FOUNDATION NEWS

END POLIO NOW CAMPAIGN

EVERYONE BRING YOUR POCKET CHANGE — TO AFFECT CHANGE BY ENDING POLIO THROUGHOUT THE WORLD.

The END POLIO NOW campaign is one of Rotary International's top priorities this year. Rotary and the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation have extended their partnership during the critical endgame phase of the Global Polio Eradication Initiative. Thanks to this partnership our contributions are matched two for one—$25 becomes $75.

Total for the year is 819.76. That is "81.97%" of our goal of $1,000. Only $180.24 to go before June 30th.

$26.50 collected today in Polio Banks—just ironic in amount, matching the same initial contribution the Foundation received for its 1st deposit. WOW, too cool!!!

ANNUAL GIVING/PAUL HARRIS SUSTAINING FELLOWS

We continue our goal to have Every Rotarian contribute at least $100 to The Rotary Foundation and strive to achieve the status of 100% EREY and 100% Paul Harris Sustaining Fellows for the third year in a row.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THIS WEEK'S PROGRAM

President Dominic introduced Jeff Sipes, Owner, CEO and head honcho for Blue Water Credit in Roseville.

His story follows: during the economic downturn in 2007, he saw an increasing need for a local organization that offered credit repair; and in 2008, he and his wife opened the doors of a credit repair company with the intent to offer legal and ethical credit repair with a genuine goal of helping others.

Since he personally graduated from the school of hard knocks, he knows what it feels like to struggle with bad credit and understands the peace of mind that good credit provides.

Blue Water Credit works with thousands of real estate agents and mortgage officers across the country helping their clients struggling with bad credit. Their sole purpose is to provide help, hope and credit education for everyone. According to the Sacramento Business Journal, his company was listed as one of Sacramento's fastest growing companies for the past several years. He's been featured as a credit expert on numerous radio shows and KOVR 13.

President Dominic introduced Jeff Sipes.

Jeff began by asking "What is a good credit score?" "What are the credit reporting agencies I should pay attention to?" These are questions people usually ask when it comes to credit scores.

When you apply for credit (a credit card, an auto loan or mortgage) lenders want to know what risk they'd take by loaning money to you. When lenders order a credit report, they can also buy a FICO credit score that's based on the information in your credit report. A FICO credit score is based on a snapshot of a credit report at a particular point in time.

It is important to know that most credit scores on the Internet are NOT the same scores lenders use. Over 90% of lenders use FICO Scores. The other credit scores out there are called "educational credit scores."

We recommend pulling a credit report from a reliable source such as annualcreditreport.com, Myfico.com or from a lender.

The majority of people understand the basics, like how failing to make a payment will cause your score to go down, but there are a number of complexities that trip up the average consumer.

If you pay your debts on time, don't carry too much debt on any one card, don't close older accounts unless absolutely necessary and only apply for new credit when you have to, you will generally be in good shape.

However, it is important to keep yourself informed so you can maintain a credit score that accurately reflect your consumer status.

A credit score is a three-digit number calculated from your data-rich credit report and is a significant factor used by lenders to determine your creditworthiness.

Lenders use your credit report in order to judge your reliability as a loan candidate. Your credit report indicates your ability to handle debt responsibly and will help banks decide if you are a desirable loan customer.

A high credit score can help you lock in low annual percentage rate (APR) rates or secure special deals on loans. A bad credit report may prevent you from securing loans and can damage your ability to buy a car, open a credit card or buy a home.

A history of inability to manage your credit successfully will make lenders uncomfortable about trusting you with additional funds in the future.

Payment History—35 percent of your credit score is made up by your payment history. This includes late payments, collections, and even bankruptcies and tax liens. Each type of account will stay on your credit report a specified period of time and each type of derogatory will hurt your score differently. Blue Water Credit works to remove accounts that are not 100% accurate OR not 100% verifiable. Our removal rate is around 70%.

Debt Ratio—30 percent of your credit score is your debt ratio. Your debt ratio is the amount of revolving credit (i.e. credit cards) you owe in relation to the amount of credit you have available. For instance, if your credit limit is $10,000 and your current balance is $5,000, your debt ratio would be 50%. To maximize your score, we recommend to keep balances below 30% of the credit limit.

Length of Credit—15 percent of your credit score is your length of credit. Your length of credit is how long you have had credit. At face value, this seems like something you couldn't really do anything to fix. However, there are ways you can hurt yourself here. If you close out your older cards, even if they have higher interest rates, it will hurt your score. The credit scoring model has no memory of credit cards you close: if you close out that fifteen year old card you will get no credit for it!

Types of Credit—10 percent of your credit score is the types of credit you have listed on your report. Types of credit include revolving, installment and mortgage loans. By having different kinds of credit open, you show creditors that you are responsible and able to handle different kinds of account types.

Credit Inquiries—10 percent of your credit score are inquiries. Inquiries are marked on your credit report when you ask for new credit (i.e. when you apply for a home loan). Inquiries made by yourself or for unsolicited offers do not count against your score, but are shown on your report. It is important to note than when searching for a home you are allowed unlimited inquiries over a 15-30 day period since it is assumed you are rate shopping.

Jeff continued with more information on how to repair your credit score and answered

President Dominic and Jeff Sipes

As is our usual custom, President Dominic presented Jeff with a gift in gratitude of his informative presentation.

President Dominic then asked us to stand, raise our glasses and join him in a toast to Rotary Around the World.

The meeting was then adjourned.
