Edwin Wilson Club President 2011/2012:

"All the News that Fits We Print"

At the Bell

Ulhereas President Edwin and the AV Crew were off enjoying the snow at the Zone Institute in Tahoe, Harry Polley rang the bell at 12:15 to open the meeting. He asked Rick Wilson to lead us all in The Pledge of Allegiance. Karen Daniels led us in the usual rousing rendition of God Bless America. Frank Mayhew, reflecting on recent elections, chose appropriate suggestions from Will Rogers:

anything? If it works as good as the Prohibition one did, why, in five years, we would have the smartest race of people on earth."

> "If you want to be successful, it's just this simple. Know what you are doing. Love what you are doing. And believe in what you are doing."

Visiting Rotarians and Guests

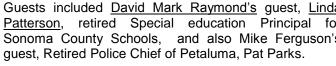

Bud Daveiro introduced visiting Rotarians Dan Bornstein from Santa Rosa, and, from the morning club, ADG Linda Sinkay, David Mark-

Raymond, and Michael McGlothlin - who, besides running the pre-meeting Pinot for Polio table, was celebrating his birthday.

Guests included David Mark Raymond's guest, Linda Patterson, retired Special education Principal for Sonoma County Schools, and also Mike Ferguson's

Announcements

Harry Polley then began the announcements with news that Monica Kretschmer's S.O., John, had shoulder surgery yesterday and came out of it very well. Harry reminded us of sad news, sent out on the club's email distribution, that Mark Fink's mother had passed away November 1 at age 88 and asked us all to extend our condolences to Mark. He added that new member, Maurine Doerken, will be going in for heart valve surgery on the fifteenth and we should keep her in our thoughts.

CALL AHEAD TO CONFIRM MEETINGS

Harry then congratulated member Robert Jacobs on being elected a new City Councilman – stating that "Robert certainly has his work cut out for him."

Harry also reminded us that President Edwin Wilson had sent out an email message about Hurricane Sandy detailing ways that we can help with recovery efforts.

Chris Dawson then came forward to recognize member Frank Mayhew as a special Rotarian who has made a special contribution to the community. Frank has served on the Board of Directors for Palm Drive Hospital until last Monday (A special cheer was heard here from Kathie Mayhew.) Frank was there from the start, being one of the group who created the Palm Drive

Hospital Foundation. Frank joined the Palm Drive Board in 2007 and has been a tremendous friend to the hospital since then. Chris related that, at a Monday meeting of the Palm Drive Board, Frank took a moment for a few words and took that time to be critical of one particular person, Rollie Atkinson, who twisted Franks arm to get him initially involved. Chris thanked Frank for all his contributions to Palm Drive and was joined in a standing round of applause by all.

Linda Sinkay then announced that that the Rotary Club of Sebastopol Sunrise is having its third annual Rotary Homecoming next Wednesday where they will invite all their former members to attend. She invited our members to attend.

Mike Ferguson announced several events for the Rotary Foundation including that he will be selling $100 tickets for the foundation throughout the month. He then reminded us that Michael McGlothlin is selling cases of special Pinot Noir for Polio (see attached sheet). Remember that $150 from each case will be sent in your name to Polio Plus.

Mike also reminded us of the special Asante Choir that entertained us last year and mentioned that Pat Parks, who he had previously introduced, is serving as the regional coordinator for the Asante Choir and that they are planning a fundraiser on December 2 at the CYO Center near Occidental. (See attached sheets for information.)

Harry Polley also reminded us that the Project Make Program at Analy High School will be having an open house on Thursday, November 15 from 6:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. (see attachment) Sebastopol Rotary Education Foundation is a major sponsor of this program.

Birthdays:

The first Birthday was Russ Tighe's. Harry asked "How many years?" and Russ responded "Excuse me? I don't hear very well." Harry added "I don't speak very loud." All was resolved with a $5 fine.

Steve Beck was fined $5 for his October 20th birthday that he celebrated in Georgia.

David Schreibman also seemed not to hear responding "Hi" after Harry's "Happy Birthday". He finally admitted that he spent the day watching rainbows and enjoying a day of his choice, followed by a nice dinner. Cost him $5.

Dan Rasmus admitted that his family took off to Disneyland so he was finding something to do. "Probably read." Fined $5.

Anniversaries:

Gene Nelson had an anniversary on September 11th. He got fined in September also. Gene paid $5 for the anniversary and $10 for having it wrong in ClubRunner.

Song of the Week:

Harry began this quiz with a hint: "In recognition of the world champion San Francisco giants we have a song of the week – announced in the Apple Knocker" – He then asked Karen Webb for the name of the song of the week. She responded she had no idea. "We are the Champions" by Queen, the right answer, was offered by Paul Yeomans. Karen was fined $5 for not knowing the song but Paul got hit $10 for answering out of turn.

Special Recognitions:

Kathie Mayhew was then accused of kidnapping someone, driving them all the way to Southern California. There's more to this story than a "hard of hearing" stand-in Scribe [-Ed.] could capture but it seems that Kathie discovered that a friend of hers had never been to Disneyland and so they conspired to take her there. They showed up at 8:00 a.m. on a Monday morning and drove to Disneyland, staying that night with a college roommate. They had a great time and brought her back to "Michael". Claiming that she was "already paid up", Kathie agreed to giving $100 to The Rotary Foundation and that was deemed adequate for the offense.

Greg Jacobs has a new member in his family. Harry first asked him what the score was on the Cal-Stanford game [Ahem! It's "Big Game". -Ed.] He "did not get to go" since he was "working the Lobster Feed". Asked again, Greg responded 21 to 3, Stanford winning. Back to the subject, he reported that his daughter gave birth to her first child at Alta Bates hospital in Berkeley — Name is Isabella. A hospital room was lavishly converted to a picnic event. Harry suggested a donation to the Rotary foundation but Greg responded he "was already considering that since his Son in Law had discovered 7,000 new amphibian species of <something> and it was reported on National Public Radio and he and his daughter had an article about a beetle.... Bottom line he paid $200 to the Foundation.

Dennis Judd's was shown in an old photo, wearing a snazzy sailor's uniform on a ship – somewhere on a river near Kiev. More photos appeared to be from a classy wedding – lots of smiles, a happy time – about $35 for the fine.

Dan Rasmus, Tom Dilley, six wheels on a new truck for $30, a new car $30.

Les Crawford did about 30,000 miles of traveling this summer. Harry seemed to be thinking about $35 in fines so Les had to fill in the blanks and tell about the trip. "After retiring June 30, went to Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, Flathead Lake, Grand Tetons then went to France and Italy... Rented a motorcycle and went to Tuscany." [Hardship case! -Ed.]

Sarah Gurney starred in a Women in Business newspaper article. Paid $20.

Dorothy Rodella was featured in article in Sonoma West. $20.

Bob Hirsch took a one month motorcycle trip starting in Reno, then to Tonopah, Las Vegas, then off to Redding to see a fish hatchery. Harry tried to get Bob to reveal names of accomplices so Mike Ferguson, Kenny, Bob Cary got stuck for $10 each.

Your Scribe Team didn't hear the comments but a gory photo of Harvey Henningsen with a large knife in his back reminded us that Harvey recently underwent surgery at Stanford Medical Center – the Day before Big Game.

Harry asked Michael McGlothlin to pick a couple of raffle tickets and then read out the first number "380305".

City Councilman-elect, Robert Jacob, had that ticket and proceeded to draw the winning Monopoly card.

The Program — David Still, "Immigration Update"

Dorothy Rodella introduced our member, David Still, who has had a long senior career with the U.S. Immigration Service. David joined the Immigration and Naturalization Service as an Immigration Inspector at Port of Entry Calexico, California in 1977. He transferred to San Francisco as Immigration Examiner in 1981 and was promoted to Assistant District Director in charge of Adjudications. He served extended details as Officer in Charge of the San Jose Office and as an examiner in Headquarters, Washington DC. David became District Director in 2001 in charge of INS for 49 northern counties of California – from Monterey and Bakersfield to the Oregon border. His staff included over 950 employees at 18 locations with responsibility for operations at SF International Airport, all immigration enforcement and deportation, and the adjudications division. With the reorganization in 2003, David was appointed District Director of the US Citizenship and Immigration Services branch of the Department of Homeland Security with the same geographical jurisdiction. He retired July 4, 2007. He and his wife, Nan, live in Monte Rio.

David began his talk with the reminder that Immigration plays only a partial role in people's moves from one country to another. Millions pass borders all over the earth, all the time. That flow is driven by "push" and "pull" forces and limited by intervening obstacles. The "push forces" – something that pushes you out of your home country – include revolutions, wars, famine, and diseases. "Pull forces" include a good economy in the new country, family members already living there, education and job opportunities, and other attractions. "Intervening obstacles" include border patrols, immigration laws, and, of course, geography (oceans and mountains).

David related the changes in laws and regulations during his career with INS and, later, DHS. He worked first under immigration law defined by the McCarran-Walter Act of 1952. It was designed primarily to keep out communists and was nationality based – that is, it tried to keep constant the percentages of people according to their original homes. (In other words, since there were already a lot of Germans, English, and Italians, then people from those countries had an easier time coming to the US than those of other countries. As a result, few Asians or Africans were allowed in.) Later on, this priority was relaxed to treat all countries the same but still, people who had family ties in the US were favored. The laws also favored persons with professional skills and assumed that people who want to be here had the eventual intention of staying – with permanent residency the goal.

From 1977 and into the 1980's there was a very open system. There were lots of changes in the world including revolutions and the fall of the Berlin Wall. There was a good economy and lots of jobs waiting in the US. The policy was "welcoming" and there was lax enforcement of rules. There were various special immigration and entry programs and no limitations on how long a visitor stayed.

September 11, 2001 changed everything and, in a few years, Homeland Security was formed and the INS abolished. Everything was shut down and millions of people were on long waiting lists (25 to 30 years, even for those who meet requirements!). It was even more necessary for people to have close family already in the US. Strict penalties were in place for people who had a record of illegal residence in the US – Six years of illegal residence results in a 5 year ban on entry. A year of illegal residence resulted in a 10 year ban. Fees for citizenship were raised.

There was still a situation where millions of illegal immigrants were/are in the US. The problem is hard to solve. David related how it would take two 747's every day, deporting illegal immigrants, some 32 years before all illegals could be gone.

There are newer themes in place today including a "pathway to citizenship", and a 1986 amnesty/legalization plan. Things were ready for agreement – in fact, Vicente Fox (President of Mexico) and George Bush had an amnesty deal... the day before 9-11. Prior to 9-11, the INS was an open operation, with lots of public contact, but, under DHS, all publicity stopped. The amnesty program was designed to keep out criminal problem people – It didn't work.

David then asked if any members have additional questions. Several spoke up:

One concerned the "Dream Act". David's response that it was symbolic, nobody could qualify for its rules.

Someone asked, in view of the recent US election, whether immigration law would be affected by ethnic vote. David agreed that was possible and might be a good plan.

A question was asked about the Bracero Program. David responded that the Bracero program was designed for temporary agricultural workers – If a worker tried for higher level work then his card would be pulled and he would be sent home.

Another question: "Silicon Valley – What about all the imported engineers?" David responded that it is effective in bringing in engineers and other specialists but a "Protect American Labor" rule capped the number of immigrants to 60,000 and that makes it hard for people to come here.

Harry Polley thanked David Still for his interesting talk and told him that we would be making a donation in David's name to The Pathway Home, serving Iraq and Afghanistan vets transitioning back into society.

He then rang the bell, closing the meeting at 1:30 p.m.

#42 Youth Exchange

Youth Exchange is one of the most popular programs to promote international understanding and develop lifelong friendships. It began in 1927 with the Rotary Club of Nice, France. Exchanges in Europe continued until World War II and resumed after the war in 1946. In 1939, an extensive Youth Exchange was created between California and Latin America. Since then, the program has expanded around the world. In recent years, more than 7,000 young people have participated annually in Rotary club- and district-sponsored exchange programs.

The values of Youth Exchange are experienced not only by the high-school-age students involved but also by the host families, sponsoring clubs, receiving high schools, and the entire community. Youth Exchange participants usually provide their fellow students in their host schools with excellent opportunities to learn about customs, languages, traditions, and family life in another country.

Youth Exchange offers young people interesting opportunities and rich experiences to see another part of the world. Students usually spend a full academic year abroad, although some clubs and districts sponsor short-term exchanges of several weeks or months.

Youth Exchange is a highly recommended program for all Rotary clubs as a practical activity for the enhancement of international understanding and goodwill...

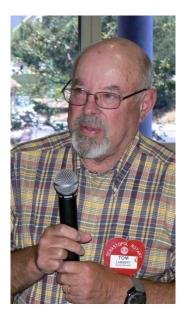

Membership Moment - Tom Lambert

WHAT ROTARY IS TO ME. It's working with friendly people who are not only willing to help, but want to help in any way they can. It's supporting many worthy causes, such as The Pathway Home's innovative treatment program that successfully helps returning veterans transition to civilian life. It's receiving the emotional support and meals provided by members during flare ups of our son's chronic illness. It's the kids' joy when they "graduate" from the shallow pool to the deep pool in the Learn-to-Swim program. It's hearing interesting and informative programs every week.

It's contributing to international projects knowing all the money is going towards projects, and is not siphoned off to bureaucracy. It's seeing the profound affect the Youth Exchange experience has had on our club's exchange students, including a father telling me that his son completed an internship in Amman, Jordan and a mother saying her daughter is now enrolled in Trinity College in Dublin, Ireland. It's also knowing that the exchange students our club hosts return to their homelands to tell everyone what Americans are really like, dispelling the common stereotypes. It's receiving a picture of a young woman in her graduation cap and gown surrounded by her proud family in Puerto Vallarta with a thank you note saying that her seven years of Programa de Becas scholarships made it possible for her to achieve her dream of graduating from college. — Tom Lambert

Will you join us as a Silent Auction Partner for a very special event?

Dear Potential Auction Partner:

Hope for the hopeless: that is our passion and our mission. For the last 9 years, Asante* has helped to create environments in East Africa where children are given hope for a better future and the tools to make that future a reality. Asante's work is accomplished through education, medical care and community outreach. We currently operate two primary schools and several children's homes in Rwanda and Burundi supporting more than 1,700 orphans and children from very poor families.

On Sunday December 2nd, 2012 at 5:00pm, the Asante Children's Choir will be performing at The Sound of Hope Benefit Dinner at The CYO Retreat Center in Occidental, CA. Your help would go a long way to make this event successful. We are asking local businesses and individuals to donate an item or service to our silent auction as a means of raising money for the first English-speaking school to be built in Burundi. In return for your generosity and with your permission, we will recognize your contribution to our guests in our banquet program. Your donation is tax-deductible where the law allows.

We thank you for considering an investment that will create lasting sustainability for one of the poorest nations in the world. Please join our efforts to change lives and bring the sound of hope to Burundi. If you have any questions, please call us at (503) 296-4853.

Will you join us as a Table Sponsor for a very special night?

Dear Potential Table Sponsor:

Hope for the hopeless...that is our passion and our mission! For 9 years now, we have been educating and serving the children of East Africa, a passion that was started by one young man, sponsoring one child. Through the last decade, our sponsorship has grown to support over 1,700 children. Currently we are extending our work to the country of Burundi, Africa, one of the poorest countries in the world. This letter is offering you an easy way to make a difference.

On Sunday night, December 2°, 2012 from 5-8pm we are hosting our Sound of Hope benefit dinner at The CYO Retreat Center in Occidental, CA. The night will feature performances by the Asante Children's Choir. These children, many orphaned, are 7-15 years old and are coming as ambassadors for their own country....they are the voice of hope for Burundi! The evening will also include a silent auction. We would ask you to consider sponsoring a table of eight adults for $250. Treat yourself and up to seven guests to a captivating night of music, food, and dance from Africa.

Our purpose for the night is to educate & inspire potential partners about our mission. We are excited to expand the ministry to help more children in need. In order to accomplish this we must grow our donor base. We would like the community to be familiar with our purpose and work, and feel this dinner is the best way to expand, with an informed base of people and companies.

We are asking for an investment that will create lasting sustainability for East Africa. Reserve your table of 8 now by:

- Clicking here or going online to www.asantechoir.org. Click on the Store tab in the menu bar and select the Asante Events category.
- Sending your check made payable to Asante to 1730 SW Skyline Blvd. Ste. 128, Portland, OR 97221.
- Calling the Asante office at 503-296-4853.

Please join our efforts to change lives and bring the sound of hope to Africa.

Sincerely,

Amon Munyaneza Executive Director, Asante
