ROTARY CLUB OF CESSNOCK DISTRICT 9670 SPOKE

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Margaret Mead once observed "Never doubt that a small group of thoughtful, committed citizens can change the world; indeed, it's the only thing that ever has". Our guest speaker last week Bryce Gibson a local Real Estate owner and Councillor, could have been thinking of this quotation when he spoke passionately about his passion - sustainability of the environment. His hand out "Your guide to creating a healthy and energy efficient home" and the practical changes he has made in his business and personal life to save energy was a thought provoking and practical discussion. Thank you Bryce for your presentation. It was well received and I believe had many of us rethinking our energy futures.

Next week is a Board Meeting and we will welcome again our AG Christine Walmsley who will attend the Board meeting and enjoy fellowship with us at the club meeting. We look forward to having Chris with us and to hear some further words of wisdom from this experienced and committed Rotarian. Please join with us at the next meeting. President David

President David with Bryce Gibson after a very thought provoking speech which did make us all very much more aware how to start saving on our energy output and our savings if we do something about it. Vicki did the Rotary International toast to the Rotary Club of Mingora in the Swat Valley of Pakistan, plus highlighted the incredible story about Malaya Yousafzai who stood up for Women's Rights in Pakistan against the might of the Talaban, in particular for education of girls.

TRISH AND MATT IN JUNEE

Matt and I had a great time at the Junee Rhythm 'n Rail Festival this weekend. We helped hold 612 metres of licorice to set a new Guinness Book of Records recording. Matt had a try at old fashioned wood carving under the instruction of Brian Beasley. He still has his licorice. I ate mine!!

Finally have finished packing the 20' container of school goods for PNG. These boys were very helpful & kept my spirits up as I took load after load out to the container and packed it in. It was supposed to sail on Monday just gone (so hope it has). It weighed just over 10 tonnes. I'll follow it over in June to help the teachers with how to use the materials, and to help set up 2 village libraries. Still need another teacher to come with me for the library work.

Trish has been busy and Matt enjoyed his trip to Junee. I bet its a big relief to have the container on its way, there might be a bit more room now in Trish's house. Trish sure has put her hand up for a huge task when she decided to take on the RAWCS project in PNG. The schools and recipients in PNG have a lot to thank Trish for and its not over yet.

Our exchange student Matt is now officially a member of the Cessnock Toastmasters Club. He is receiving his membership certificate from President Anna Van Netten. I went along to a few sessions to see how Matt goes and he is eager to improve upon his speaking skills and to cut out a lot of Uhms and Ahs from his speeches. His friend Sebastian Koncz is also going along to improve upon his speaking skills as well. The two of them should push each other onto better things. Its not only giving speeches but you learn to listen to others and when you get a bit more advanced you are required to evaluate other members in various roles, so listening and observing is as important as doing those tasks yourself. The first speeches that they will have to do is an Ice Breaker in which they introduce themselves to the audience and basically speak about themselves, that shouldn't be too hard for either one of them. Matt did a very good introduction to our club just after he arrived. With his new skills, we are in for a real great farewell performance in a few short months.
