Bulletin

No 10 2 October 2017

Greetings to all,

One of Rotary's strongest values has always been fellowship. Fellowship may be created through a number of different means, such as dinner meetings, planning an upcoming activity, working on a specific project, or social gatherings. Through fellowship members and partners are made to feel included within our network. This is a similar ethic to that of the organisation Befriend. This week's guest speaker, Jodie Papiccio, gave an interesting and informative account of the organisation. The organisation's growth has been most impressive since it was established eight years ago. In our society, people can easily become disconnected through long working hours, relocation, altered social situations, and numerous other means – hence the value of joining some club or organisation. From memories of my early days in Perth, during the 1990s, when I periodically felt isolated and disconnected, an organisation such as Befriend would have been highly valuable.

The Bertram Punjabi Club now have a new date for their multicultural event, after the forced cancellation of the September date due to bad weather. The event is now scheduled for Sunday 12 November. Unfortunately I will be unable to attend as I will be away that weekend. Hopefully some other members will be able to attend and give support to this very positive group.

At this point we are still sending our best wishes to Gail and Ian Critchley and their family as Gail is still battling major health issues. Our thoughts and prayers are with them at this time.

Personality of the Week

Paul Harris – Founder of Rotary

Paul P. Harris (1868-1947), a lawyer, was the founder of Rotary, the world's first and most international service club. Rotary is an organization of business and professional leaders united worldwide who provide humanitarian service, promote high ethical standards in all vocations, and help build good will and peace in the world.

Born in Racine, Wisconsin, U.S.A. on 19 April 1868, Paul was the second of six children to George N. Harris and Cornelia Bryan Harris.

At age 3 he moved to Wallingford, Vermont where he grew up in the care of his paternal grandparents. Married to Jean Thompson Harris (1881-1963), they had no children. He received an LL.B. from the University of Iowa and received an honorary LL.D. from the University of Vermont.

Paul Harris worked as a newspaper reporter, a business teacher, stock company actor, cowboy, and travelled extensively in the U.S.A. and Europe selling marble and granite. In 1896, he went to Chicago to practice law. One evening Paul went with a professional friend to his suburban home. After dinner, as they strolled through the neighbourhood, Paul's friend introduced him to various tradesmen in their stores. This reminded Paul of his New England village and it occurred to him "Why not have a fellowship composed of businessmen from different occupations, without restrictions of politics or religion?"

On 23 February, 1905, Paul Harris formed the first club with three other businessmen: Silvester Schiele, a coal merchant; Gustavus Loehr, a mining engineer; and Hiram Shorey, a merchant tailor. Paul Harris named the new club "Rotary" because members met in rotation at their various places of business. Club membership grew rapidly. Many members were from small towns and in the Rotary club they found an opportunity for camaraderie. When Paul Harris became president of the club in its third year, he was convinced that the Rotary club could be developed into an important service movement and strove to extend Rotary to other cities.

The second Rotary club was founded in San Francisco in 1908. In August, 1910, when there were 16 clubs, the National Association of Rotary Clubs was organized. When clubs were formed in Canada and Great Britain, the name was changed to the International Association of Rotary Clubs in 1912, and was later shortened to Rotary International in 1922. Paul Harris was the first president of both the National Association and the International Association. As Rotary spanned the globe, branch offices were opened in Europe and Asia. In 1932 the Four Way Test was created. Two world wars changed the face of Rotary and Eastern Europe was closed to Rotary until 1989 when clubs were re-established in Poland and Hungary. In 1990 the first club was opened in the Soviet Union.

When President emeritus Paul Harris passed away on 27 January 1947 his dream had grown from an informal meeting of four to some 6,000 clubs brought together through the service and fellowship of Rotary.

Guest Speaker

Jodie Papiccio

This week we enjoyed a presentation from Jodie Papiccio (pictured right in the right hand photo). Originally from New Zealand, Jodie works as a community builder for the organization known as Befriend. Befriend is a not-for-profit organization which focuses on helping people in the community to make new friends and connections, thus enabling a feeling of social inclusion. Befriend specially aims to address the need of people at risk of feeling isolated through having difficulty establishing connections e.g. newcomers to the city, FIFO, recently bereaved. Befriend was established eight years ago, and consists of a small team of personnel having an array of skills for building community connection, together with some volunteers. Jody's team is based in Kwinana; another team operates in Nedlands. Members of the community are invited to join the organization. Currently there are approximately 6,500 members in Perth.

The purpose of Befriend is to bridge the gap between individuals, helping them to find social connections. As stated, “Our mission is to make it easy for people to get connected, whilst simultaneously influencing attitudes and values to be included. Research has shown that a more connected society is more likely to enjoy greater fulfillment and better health. The expressed needs that Befriend aims to meet are: social inclusion, natural, genuine friendships, enduring relationships, fun and enjoyment, and community participation.

Befriend encourages social connections by organizing a range of social events. Approximately 40-50 events are held every month, with different volunteers hosting at different activities. Social activities include coffee catch-ups at a local café, movies, social sports, outdoor adventures, art and craft, quizzes, and dances. Emails are sent out to all members advising them of upcoming events, and inviting them to attend if they so wish.

Working on an inclusive model, Befriend is open to people of all ages, backgrounds and abilities. The cost to join is free, with members only needing to pay for whatever they consume at social gatherings. Events are organized at a relatively central location for members.

To strengthen the effectiveness of the organization, Befriend has an extensive professional development program for staff. Workshops are run to train staff as facilitators.

The final quote:

The happiness of any society begins with the well-being of the families that live in it.
