President's Message:

Good morning everyone. What a great lunchtime meeting we had with Crows Nest Club at Norths. Thank you all for being there and being so receptive to all our guests. How could anyone not have been impressed by the North Sydney Club presentation and the room and the way Robyn looked after us all. The only 'elephant in the room' was the fact that parking was difficult due to the HSC exams being conducted in the auditorium. A big thank you also to PDG Lindsay May for attending and giving us the benefit of his wisdom and also to ADG John Tsang who can also always be relied on and who had arrived back from Europe just the night before.

Thanks again everybody and we look forward to the reciprocal meeting on Monday 7 November at The Union Hotel North Sydney at 12.30 for 12.50pm when we will hear the Crowies tell us about their many achievements. We need to present a show of strength on that day.

This coming Thursday we have a very interesting guest speaker in Chris Ireland speaking on the subject of "What is the role of Social Housing in Kirribilli, and why should we care"? Chris is an internationally acclaimed photographer and will give us an insight into the circumstances that lead people to Social Housing, exploring the stories of some of the Greenway Residents in Kirribilli. Chris questions a widely held myth that people bring circumstances upon themselves, presenting a complex, intimate and personal account of life as told by his subjects. Chris's project aims to increase the connections between all members of this great community through his photography and storytelling.

Kind Regards

Geoff Pritchard OAM
