

Of Community Benefit

This Saturday there are two events of community interest that are worth noting and taking in for more than just their superficial fun values. On the surface the country-style Rotary Auction and the Mystic Glee Club concert are annual events that are entertainment of the first order for both the participants and those who go to see them. But the events are more than just fun alone; they are also significant aspects of the community life here.

The Rotary Club turns the money it makes at the lively annual auction back to the community through donations to worthwhile town organizations and activities that often need the financial aid that helps support them. While auction fans enjoy the good old-fashioned Rotary Auction each year, they also contribute through the medium of the local Rotary Club to other worthwhile civic groups.

The annual Mystic Glee Club concert is an enjoyable cultural event of community interest, pride and origin. This singing group has earned for itself a respected name in singing circles, and carries the good reputation of Winchester in beneficial ways across the Commonwealth. Once a year the well-known group gives a concert for the town and this is its 25th anniversary concert.

Annual Rotary Auction Is This Saturday At Town Hall

The Town Hall will be buzzing with bargain hunting buyers and auction enthusiasts this Saturday as the auditorium becomes the scene of Winchester's annual country style Rotary Auction.

This the sixteenth country type auction sponsored in Winchester by the local Rotary Club, complete with a professional auctioneer, shows signs of being one of the biggest and most interesting auction events of all.

Since the day last year's Auction closed members of the Rotary Club have been canvassing the town for donations for this year's Auction with a great deal of success, according to Ralph Jury, auction chairman.

Mr. Jury said that many items to be auctioned off have been handmade by Club members—everything from antique style furniture to handy household items.

"The Rotary Barn is literally chock-full of interesting things to be auctioned on Saturday," Mr. Jury said in urging people to go to the Town Hall early Saturday morning to look over the exhibited wares from 9:30 to 10 o'clock.

Auctioneer Shirley Dennis will begin his exhortations promptly at 10 a.m., and the Auction will continue uninterrupted right through to 5 o'clock.

The Rotary-Anns with their coffee and cook pots will make snacks for hungry auction fans, available throughout the day and with lunches at noon and of course, the traditional end-of-day, old fashioned bean supper starting at 5 o'clock. There will also be a baked-goods sale table.

The annual Rotary Auction is more than just an event of community interest and fun each year, it is also the Rotary Club's main source for charitable funds. Each year the Rotary Club has taken the revenue from the annual Auction and distributed it among worthwhile community activities, organizations, and benefits.

According to Seymour Russell, Rotary president, the money earned at the Rotary Club Auction in recent years has gone in substantial donations to the Winchester Scholarship Foundation, the Winchester Hospital, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Little League, Winchester High School activities such as the band and radio station, and their support of community and school developmental reading courses, and their initiation of beautification of the Town Common—to name a few.

If your curiosity won't wait 'til Saturday to see what you can buy at the Auction, take a look at the partial list in the Auction advertisement in today's Star.

Chairman Ralph Jury promises a convivial, fun-packed and exciting auction on Saturday, one that auction fans will long remember.

Annual Rotary Club Auction This Saturday In Town Hall

The Town Hall will be buzzing with bargain hunting buyers and auction enthusiasts this Saturday as the auditorium becomes the scene of Winchester's annual country-style Rotary Auction.

Complete with a professional auctioneer, this, the seventeenth old-fashioned rural-type auction sponsored by the Winchester Rotary Club, gives every indication of being the biggest and most interesting auction of all. Starting at 9:30 and lasting right up to supper-time, it is an anticipated yearly event.

Since the end of last April, when last year's Rotary Auction concluded, members of the Rotary Club have been canvassing the town for donations of furniture and knick-knacks for this coming auction - and with a great deal of success, according to Ralph Jury, auction chairman, who notes that there is more than one barn full of worthwhile auctionable items.

Mr. Jury also pointed out that some of the members of the Rotary Club have hand made some of the pieces to be sold, including antiques furniture and handy household items, among other things.

Many smart auction buyers will begin browsing through items on display at the Town Hall auditorium at 9:30 Saturday morning. At 10 o'clock auctioneer Shirley Dennis will start his exhortations, and the bidding game and fun will begin.

The Rotary Annes with their coffee and cook pots will make snacks for hungry action fans, available throughout the day and with lunches at noon and, of course, the traditional end-of-day, old-fashioned bean supper serving at 5 o'clock. There will also be a baked goods sale table.

The annual Rotary Auction is more than just an event of community interest and fun each year, it is also the Rotary Club's main source for charitable funds. Each year the Rotary Club has taken the revenue from the annual Auction and distributed it among worthwhile community activities organizations and benefits.

According to William Wilde, president of the Winchester Rotary Club, the money earned at the Rotary Club Auction in recent years has gone in substantial donations to the Winchester Scholarship Foundation, the Winchester Hospital, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Little League, Winchester High School activities such as the band and radio station, and their support of community and school developmental reading courses, and their initiation of beautification of the Town Common—to name a few.

Auction chairman Ralph Jury promises a convivial, fun-packed and exciting auction on Saturday, one that auction fans will long remember.

Rotary Club Auction Thanks Its Supporters

Editor of the Star:

The Winchester Rotary Club would like to thank the citizens of Winchester for their fine support of our seventeenth annual auction held last Saturday.

We appreciate your generous gifts of resalable merchandise made throughout the year, and also the support we received the day of the auction. The members of the Fire Auxiliary, Police Auxiliary, and Explorer Troop also gave a helping hand last Saturday, which contributed to the very successful day.

Through the hard work of the co-chairmen, Mrs. Robert Costello and Mrs. Richard Norris, the Rotary-Annes had an abundance of food for many hundreds of hungry people. The efforts of the Supper Committee, led by their able chairman, Lewis Snow, climaxed the day with a very delicious ham and bean supper.

Thanks again for all the support given the Winchester Rotary Club.

A successful day of this kind helps us to carry on our many worthwhile projects throughout the town.

Sincerely,

Ralph Jury
Rotary Auction Chairman

Rotary Auction Is On April 29

Auction-goers and bargain-hunters this month are looking forward to the 15th holding of the Annual Rotary Auction at the Town Hall in Winchester—where this once a year event draws hundreds of buyers and turns over thousands of dollars in revenues to benefit charities.

On this one day of the year, Saturday, April 29, the Winchester Rotary Club service organization hires a professional auctioneer and sells-off everything from 10-cent bid childrens toys to several-dollar household, personal and sports items, and even more expensive collectors' fancies and antiques.

The Annual Winchester Rotary Auction begins at 10 o'clock, following a 9 a.m. opening for browsing and sales of hundreds of donated books, always to a fully-packed auditorium of interested purchasers.

Uninterruptedly during the day until 7 at night articles donated by citizens throughout the preceding year—and amounting to a chock-full barn of usable objects—are put up to bid and auctioned off in rapid order.

Also during the day Rotary-Anes staff snack and food-sales booths for the benefit of auction-hunters who can't tear themselves away from the delightful atmosphere and bargains.

In the late afternoon, from 5 to 7 p.m., Rotarian chefs, assisted by members of the local Auxiliary Fire Department, turn out a magnificent Olde-Fashioned Bean Supper.

Rotary Club president Lewis B. Snow said this week that the club looks forward to opening the doors on the largest auction yet, this year, and anticipates a large turn-out of visitors.

Rotary Auction Is Saturday At The Town Hall

The men of the Winchester Rotary Club will be busy tomorrow transporting saleable items from the Rotary Barn on Elmwood Avenue to the Town Hall in preparation for the big annual Rotary Auction on Saturday.

Now in its 15th year, the auction draws hundreds of auction-goer and bargain-hunter buyers each year, resulting in the raising of thousands of dollars in revenues to benefit local charities.

A professional auctioneer, hired specially for the interesting event, sells-off everything from 10-cent bid childrens toys to several-dollar household, personal and sports items—and even more expensive collectors' fancies and antiques.

Folowing a 9 a.m. opening for the sale of hundreds of donated books and to allow browsers to look over the merchandise to be auctioned off, the auction begins at 10 o'clock, and runs uninterrupted throughout the day until 7 p.m.

During the day snack and special food sales tables are managed by the Rotary-Annes, wives of the Rotarians, and assisted by members of the Winchester Auxiliary Fire Department.

From 5 to 7 in the early evening, hungry auction lovers will find a delicious Old Fashioned Bean Supper a delight, and they can still keep an eye on auction proceedings while enjoying a good supper.

If you're looking for bargains, and a different but fun atmosphere to shop in, visit the Rotary Auction this Saturday. You won't be disappointed, and you may find just the thing you've been looking for.

Auction Success Prompts Note Of Appreciation

Editor of the Star:

The Winchester Rotary Club's Annual Rotary Auction two weeks ago in the Town Hall was the most successful event in its 15 year history, and speaking for the members of the Club I would like to thank each and every person who supported it either through donations of saleable items to the Club's auction, or through attendance and bidding on the many interesting pieces sold.

The proceeds from this enjoyable event each year are used here in Winchester for such worthwhile groups and organizations and purposes as the Boy and Girl Scouts, the Hospital, the Scholarship Fund, etc.

I would also like to thank all the Rotarians who gave of their time and effort in making this the successful auction it was, and their wives, Rotary-Annes, who helped staff and serve at snack and food tables during the Auction, along with the very generous support given by members of the Auxiliary Fire Department, who willingly gave their time and assistance that was most appreciated.

Until next year, and another big Rotary Auction then to continue the Rotary Club's many contributions to community functions, I again express my gratitude to all who helped make this year's Auction a success—and remind those those who have items they would like to donate to the Auction, to call our number, 729-4108, anytime for pickups.

Yours truly,
Lewis B. Snow

Rotary Auction Here Saturday

The Winchester Rotary Club annual auction will be held in the Town Hall all day Saturday.

Beginning with an exhibition at 9:30 a.m., auctioning will start at 10 and go through the day.

Snacks, sandwiches and coffee are served all day. The traditional bean and frankfort supper is being prepared.

From 1962 through 1968

Rotary has contributed $41,627 to service groups in the community. It hopes to go on doing so," said a Rotary spokesman, pointing up the annual second-hand shop fest.

Items to be offered, being moved into the Town Hall today and tomorrow from storage barns all over town, include everything from a pine hutch to musical instruments, from old commodes to fine china and glassware. (see details in ad inside).

Rotary regulars and Rotary Anns will be on hand to give every kind of aid and financial aims are large and sustenance.

Rotary reminds that its financial aims are large and continuing. In the past six years it has given $11,000 to the Scholarship Foundation; $8,525 to the Hospital; $8,000 to the Boy Scouts; $2,000 to the Greater Boston YMCA; $1,700 to Little League and $1,339 for camp scholarships.

The remaining over nine thousand of the $41,627 has been distributed among groups including many other youth athletic endeavors, the Girl Scouts, WHS Band, Police Athletic League, Fire Auxiliary, Homefronters, Community Relief, Youth Organization (Drop-In Center), Mystic Valley Children's Clinic and Association for the Retarded, Rotary International Scholarships, Easter Seal, and others.

Local Rotary Club Receives Significant Achievement Award

One of 113 worldwide awards for outstanding service projects has been granted to the Rotary Club of Winchester (out of 14,022 clubs) in the significant achievement award event conducted by Rotary International.

The awards are based on submissions by Rotary Clubs throughout the world of their most outstanding accomplishments and contributions of significant service to the needs of the community, the nation or to the world.

The award will go to the Winchester Rotary Club for its annual country auction community service project.

Other winning projects included an anti-pollution river cleanup in Michigan, a drug addict rehabilitation project in Pennsylvania, a young person's rehabilitation center in Australia, a child care center in South America and a medical supply project which originated in England and travelled across the continent to India.

In naming the club as this area's winner Rotary International cited the club's hard work and enthusiasm in its year-round fund raising endeavor.

The project reaches its climax each spring with an annual all day country auction at the Town Hall which takes place this year on Saturday, April 25th. However, it is by no means a single day effort. In contrast its success is derived from an all-year voluntary participation by all the Winchester Rotarians in collecting and storing used furniture, appliances, books, china, toys, glassware, paintings, tools, and a variety of household articles much of which require repair and refinishing by club members to make them saleable merchandise.

The Winchester community's reaction and acceptance of this project is substantiated by its continued growth and in popularity and in receipts which in the past five years have expanded from $10,000 to $15,000 yearly, with this year's project expected to reach a new record. All of the proceeds are distributed annually to a variety of charitable purposes such as youth clubs and activities, needs of lesser privileged, emergency relief aid, servicemen gift packages, hospital and clinic supplies, international food relief, scholarships, beautification of town parks, financing national and international exchange student programs, aid to handicapped children, establishing welfare camperships, mentally retarded care, shelter for the aged, school athletic awards, etc.

No better portrayal of Rotary's unselfish ideal of "Service Above Self" can be exemplified than on such a rigid and continuing basis as is practiced by the Winchester Rotary Club members. At the same time it enhances the true elements of Rotary fellowship, mutual respect, vocational exchange, human relations, and self dignity.

The award will be presented on Thursday, April 16 to the president of the Rotary Club, Albert S. Hovannesian of 3 Pocohontas Road by the governor of the district, Anthony Frasca of Lynn, upon the occasion of the Governor's banquet at the District 793 Spring Conference being held on April 15th and 16th at the Hotel Somerset in Boston, Massachusetts. State commissioner of Administration and Finance, Donald R. Dwight, will be the guest of honor.

Rotary International is a world-wide service association of over 14,000 Rotary clubs (of which Winchester can boast of being in the top 1 percent bracket with this significant achievement award) with a membership of 660,500 business and professional men in 148 countries. There are 37 Rotary clubs in the cities and towns embracing district 793 including Boston, Cambridge, Arlington, Belmont, Reading, Stoneham, Lexington, Woburn, Medford, Lynn, Gloucester, Melrose, Somerville, and several other communities.

Rotary Club Schedules Auction, Supper Saturday

The Town Hall will be the scene this Saturday for the Winchester Rotary Club's annual old-fashioned country auction and bean supper.

Open all day, the auction will conclude with the bean supper from 5 to 7 PM. A snack bar and bake sale will also be included in the day's activities.

Proceeds from the auction go to support many of the Town's activities including the Scholarship Foundation, the Hospital, the Boy Scouts, the Homefronters and others. This annual charitable occasion continues to achieve new heights of success year after year. It is by no means just a one-day effort. The club's full complement of 80 members strive on a year-round voluntary basis collecting used furniture, appliances, china, paintings, books, glassware, knick-knacks and a variety of household articles and storing these articles in their barn warehouse.

Members continually devote their time and talents in repairing and restoring such donated articles to make them saleable merchandise by auction time.

The auction has attained considerable acclaim both locally and nationally. Proceeds continue to grow substantially year after year and all monies are widely distributed to a large number of charitable causes such as for youth clubs and activities, needs of the lesser privileged, emergency relief aid, scholarships, student exchange programs, service men's gift packages, hospital and clinic supplies, international flood relief, beautification of town parks, and to handicapped children, shelter for the aged, welfare camperships, mentally retarded care, school athletic awards, etc.

A true portrayal of Rotary International's unselfish ideal of "Service Above Self" with success in attaining its goals, the club was presented a "Significant Achievement Award" For the auction project by Rotary International headquarters at the District 793 Spring Conference Governor's Banquet held at the Hotel Somerset in Boston on April 15 and 16 this year.

This was one of 113 world-wide awards for outstanding service projects granted for accomplishments of significance to the needs of the community, the nation or to the world.

There are 14,000 Rotary Clubs throughout the world comprising over 660,000 business and professional men in 148 countries. Other typical project awards were made for a child care center in South America, a medical supply project in England, an anti-pollution project in Michigan, a juvenile rehabilitation center in Australia and a drug addict program in Pennsylvania.

The Winchester Rotary Club is proud to be considered in the top one per-cent of this world-wide service organization. Public support of its annual auction project will assure continuance of its Good Samaritan deeds.

Auctioneer Saturday will be Walter Szary. Among the items to be auctioned are two pine hutches and two pine bookcases; old sea chests, some dovetailed; a four drawer pine bureau; a round pine chair table; a dry sink with copper liner; two walnut hall stands; a Gov. Winthrop desk; a carved oak ladies' desk; four drawer empire chests; and a Lane cedar chest.

Other things to be auctioned include brass andirons, tole ware, gold mirrors, pictures and frames, lamps and boxes of glass and china.

A book sale will also be going on all day. The sale exhibition begins at 9:30 AM and the auction at 10.

Rotary Auction, Supper Saturday

The Winchester Rotary Club's annual country auction and bean supper will be held at Town Hall Saturday.

An exhibition of items for sale will take place at 9:30 a.m. The auction will get underway at 10 a.m. and run throughout the day.

Supper will be served from 5 to 7 p.m.

A book sale will be conducted all day. Coffee and lunch will be served by the Rotary Anns.

Walter Szary will again be the auctioneer. Rotarian Arthur Rand, chairman of the auction, will be assisted by all members of the Rotary Club.

Proceeds from the auction go to support many of the Town's activities including the Scholarship Foundation, the Hospital, the Boy Scouts, Little League, the Homefronters, Easter Seals, and others.

Items offered for sale at the auction are collected voluntarily year round by the 87 club members. Articles obtained include used furniture, appliances, china, paintings, books, glassware, knick-knacks, and a variety of household articles. The material is stored in the Rotary Barn, a store warehouse.

Members devote time and talent to repair and restoring the donated articles so that they can become saleable merchandise by auction time.

Proceeds continue to grow substantially year after year and all monies are widely distributed to a large number of charitable causes such as for youth clubs and activities, needs of the lesser privileged, emergency relief aid, scholarships, student exchange programs, servicemen's gift packages, hospital and clinic supplies, aid to handicapped children, welfare camperships, mentally retarded care, school athletic awards, etc.

A partial list of available items include: two pine hutches, two four drawer pine bureaus, chairs--two pillows--Hitchcocks, large Cathedral chair cane seat, black walnut side chairs, Lincoln rocker, child's rocker, and many others: Gov.
