BCUP Project at St Charles RC Kabule PS – 27th OCT 2024

- ❑ The Boy Child Uplifting Program BCUP is one of the core pillars of the 2023-24 Rotary District 9213 agenda, focusing on uplifting the boy child. The girl-child had been the centre of focus for more than 25 years after centuries of injustice and discrimination at the hands of male hegemony and patriarchy that characterize our society.
- ❑ This effort has increasingly left the boy child in an environment that has eroded their confidence and general holistic human value systems and supportive structures.
- ❑ As such, the Rotary Club of Kampala South opted to take a values-driven mentorship approach in the implementation of this area of focus.

Rotary club donates medical equipment worth sh444m

The Rotary Club of Kampala South has donated medical equipment worth sh444m to five health facilities across the country in a bid to supplement government efforts of delivering quality healthcare services.

The benefiting medical facilities are Kikandwa Health Centre (HC) III in Mukono district, Kamuganguzi HCIII in Kabale district, Bushikori HC in Mbale district, Busesa HCIV in Jinja district and Kalagi HC in Kabulasoke, Gomba district.

The equipment includes delivery beds, portable ultrasound scans, assorted medicines, dental beds, mama kits and blankets for children. Others are weighing scales, computers, an iPad, training for health facility staff and a maternal child health software.

During the handover of the equipment at Kikandwa HCIII on Saturday, Innocent Agaba, the club's projects director, said 10 years ago, the club together with its partners the Rotary Club of Des Moines AM in US and Shining City embarked on a project dubbed Maternal and Child Health in five health centres.

MATERNAL DEATH

Agaba said one of the aims of the project is to put an end to maternal and child deaths and improve the health services.

"The project aims at ensuring that there is a healthy productive citizenry that can contribute to the fast and steady development of their country," Agaba added.

At the facility, three blocks: general ward, maternity ward and dental clinic have been constructed. While receiving the equipment, Dr Julius Turinawe, the head of Kikandwa HCIII, said it is important for every mother to have at least two scans during pregnancy, with one in the first trimester and the other in the third trimester.

He said: "Delivering a mother without being in the know of how the baby is in the womb has always been risky. The scan helps us identify challenges like the baby having a double cord around their necks and breach representation, where a baby comes out with legs first, not the head, among other cases and refer mothers in time to save their lives".

Turinawe explained that the donated scan will help them screen mothers as they come in for antenatal care and advise them on where to deliver from depending on how their pregnancies present.

He added that this will help medics and mothers to plan for the deliveries better.

Emily Adreon, the president of the Rotary Club of Des Moines AM, explained that she first came to Uganda in 2012 as part of a sustainable development class and worked in the communities of Kikandwa.

Adreon noted that the services to the communities are in line with the Rotary International 2024 theme, which looks at bringing hope in the world.

The president, who is leading a team of donors from America, is hopeful that with partners like the Church of Uganda, the services will be sustained to benefit more people.

At the handover ceremony, a one-day health camp was conducted where hundreds of people from about 10 villages including Ndesse, Kikandwa and Namalili, benefited from a pool of health services.
