Alan Cookson gave his classification talk. While in London studying for his PhD he met his wife Elizabeth. He worked for Westinghouse in Pittsburgh for 20 years before coming to the National Institute for Standards and Technology for the past 15 years. The Cooksons have two sons, one residing in the area and one in Altanta. Alan was formerly a Rotarian in Pittsburgh for five years. Elizabeth gave a presentation on the Smithsonian National Portrait Gallery where she is a volunteer. On July 1, 2006 the National Portrait Gallery welcomed home their treasured collections to a newly restored historic building. Among thousands of artworks returning to public view were the famous "Lansdowne" portrait of George Washington, as well as portraits of notable Americans such as Marilyn Monroe and Shaquille O'Neal. The museums are located at Eighth and F Streets, NW, D.C., above the Gallery Place-Chinatown Metrorail station. Thanks so much to Alan and Elizabeth for your talks, and we give you a warm welcome to the Rotary Club!

Get Empowered To Keep Clubs Vital At Upcoming Membership Conferences

Rotary International News 9 March 2007

To promote membership growth, RI Presidentelect Wilfrid J. Wilkinson invites you to join him in one of seven presidential conferences about sharing the magic of Rotary. The conferences will be held in Canada and the United States in July and August, and each one opens with an evening reception followed by a one-day meeting.

Conference locations and dates are Philadelphia, 13-14 July; Nashville, Tennessee, 20-21 July; South Bend, Indiana, 27-28 July; Denver, Colorado, 3-4 August; Vancouver, British Columbia, 10-11 August; San Jose, California, 17-18 August; and Ft. Lauderdale, Florida, 24-25 August.

The conferences are intended for all Rotarians who are committed to strengthening Rotary membership, but especially club and district membership development committee members, club presidents and officers, and district-level officers including governors.

The meetings are designed to empower Rotary clubs to take up their own membership initiatives that will help Rotary stay vital and growing in the years to come. Participants will learn about and discuss practical ways to identify and recruit new members, retain existing members, and extend Rotary through new clubs. Participants will also discuss how clubs and districts can effectively manage change.

"In order for Rotary to continue to meet the ever-increasing demand for humanitarian service, we must continue our work toward membership retention, growth, and development," says Wilkinson. "We must build stronger clubs, and keep Rotarians informed, connected, and involved."

Conference participants will attend at no cost to Rotary International, meaning participants will cover their own registration fees, as well as travel, lodging, and meal costs. Further details, including conference venues and program information, will be posted on RI's Web site and announced in other Rotary International and local media when available. Registration and arrangements are being handled at the local level.

Alabama Club Plans To Help Community Rebuild Following Deadly Tornado

By Joseph Derr Rotary International News 9 March 2007

Alabama Rotary clubs are planning how to put Service Above Self to help their communities recover and rebuild after a deadly tornado. On 1 March, a tornado ripped through Enterprise, Alabama, killing eight students at Enterprise High School.

Danny Dicus, president of the Rotary Club of Enterprise, who was near the school when the tornado hit, said it was "like a war zone."

"It was a nightmare. There were smashed cars, roofs ripped off houses, and dazed people walking around."

Dicus and his club are working with Past District Governor Bob Rudder to assess the needs of the community while they collect relief and recovery funds through their club's foundation. Any clubs wishing to contribute can do so by sending a check noted "Tornado relief" to: Enterprise Rotary Club Foundation, P.O. Box 310664, Enterprise, AL 36330.

After evaluating how to best make an impact, the club will work with local officials, disaster relief organizations, and other local volunteers to develop projects. The club is also in contact with the Rotary Club of Enterprise Sunrise to discuss pooling together their efforts.

Although the club is looking into organizing a clean-up day to help move dead trees and debris, it has set its sights on identifying long-term needs to be addressed.

"There is a tremendous amount of volunteer help going on right now in the community, in the form of food and clothing drives for the short term. In a few weeks, when all of that begins to slow down, we hope that Rotary will step in and fill in the void for long-term recovery, because in reality it will take us years to recover from this disaster," says Dicus.

Best Cooperative Projects Award Deadlines Near

Rotary International News 9 March 2007

Share the good work of your clubs' cooperative service projects with Rotary International. The Best Cooperative Projects Award offers a great opportunity for clubs to be recognized for their outstanding service projects performed in cooperation with other organizations.

Qualifying projects must have been well established during the 12 months prior to 15 March. The projects also should have generated increased awareness and understanding of Rotary through its work with other organizations.

Rotary clubs must submit the applications for the Best Cooperative Projects Award to the district governor by 15 March, and those submissions must be received at RI headquarters no later than 15 April.

Club projects done in cooperation with the United Nations and its agencies, other international humanitarian organizations, or both, will be given priority.

Foundation Grant And Museum Visit Pave Path Of Peace

By Vukoni Lupa-Lasaga Rotary International News 6 March 2007

Rotary Foundation Trustee Chair Luis Vicente Giay recently presented a US$10,000 "Special Initiative Grant" to the Hiroshima branch of the Children's Cancer Association of Japan.

"[This visit to] District 2710 in Hiroshima is a touching moment in my life; it's [also] an opportunity to recognize the generosity of Japanese Rotarians," Giay told attendees at the event hosted by the Rotary Club of Hiroshima Ryohoko on 22 November. "The Children's Cancer Association is filled with the spirit of service and the spirit of Rotary."

Established in 1968 by parents of pediatric cancer sufferers, the association has provided emotional and financial support to thousands of children with cancer and their families. It also sponsors efforts to reduce the risk of childhood cancer through medical research and public awareness campaigns. The grant will support some of the organization's programs.

Masao Kobayashi, who received the grant on behalf of the cancer association, noted that it was not the first time that Rotarians were lending them a hand. "This is a great encouragement coming from a great organization like Rotary," he said. "I thank The Rotary Foundation for its generous support."

Attendees at the event included RI General Secretary Ed Futa, RI Director Yoshi Watanabe, Past RI Director Yoshikazu Minamisono, District 2710 Governor Shigeru Iwamori, and other Rotary leaders. Earlier, many of the participants were at a Rotary zone institute in Okayama.

Giay and Futa also visited the Hiroshima Peace Museum to pay tribute and lay wreaths in memory of the city's atom bomb victims.

"If more people are given the opportunity to visit the city of Hiroshima and feel that they are standing on holy ground, then peace has a chance," said Futa.

"The presentation and museum visit were done in the Rotary spirit of building peace," Giay explained. "For both Ed and myself, it was the completion of a journey that began almost 21 years ago."

That journey started at a district conference in Hawaii in 1986. Giay was an RI director-elect representing the RI president, and Futa was the governor-nominee of District 5000. The duo visited the USS Arizona Memorial to lay wreaths in memory of the victims of the Pearl Harbor attack.

Popular Service Project Guides Revamped

Rotary International News 6 March 2007

Rotary's favorite service guides have been recently revised to provide clubs with the latest resources to help plan service projects. A new service kit bundles together updated versions of Communities in Action: A Guide to Effective Service (605A) and the Menu of Service Opportunities (605B) as well as a new addition to Rotary's service library, Community Assessment Tools (605C).

Communities in Action: A Guide to Effective Projects is Rotary's comprehensive guide to selecting, planning, implementing, and evaluating effective service projects in a community. The revised version includes new sections about project liability and protection, tips on promoting projects, updated information about RI programs and resources, and a new project submission form. The publication is available in English, French, German, Italian, Japanese, Korean, Portuguese, Spanish, and Swedish.

Menu of Service Opportunities includes information sheets on important social issues like literacy, poverty, hunger, health, and the environment. It highlights Rotary's approach to addressing issues, tips for taking action, and Rotary stories from the field. Look for extensive lists of online resources for each issue, as well a new section on Rotary and the Millennium Development Goals. Available in English, French, German, Italian, Japanese, Korean, Portuguese, Spanish, and Swedish, the Menu of Service Opportunities serves as an excellent resource for presentations at a club meeting or district training event.

Community Assessment Tools, a new publication, is designed to provide clubs with some simple tools to evaluate needs in their communities and improve the effectiveness of their service projects. This resource provides eight session guides for carrying out practical and low-cost community needs assessments. In addition, it serves as an excellent resource to help clubs understand their community better and identify hidden assets that might contribute to a project's success.

Buy hardcopies of Rotary's service kit online or download the three parts separately for free.
