Speaker program

Our Club member and Past President, Frank Bruno was our speaker of the day and talked about the "History of Beer." The history of beer is the history of human civilization. In other words, the human race is a bunch of drunks. Beer was part of daily diet of Egyptian pharaohs over 5,000 years ago. During the building of pyramids, workers got a daily beer which served as both nutrition and refreshment which was crucial to the construction of pyramids. Beer was one of the most common drinks during Middle Ages. It was consumed daily in the northern and eastern parts of Europe where grape cultivation was difficult.

Flavoring beer with hops was known at least since 9th century. In the 15th century England, an un-hopped beer would have been known as an "ale", while the use of hops would make it a beer.

With the invention of the steam engine in 1765, industrialization of beer became a reality.

Frank then talked about the process of brewing and also the types of beers including: Ale, Lager, Porter, Stout, Blonde Ale, Brown Ale, Pale Ale, India Pale Ale, Wheat, Pilsner and finally Sour Ale.

Then Frank talked about the history of American craft beer. There are over 10,000 craft breweries worldwide, and the United States has more than 4,000, and California has 958 as of this year. The original birthplace of American craft beers began in Northern California particularly in San Francisco. Anchor Brewery made Anchor Steam in 1965. Also another success story about an entrepreneurship - Lagunitas Brewing Co., started in California in 1993. The famous dog image on the Lagunitas logo was actually inspired by the dog in The Little Rascals (remember Petey?).

Frank then listed the top 10 beers in the world; 10. Coors Light; 9. Corona; 8. Yanjing; 7. Harbin; 6. Heineken; 5. Skol (Swedish); 4. Bud Light; 3. Tsingtao; 2. Budweiser; 1. Snow (China) -The lager gets its name for its white foam. It is mainly sold in China for being cheap and easy to drink.

Frank would like to encourage members to go out tonight and raise a glass of beer and celebrate life... Cheers!

Before the meeting ended, Jorg went back on to stage to show us how to Jodeln (also Yodeling) in celebration of Oktoberfest. Let's all try to do a Rotary Jodeln when we have beers next time.

There will be no meeting next week. Instead, please come join the Non-Spaghetti Feed TGIF (potluck) event at the McDill's home on October 29, starting at 6:00 pm. Bring a dish for 4-6 people to share.

The Winner

The winning raffle ticket goes to Jean Brown... Have a wonderful Yodeling and beer drinking weekend!
