LEST WE FORGET

*"They will not again experience the beauty of our Country,
See the seasons change, enjoy nature's chorus.
All we enjoy we owe to them, men and women who lie buried in the earth of foreign lands and in the Seven seas."*

Dedicated to the memory of Australians who died overseas in the service of their country and so preserved our heritage, freedom and democracy.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Tonight

Tonight is our annual night of Remembrance, the start of a 24 hour period where the Remembrance of our fallen soldiers and the ones lucky to return home are remembered all over Australia, New Zealand, Gallipoli and many parts of the world.

They were men and women from all walks of life who left our shores to fight for the freedom of our country which we enjoy so much today.

We are very pleased to welcome back to the club, our Past President, Richard Wilmott to talk to us about his family's involvement in war.

Last meeting

Again we heard from Dr Ian Garrard on infrastructure projects within our city. Ian is always most interesting and keeps us up-to-date with his fabulous knowledge.

Malcolm Pilcher

By now everyone would have received an update on Malcolm's operation and the long slow recovery process. We all wish Malcolm the very best and look forward to him returning to our meetings. Malcolm does enjoy a chat on the phone, so why not give him a call.

My trip to Adelaide

Janette and I have just returned from a 3500 km trip to Adelaide and explored the vineyards of Clare Valley, McLaren Vale, The Adelaide Hills, Echuca and Mildura and of course the City of Adelaide and surrounding areas.

It was great to see that in most townships were Rotary signs or signs of Rotary's great work such as Parks, playgrounds up and coming Art Shows or Book fairs. It such a long way to drive but well worth the miles when you arrive.

I think Adelaide must be the nicest city in Australia.

President Peter

Program

6.00 – 6:30 Drinks in Golf Club Lounge

6:30 Dinner

Welcome to Evening, President Peter Mckeown

Introduction of Guest Speaker Richard Wilmott by Ross Symons

Richard shall relate 2 stories from WW1 and one from WW2 which had a direct impact on some of his antecedent family.

Richard's fathers two cousins fought and died on the Western Front. One of the cousins (Charles Aitkens) wrote continuously to his mother from the war until his death in battle in 1918.

Richard has just discovered that his mother donated those letters to the Australian War Museum in 1926 and his family has obtained copies of the letters. He shall read some of these in which Charles describes, amongst others things, his experiences at Gallipoli.

Richard's Grand Father, Allan Crouch, also fought in WW1. His war ended in France when he was shot 4 times on the first day of the battle of Fromelles on 19 July, 1916 . He survived and lived into his mid seventies.

Richard shall conclude by discussing the 1942 shooting of 22 Australian nurses by Japanese soldiers on Bangka Island in the Dutch East Indies (now part of Indonesia). One of those killed was his father's sister... his Aunt, Bessie Wilmott. One nurse, sister Vivian Bullwinkle, miraculously survived to later tell of the massacre.

The Meeting will conclude with the reading of the Ode;

They shall grow not old, as we that are left grow old;
Age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn.
At the going down of the sun and in the morning
We will remember them.

(Response by all) We Will Remember Them

National Anthem

The 31st October 2017 marked the Centenary of Basheeba and the Legend of the Light Horse. Beersheba, a heavily fortified town 43 km from the Turkish bastion of Gaza, was the scene of an historic charge by the 4th Light Horse Brigade on 31 October 1917. Beersheba anchored the right end of a defensive line that stretched all the way from Gaza on the Mediterranean coast. After two failed attempts to attack Gaza frontally it was decided to outflank it by turning the Turkish line around Beersheba.

The greatest problem for Lieutenant General Harry Chauvel, commanding the Desert Mounted Corps, was to find sufficient water in the Beersheba area for his mounted troops. Information from reconnaissance revealed that there was none other than at Esani which was too far to the west to be of any use for a surprise attack. Chauvel, through studying the records of the Palestine Exploration Fund and after questioning local Arabs, knew that the larger ancient towns in the area to the south and south-west of Beersheba must have had existing water supplies. At Asluj the old wells were found and a fortnight's work put them into working order. This made the attack on Beersheba a feasible operation.

The attack was launched at dawn on 31 October but by late afternoon the British 20 Corps had made little headway toward the town and its vital wells. Lieutenant General Harry Chauvel, commanding the Desert Mounted Corps, thus ordered the 4th Light Horse Brigade forward to attempt to secure the position. Brigadier William Grant responded by ordering light horseman of the 4th and 12th Regiments to charge at the unwired Turkish trenches. Employing their bayonets as "swords" the momentum of the surprise attack carried them through the Turkish defences. 800 horsemen charged out of the desert and just leapt over the trenches straight into Beersheba town, capturing the water wells and all of the town. The water supplies were saved and over 1,000 Turkish prisoners were taken. The fall of Beersheba thus opened the way for a general outflanking of the Gaza-Beersheba Line. After severe fighting Turkish forces abandoned Gaza on 6 November and began their withdrawal into Palestine.

Bronze Statue in present Israeli town of Be'er Sheva, aka Beersheba, commemorates the 1917 Charge of the Light Horse Brigade against the entrenched Ottoman forces.

Facts about Australian Horses involvement in World War 1;

- Australia sent 136,000 horses into battle during World War 1, shipping them to Europe, the Middle East, Africa and India.
- The backbone of the equine force was the WALER -wiry and resilient and deriving its name from the main breeding ground of NSW
- WALTERS carried up to 150 kg, including the rider and could go for more than 2 days without water
- Only 31 troopers and 70 horses from the 4th Light Horse Brigade were killed in the Beersheba Charge
- At the winding up of the War, and for quarantine and financial reasons it was not possible to return the horses to Australia - except for one.
- The only horse ever returned, a WALER known as Sandy, and owned by Major General Williams (killed at Gallipoli) in 1918, and lived out its days at Maribyrong in Victoria
- The other horses not killed in battle, were passed to the British and Indian armies, or put down often by their troopers
- The Light Horse Brigade at Beersheba was re-enacted in the 1940 major movie "Forty Thousand Horsemen" and in the movie "The Light Horsemen" in 1987.

THE ANZAC SPIRIT:

Courage under fire, grace under pressure, giving a hand to a mate.

ROSEMARY

Since ancient times this aromatic herb has been believed to have properties to improve the memory. Perhaps because of this, rosemary became an emblem of both fidelity and remembrance in literature and folklore. Traditionally, sprigs of rosemary are worn on ANZAC Day and sometimes on Remembrance Day. Rosemary has particular significance for Australians, as it is found growing wild on the Gallipoli peninsula.

The Seventh Pattern Rising Sun Badge 1991

The current design was produced with 'The Australian Army' on the scroll and the removal of the Federation Star and heraldic wreath.

The Rising Sun Badge was originally called the General Service Badge, but it is now officially labelled the Australian Army Badge. It will, however, always be referred to as the Rising Sun Badge.

RED POPPIES

During the First World War, red poppies were among the first plants to spring up in the devastated battlefields of northern France and Belgium. In soldiers' folklore, the vivid red of the poppy came from the blood of their comrades soaking the ground. In English literature of the nineteenth century, poppies had symbolised sleep or a state of oblivion; in the literature of the First World War a new, more powerful symbolism was attached to the poppy – the sacrifice of shed blood.

AUSTRALIAN WAR MEMORIAL ROLL OF HONOUR

Poppies adorn the panels of the Australian War Memorial's Roll of Honour, placed beside names as a small personal tribute to the memory of a particular person, or to any of the thousands of individuals commemorated there.

This practice began at the interment of the Unknown Australian Soldier on 11 November 1993.

SENTIMENTAL MOMENT - APRIL 2016

Tim, the husband of one of Ro Symons' closest school friends, places a poppy adjacent to the name of his great uncle, on the Roll of Honour in the Memorial.

EARLY COMMEMORATIONS OF ANZAC DAY

The 25th of April was officially named ANZAC Day in 1916. It was marked by a wide variety of ceremonies and services in Australia, a march through London, and a sports day in the Australian camp in Egypt. In London over 2,000 Australian and New Zealand troops marched through the streets. A London newspaper headline dubbed them “the knights of Gallipoli”.

Marches were held all over Australia; in the Sydney march, convoys of cars carried wounded soldiers from Gallipoli attended by nurses.

For the remaining years of the war, ANZAC Day was used as an occasion for patriotic rallies and recruiting campaigns, and parades of serving members of the AIF were held in most cities.

During the 1920s ANZAC Day became established as a national day of commemoration for the 60,000 Australians who had died during the first World War.

In 1927, for the first time every state observed some form of public holiday on ANZAC Day. By the mid-1930s, all the rituals we now associate with the day – dawn vigils, marches, memorial services, reunions, two-up games – were firmly established as part of ANZAC Day culture.

With the coming of the Second World War, ANZAC Day also served to commemorate the lives of Australians who died in that war. In subsequent years the meaning of the day has been further broadened to include Australians killed in all the military operations in which Australia has been involved.

ANZAC Day was first commemorated at the Australian War Memorial in 1942. There were government orders prohibiting large public gatherings during WW II, so it was a small occasion, with neither a march nor a memorial service. Since then, ANZAC Day has been commemorated at the Australian War Memorial every year.

Although the Gallipoli campaign failed in its military objectives, the Australian and New Zealand actions during the campaign left us all a powerful legacy.

The creation of what became known as the “ANZAC legend” became an important part of the identity of both nations, shaping the ways they viewed both their past and their future.

LAST MEETING - DR IAN GARRARD

Dr. Ian Garrard - The Environment and Construction

Who better to hear from than our own expert on this very topical and important subject?

Ian's professional career over more than 30 years has been in the field of project environmental assessment and management. He has a PhD in Environmental Assessment from the Colorado State University and a Masters in Chemical Engineering in pollution control from the University of NSW. Ian has worked for all the main players - Government, local government and developers.

As a Manager for the Environmental Division of GHD Engineers (one of the largest engineering firms in Australia) and more recently in his own business, Ian has been responsible for the environmental management and compliance of the day to day construction of major infrastructure projects

The importance of effective environmental assessment and management in our lives was illustrated by the current NSW Government's unprecedented urban infrastructure program for the Sydney basin. In the period 2017-2021 over $40 billion is being spent on major road and transport projects such as the West and North Connex Motorways, Sydney Metro Northwest and the CBD and South East Light Rail. Over $7 billion will be spent on hospitals and healthcare and over $10 billion on water sewerage and infrastructure.

Ian took us through the complex checks and balances for the planning, design and construction of a major infrastructure project. These included the process for environmental impact assessment with the starting point of the Environmental Impact Statement (often costing millions of dollars); public exhibition of the EIS; consideration of public and other submissions; assessment of the proposal and its impacts; consultation with the public and other stakeholders; and many other statutory requirements before Ministerial approval can be granted for one of these massive projects.

Questions resulted in very lively and humorous exchanges with Ian on the practicalities of construction with a critical focus on the CBD Light Rail project!

Neil Howie.

TOOTH PROJECT

Automatic hand piece oiler for TOOTH Project Dental Van

At our meeting on 23 January, President Peter presented Dr David Hancock with a cheque for $5,000 to enable the Royal Flying Doctor Service to install a much needed hand piece oiler for the Dubbo dental van which will automatically clean and oil the hand pieces.

The hand pieces are in use continually and currently have to be manually cleaned and oiled. Manual cleaning is unnecessarily time consuming and does not adequately clean the hand pieces leading to early deterioration of the bearings.

David has sent a photo of the oiler which has now been installed. It bears a small plaque to acknowledge our Club's donation of this important piece of equipment.

Report from Peter Lewis;

After some delay, managed to get the right paint from Dulux to eliminate some more vandalism on a private fence – Archbold Rd near corner with Bancroft (nr Roseville School).

This fence has been hit before but hopefully vandals will be deterred (talking to John Hepburn of Lindfield Rotary, the graffiti incidents in our areas seem to be decreasing. Fingers crossed!).

ABOUT ROTARY

Paul Harris

The world's first service club, the Rotary Club of Chicago, Illinois, USA, was formed on 23 February 1905 by Paul Harris.

Rotary is a worldwide organisation of business and professional leaders that provides humanitarian service, encourages high ethical standards in all vocations, and helps build goodwill and peace in the world. More than 1.2 million Rotarians belong to over 34,100 Clubs in 210 countries and geographical areas. Rotary Club membership represents a cross-section of the community's business and professional men and women. The world's Rotary Clubs meet regularly and are non-political, non-religious, and open to all cultures, races, and creeds.

The Rotary motto is Service Above Self.

OBJECT OF ROTARY

The Object of Rotary is to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise and, in particular, to encourage and foster:

- FIRST. The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service;
- SECOND. High ethical standards in business and professions, the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations, and the dignifying of each Rotarian's occupation as an opportunity to serve society;
- THIRD. The application of the ideal of service in each Rotarian's personal, business, and community life;
- FOURTH. The advancement of international understanding, goodwill, and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional persons united in the ideal of service.

ADVANCE AUSTRALIA FAIR

Australians all, let us rejoice,
For we are young and free,
We've golden soil and wealth for toil
Our home is girt by sea;
Our land abounds in nature's gifts
Of beauty rich and rare;
In history's page, let every stage
Advance Australia Fair.
In joyful strains then let us sing
Advance Australia Fair.

ROTARY THANKS

For the community, friendship and the opportunity to serve through Rotary, we give thanks.

THE FOUR-WAY TEST

1. Is it the TRUTH?
2. Is it FAIR to all concerned?
3. Will it build GOODWILL and BETTER FRIENDSHIPS?
4. Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?
