

THE OBJECT OF ROTARY

The object of Rotary is to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise and, in particular, to encourage and foster:

First: The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service;

Second: High ethical standards in business and professions; the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations; and the dignifying of each Rotarian's occupation as an opportunity to serve society;

Third: The application of the ideal of service in each Rotarian's personal, business, and community life;

Fourth: The advancement of international understanding, goodwill, and peace through a world of fellowship of business and professional persons united in the ideal of service.

Scouting

Rotary International is a national partner of the Boy Scouts of America, and recognizes Scouting's importance in instilling shared values in young people. Like Rotary, Scouting is an international organization with Scouting programs throughout the world

The values expressed in Rotary International's Motto and the Four-Way Test greatly parallel those articulated in the Scout Oath, Law, motto, and slogan. Rotarians have long served as role models, demonstrating leadership, character, and the value of selfless service to the community. Rotary clubs in the United States charter nearly 1,400 Scouting units (Cub Scout packs, Boy Scout troops, and Venturing crews) serving more than 50,000 youth members.

Through Collaboration With Scouting, a Rotary Club:

- Provides mentoring opportunities for club members to share personal skills, interests, and experiences with youth participants

- Builds better youth and future leaders for the community and the nation

- Shares the purposes of Rotary through Scouting

- Forms enduring friendships among future leaders of the community

- Provides service to the community by offering a time-tested, high-quality developmental youth program that has continuous identification with your Rotary club

- Achieves greater public awareness of the ideals of Rotary.
