Bulletin

No 1. 1st July 2019

Past President Stephen presided over our meeting tonight, President 2019/20 Wendy Cooper will be officially inducted on Sunday 7th July Well done Stephen you're style of governance was appreciated together with that welcome touch of humor that you brought to our meetings on a regular basis.

As we draw to a close 2018/19 we look forward to welcoming Wendy Cooper only our second female President in our club's almost 50 year history. The first being PP Genevieve Carr who presided over us in 2009/10. We need to be prepared for some things to perhaps being a little different in the coming year if our change-over meeting format is an example.

There has been many highlights during the year I'm sure President Stephen will touch on some of these as he presents his change-over address on Sunday.

Some exiting times ahead in the coming year, our 'Furniture-on-Line' project is underway, PP Mike Nella and his team are busily organising the impressive array of stock they have available stored at our premises situated at Gentle Road. Look for more information through the Facebook pages being set up.

A huge thank-you to our retiring officers, your club thanks you for the excellent service provided during 2018/19.

President Report

Welcome to the 2019-2020 Rotary year.

Thank you to Stephen for continuing in the President's role for my first official and yet pre-changeover meeting date.

Lee reported to me that Chris Oughton had agreed to speak on Monday night to update the members on his role at Kwinana Industries Council and developments on the industry in Kwinana. My sources tell me it was very informative and I believe we are lucky to have first-hand knowledge on such an important aspect of our city.

Plans for Sunday's Changeover are in place with an expected 52 attendees.

Payment beforehand or to Greg on Sunday.

Don't forget your Rotary medals, ribbons, badges etc.

Rug up with your dressing gown.

See you there.

Following Changeover on Sunday we will have a break on the 8th, returning for a "talk feast" on the 15th. Several topics that I would like to discuss included my arrangements for nights that I have council commitments and attendance in general relating to guest speakers. If you have any "talk topics" you might like to add to the mix don't hesitate to let me know.

PP Stephen Castelli
with guest speaker
PP Chris Oughton.

Chris is Director at Kwinana Industries
Council

Chris spoke to us about the future development prospects for the Rockingham/Kwinana area.

What was the greatest thing before sliced bread?

I used to be indecisive. Now I'm not sure.

The cost of living hasn't affected its popularity.

Polio This Week 26th June 2019

- Two new cVDPV2 emergences are reported this week in DR Congo; one from Sankuru province and one from Kasai province. Sankuru province is in the centre of the country and had previously not participated in mOPV2 outbreak response campaigns. However, it is neighboring known infected provinces, where mOPV2 response continues to be implemented. Kasai had already been participating in mOPV2 outbreak campaigns, as it had already been affected by a separate cVDPV2. Currently, total six, genetically-distinct cVDPV2 outbreaks affecting the country.
- One of the major factors that determines whether a child will receive vaccinations is the primary caregiver's receptiveness to immunization. The decision to vaccinate is a complex interplay of various socio-cultural, religious, and political factors
- Bayelsa State in the Niger Delta, Nigeria, is a riverine state with precarious transportation and rivers crisscrossing the land. Thanks to healthcare workers, community engagement and innovations in immunization practices, Bayelsa State jumped from one of the most poor-performing states in terms of routine immunization to be the second best in the country.
- Summary of new viruses this week:
Afghanistan—two wild poliovirus type 1 (WPV1) cases;
Pakistan— three WPV1 cases;
Nigeria— one circulating vaccine-derived poliovirus type 2 (cVDPV2) case; DRC— four cVDPV2 cases;
Ethiopia— three cVDPV2 isolated from healthy community contacts.

Guest Speaker: PP Chris Oughton
Director Kwinana Industries Council

KIC Director Chris Oughton tonight gave us an update on the future development prospects for the Kwinana Industrial Region, the continuing discussions about how to fix the truck congestion in and around Fremantle, plus the latest on the Kwinana Outer Harbour Plan. Westport is conducting a comprehensive analysis of the whole supply chain focused around the three port precincts at Fremantle, Kwinana and Bunbury.

Chris also spoke about ‘Synergies’ or local companies having a ‘synergy exchange’

When two individual companies exchange a manufactured product, or waste product, usually on commercial terms, this is known as a synergy exchange. Industrial symbiosis is where a whole cluster of industries have many exchanges going on – like in the Kwinana Industrial Area (KIA). These exchanges grow over time as more companies move into the area.

The synergies help to make the participating companies more internationally competitive, and this is good. It’s also good for the environment because one company’s waste becomes the input for another.

The KIA is referred to as the world’s best practice example of industrial symbiosis at work. The schematic maps the synergy exchanges as they were in 2013. We have on our doorstep the best example of industrial symbiosis in the world, right here!

Normally people talk about synergies as products and by-products, I say there are two more kinds: the ‘human resource’ synergy; and the ‘secondary industry’ synergy.

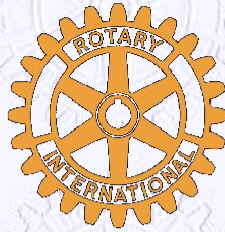

The ‘human resource’ synergy refers to the 30,000 highly skilled and experienced workers employed in the industrial area. Two thirds of these workers live locally, and choose to work here rather than away, and they will move between companies. When a new company builds its plant, it will more than likely attract workers from within the local area. The new company starts up with experienced employees.

The third synergy is the ‘secondary industry’. Surrounding our industrial area is a belt of companies that exist to service the nearby major industries. These are the expert fabricators, constructors and equipment maintainers. There is a strategic advantage in having these secondary companies present because aside from being on industry’s doorstep, they deliver top quality local content products and services.

There is a big, new wave of industry heading for Kwinana to set up their processing plants so they can take their place in the lithium battery value chain. Why? Because we have all three types of synergies in Kwinana, and few others do.
