Secretary RENEE RICHARDSON told us that our information is now up on the web in a different format - CLUB RUNNER. So, she said, if you get emails from "Club Runner" and/or "Rotary Club of Oceanside" instead of the "rotaryrenee" emails that we have become so used to, they are real and you should not ignore them.

She reminded us that annual dues are now due and will show up on your emailed invoice as a total of $320.00. ($200.00 of which is the regular membership dues, due by July 1st. $120.00 is for a sustaining membership to the RI Foundation which can optionally be paid all at once with this invoice or in smaller amounts throughout the year, however you may choose. Both of these payments, as well as any fees for upcoming events, should be all be directed to RENEE.)

JOHN McMAHAN reminded us all of the Golf Tournament will be held on June 26. JOHN is still looking for Hole Sponsors and prizes. Golf items and liquor always make great prizes. (Of course, JOHN would have to mention LIQUOR!) He would appreciate any and all help.

President DAVE helped to get the word out regarding our upcoming “First Annual Feast” FUNDRAISER at the Mission from 6 to 9 pm on Wednesday, July 15. We will be needing volunteers. HAPPY DOLLARS

MIKE CURTIN was $5.00 happy to crow about some kids from Crown Heights. This is the second year in a row that Oceanside Rotary has sponsored the Club Crown Heights entry into the Oceanside Beach Soccer Tournament. Against an international field, these boys (all of whom are from disadvantaged backgrounds) came in 2nd last year, and this year they WON their age group. Here is the story written about them by a former longtime OPD beat officer for that area:

<http://www.osidenews.com/2015/05/19/crown-heights-soccer-team-wins-championship/>

Mike was proud to report that the team will be riding on our float for the Independence Day Parade. YEAH !

Also, Jose Domingo (the host family father for the student we sponsored on Long Term Youth Exchange, Madison Dearie) will be in Oceanside for the month of July. He will be staying with Madison's parents in south O and will be on a tutor-intense English language program. He has to chair high-level meetings with multiple participants in English in his line of work, so he's looking to dramatically improve his current language capability. Jose is looking forward to attending as many Rotary meetings as possible during his stay.

GORDY WITZ was $5.00 happy to be going with his son for a whirlwind weekend to London.

Chuck Busshokl, one of our guests, was proud to be with our club because we are so close to Camp Pendleton and MCRD. His son is a Marine and was stationed at many of the bases including two tours overseas.

TOM BRAULT had a $5.00 apology for forgetting to buy Moonlight tickets for LES NEWQUIST, but at that very moment, TOM was on his cell phone buying seats right next to our group for LES and CRICKET online. So all is well and the gathering will be that much more fun.

DAVE HALL was $1.00 happy to be getting his house tented. He had left TERRI at the house today so she could supervise.

PAM MYERS was $5.00 happy because she is finishing up with her yard, which she had entirely taken out and replaced with pavers and artificial turf. This project was quite appropriate to mention, given what our guest speaker would be talking about today. With all this work underway, she has been surrounded by men for about a month now.

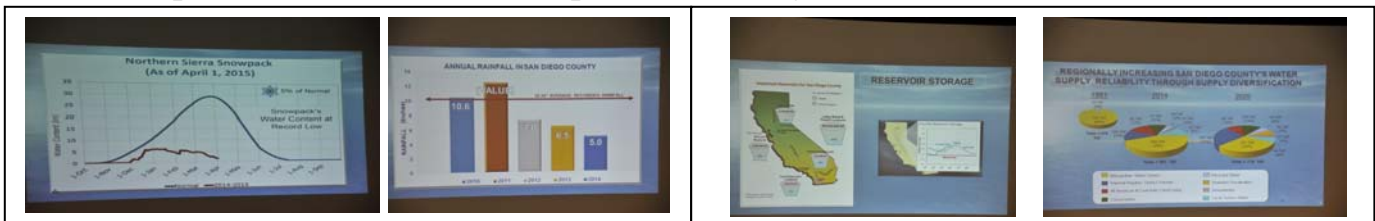

OUR PROGRAM --SAVING WATER

President DAVE started out by showing us a short film which lets us know what Rotary is doing around the world to help with providing clean water for cooking, drinking and bathing.

JIM SCHRODER then introduced our speaker, Jason Dafforn. Jason has been working with water and waste management for over 20 years. He has been in the City of Oceanside for the past 8 years, and is currently serving as Interim Water Utilities Director. Before coming to Oceanside, he worked as a contractor installing water and wastewater infrastructure. He graduated from Purdue and is a licensed water contractor in the state of California.

Mr. Dafforn reminded us of the lack of snow pack this last winter, which was just 5% of normal levels. We should have had between 3 to 5 feet on the ground for the official measurement, but instead we saw dry, parched grass. Rain was down from 10.34 inches to 5 inches. Our reservoirs are down 50%. Previous droughts had already forced us to start investing in ways to save water and looking to find new water sources. This need will only be more important with the current unprecedented dryness.

To meet the state-mandated reduction targets, we have adjusted our allowable lawn watering from 3 days a week to 2 days a week and already reduced our water consumption by 20%. Regulations will be better enforced by adding more people to the staff.

Homeowners will be allowed to water on Tuesdays and Saturdays, and Condos and businesses and public agencies can water on Mondays and Thursdays.

Mr. Dafforn was strongly reminding us of the need for vigilant Water Conservation.

Agriculture will be exempt from further restrictions at this time, but will continue to reduce their consumption, as they will also be working with the Water District.

QUESTIONS?

JIM SCHRODER--Since we have already been cutting back and changing our landscapes, isn't it unfair for our area to be forced to cut back the additional 20% ?

Dafforn--We will take the baseline figure from June 2013 to June 2015 to calculate the 20% cut.

JAY CRAWFORD--In case of fires, how will the planes get their water?

Dafforn—Ideally the planes would fill up from the ocean, but the logistical reality is that the planes will usually go to the nearest body of water because that will be the quickest source and time is of the essence in firefighting.

JOHN McMAHAN--We have known that we have been in a drought situation for several years now and that it will probably get worse. Why haven't we been more active in looking for better water resources a lot sooner?

Dafforn--The Coastal Commission has been fighting to secure resources, but time and money have been the hurdles in the way

JIM SCHRODER--We need desalination plants, but still should maintain environmental standards. Dafforn--We need a balance of both.

LES NEWQUIST--Has the city been doing enough to work toward reducing water usage given the continuing development of more businesses and homes?

Speaker--We are pleased that new construction is being required to use low flow fixtures. The contractors are very active in using alternative water supplies.

JIM SCHRODER--Large companies are capturing run-off water for new construction.

MIKE WESELOH--Are the rebate programs for the removal of yards in metro water districts in effect? Speaker--We are trying to use these as incentives.

President HALL then told Jason, “Thank you for coming to speak to our Rotary Club. We learned a lot and to thank you, we will donate to Brother Benno's in your name.” Mr. Dafforn was given one of our "Light Up Rotary" pins that shows that he lit up our lives by sharing this important and timely information with us.

The ticket for the opportunity drawing was held by JIM SCHRODER, who drew a 6, not an Ace, and donated the $10 consolation prize back to the club.
The bell was rung to officially adjourn our meeting.
