Thursday's Program

Four-Way Test Essay Contest

We are back at Grand Tradition this week. Kimberly Huesing will be our guide as we hear from students in the Fallbrook Union Elementary School District. The students will be sharing their entries in our Four-Way Test Essay Contest. We have enjoyed hearing high school students present in our speech contest each year; now we get to hear from the younger set. Be sure to join us as we cheer them on!

Looking Ahead

Naval Aviation Alumni Choir

We are at Grand Tradition again next week. We will hear some inspiring music from the Naval Aviation Alumni Choir. The choir is made up of former active-duty members of a Navy-sponsored choir which was based in Pensacola, Florida from 1949-2002. Their goal is to inspire patriotism and respect for our armed forces, especially Naval Aviation, through music. The choir provides musical support for military ceremonies, recruiting, reunions, and community events all across the nation.

FUHSD Students Shine!

Model United Nations

Our Fallbrook High students did a great job as Student Delegates at this year's Model United Nations. The conference was held on March 23 and 24. Here are a few shots of our students as they represented Kenya, Spain, and Indonesia. Well done, all!

Quote of the Week

The failure to invest in youth reflects a lack of compassion and a colossal failure of common sense.
