A snappy meeting last week. Cathy got the ball rolling as Anton was on his way back from Sydney. He did finally arrive and took over the Chair about halfway through proceedings.

The other exciting news is John Askew will be giving a 'Me Talk' at next week's meeting.

I will be at next week's meeting then work beckons and I will be away for a couple of weeks. In my absence, Jan has offered to write the Jerraganda with technical assistance from Cathy.....Many thanks ladies!

Market Report

It was a beautiful morning with no strong breezes and no rain. There were four of us present; Paul Robey, Chris Oyston (replacing Eleanor) and Sue and Peter Jarvis. We also had the privilege of seeing Chilli on his market tasting tour and Rosemary and Brian Flanagan.

A market patron made the following comment which she wrote on our tally sheet; "Thank you for being here, because it gives so many people delight and pleasure" It gave us goose bumps from her appreciative remarks.

Another lady approached me at the gate with a friend and asked me whether this was the best Farmers Market in Australia. I stated affirmatively that it was and she turned to her friend and said "I told you so"

No real dramas on the day. No lost kids, no lost wallets. One string bag with phone, car keys and purse handed in and claimed fairly quickly. One guy locked his car keys and phone in the boot of his car and used my phone to ring his wife to bring his spare keys. I told him we also provide a Find The Car Service when patrons can't find where they parked their car.

Weekly Joke

A husband and wife are sitting quietly in bed reading when the wife looks over at him and asks the question, "What would you do if I died? Would you get married again?"

HUSBAND: Definitely not!

WIFE: Why not? Don't you like being married?

HUSBAND: Of course I do ...

WIFE: Then why wouldn't you remarry?

HUSBAND: Okay, okay, I'd get married again.

WIFE: You would? (with a hurt look)

HUSBAND: (makes audible groan)

WIFE: Would you live in our house?

HUSBAND: Sure, it's a great house.

WIFE: Would you sleep with her in our bed?

HUSBAND: Where else would we sleep?

WIFE: Would you let her drive my car?

HUSBAND: Probably, as it is almost new.

WIFE: Would you replace my pictures with hers?

HUSBAND: That would seem like the proper thing to do.

WIFE: Would you give her my jewellery?

HUSBAND: No, I'm sure she'd want her own.

WIFE: Would you take her golfing with you?

HUSBAND: Yes, those are always good times.

WIFE: Would she use my clubs?

HUSBAND: No, she's left-handed.

The wife is silent.

HUSBAND: Shit.
