters and Volunteer Firefighters.....Words cannot express our gratitude for the wonderful work you do in saving lives and property.

Let's not forget people in the recent bushfires

The rain is very welcome, however many people in the areas of NSW, Victoria and South Australia are trying desperately to put their lives back together after their terrifying experience.

Let's not forget our Farmers ,,,it's still really tough out there

.You can help both the Farmers and the people affected by the Bushfires

While the Government has announced a rescue package, you can help in the following ways:-

Support for regional businesses hit by the drought.

Plan a trip to a drought effected area – stay in the accommodation, spend your money in their local businesses and help keep the town economically viable and alive.

Western Desert Nga

The Purple House story begins with some magnificent paintings...

Thirty years ago, Pintupi people from the Western Desert of Central Australia began leaving their country and families to seek treatment for end-stage renal failure in Alice Springs or Darwin. Far from home, they suffered great loneliness and hardship, and weren't around to pass on cultural knowledge in their communities.

So they decided to do something about it.

In 2000 Papunya Tula artists from Walungurru and Kiwirrikurra developed four extraordinary collaborative paintings which were auctioned at the Art Gallery of New South Wales on 11 November 2000, which along with a series of other work, raised over $1 million. That money started the Western Desert Nganampa Walytja Palyantjaku Tjutaku Aboriginal Corporation, now called Purple House, which developed a new model of care based around family, country and compassion.

Run from its headquarters in a suburban house in Alice Springs, Purple House's mission is 'Making all our families well'. Flexibility and cultural safety is at the centre of everything we do. It's the 'Purple House way'.
