RECAP OF LAST MEETING 6/5/2026

Jerry Maldonado, who is the current chairman of board for the Laredo Carrier Motors Association, was our guest speaker last week. He spoke about how after the pandemic the public's view of truck drivers has improved significantly and Americans hold a more favorable impression of the trucking industry. As explained by Mr. Maldonado, this positive sentiment stems from the essential role truckers played during the pandemic, delivering food, water, and supplies, and helping in disaster relief efforts.

During his presentation we learned that the trucking industry is engaging in efforts to make it harder for victims of crashes to sue the companies involved and limit the compensation plaintiffs can win, they are pushing for laws that will help curb frivolous lawsuits and excessive payouts. Although the idea is to have more transparency, Mr. Maldonado acknowledged it is still a very controversial issue.

He also spoke about today's competitive trucking industry and why it is important to stay on top of the latest trends in trucking costs. Understanding this helps appreciate everything that surrounds us or we use, because at any given point, those good were was transported/delivered in a truck.
