PROGRAM - COMMUNITY SERVICE CONTRIBUTIONS RECOGNITION BY JULIE BAKER

Julie Baker with the CHNR Board defined the club's charitable contributions this year being specifically targeted to the homeless and downtrodden. Therefore, members of the recipient organizations were on hand to receive the club's financial contributions to their efforts.

Baker recognized Patti Johnson and John Pilch at Solutions for Change. With the $4,400 donation from Carlsbad Hi-Noon Rotary (CHNR); they were able to reopen their intake center. John explained that he will be graduating from Solutions for Change on June 9, after three years in the program. He said that Solutions for Change helped two families from Escondido by using the box truck to deliver furniture in Escondido, and to collect furniture and belongings to refurbish the SFC's 32 apartments in Vista.

La Posada de Guadalupe, which opened in 1992, is a men's shelter intended to eliminate the homelessness of migrant workers who were then living in the canyon. Joaquin Blas, the Operations Supervisor, said that they served 344 clients in 2017-2018. Veterans, civilians, victims of domestic violence and many other issues are served and they intend to use the $2,350 from CHNR to continue to serve in the Carlsbad location. David Ricks, the Director of Development Administration from Catholic Charities spoke about the men's shelter and the wonderful outreach it is doing in Carlsbad.

Chris Durhan, the coordinator from Showers of Blessings, said that they began five years ago with a truck with two showers which is used to provide showers for the homeless in San Diego County. Along with the donation of $2,500 from CHNR, Fill-a-Belly, Kelly Cardena Salon, Leap Coffee and Top of the Bagel are a few other Carlsbad entities who have made Showers of Blessings possible, including a recent partnership with Cal State San Marcos Nursing Center to offer medical exams. Chris intends to offer hope with a hot shower, new clothes, haircut and hot meal.

Chelsea Buck with Interfaith Community Service explained that her organization is the largest social services provider in North County and has over 40 programs which "help people help themselves." About 500 people sleep under an Interfaith roof every night. This year, almost 850 families have been moved to permanent residency. They provide interview workshops and skill workshops to help the clients meet their individual needs. The funding of $4,850 from this club will help the Carlsbad Center function.

JC Cooper, Sr., Pastor of Carlsbad Community Church, received $1000 for Safe Families for Children which is a national organization that functions on a local level. They have hosted over 200 people, some of whom may have been incarcerated or are struggling with addiction. Safe Families is a non-government organization and the at-risk clients go through a screening process in order to be placed with a church family. The funding from CHNR will remain in Carlsbad and help in the collaboration of services for the families served.

Mike Pfankuch and JR Phillips introduced Bikes for the Barrio's Chad Majer and Sean Cooley, who received $1750 from CHNR. The funds will be used to purchase bikes, helmets and locks for the kids in the Barrio and around Carlsbad at less-than wholesale prices. The goal is 100 bikes a year given to Jefferson Elementary students and 100 more in the community.

Julie Baker also stated that additional grant recipients were spouses and children of deployed Marines who were provided lunch and gift bags. Additionally, a bed was provided for a resettled homeless woman who secured housing.

CHNR made financial contributions of $16,850 today—because of your work! Thank you.

President David Harrison entered the meeting late and was called upon to close the meeting. President David thanked Julie Baker for her hard work.

Bob Hartsfield won the drawing.
